ON THE ROAD AGAIN

Thought you'd been there, seen it, done it? Well think again, 'coz we're back with Take That. Not content with just one awesome sticker album, we've put together another up-to-the-minute, exclusive look at Britain's most gorgeous guys. This is your chance to follow the boys through their gruelling 36-date tour around the country. We've included everything, from rehearsals and backstage action to their latest costumes, the Take That tourmobile and the guys strutting their stuff on stage. See if you can spot yourself on the pages dedicated to you, the fans, and don't miss the boys' special, hand-written messages - it might have been meant for you...

BACK TRACK

Most loyal TT fans will have an intimate knowledge of their movements over the last few months, but for those who've been slacking, here's a quick recap. After the amazing UK tour at the end of 1993, the boys packed up their microphones and headed off to Europe and the Far East where they captivated audiences in such far flung places as Belgium, Germany, Holland, Switzerland, Sweden, Italy, Denmark and Korea. In fact they made such an impact in Germany that Britain's hottest property had to change hotels twice to avoid the huge crowd of fans who were camping on their doorstep!

Howard checks out the Korean gardens.

Hands up everyone who wants to grab a take-away!

"Is it time to go on yet?"

Two thumbs up, or down.

Top of the Pops is treated to Mark's velvety voice.

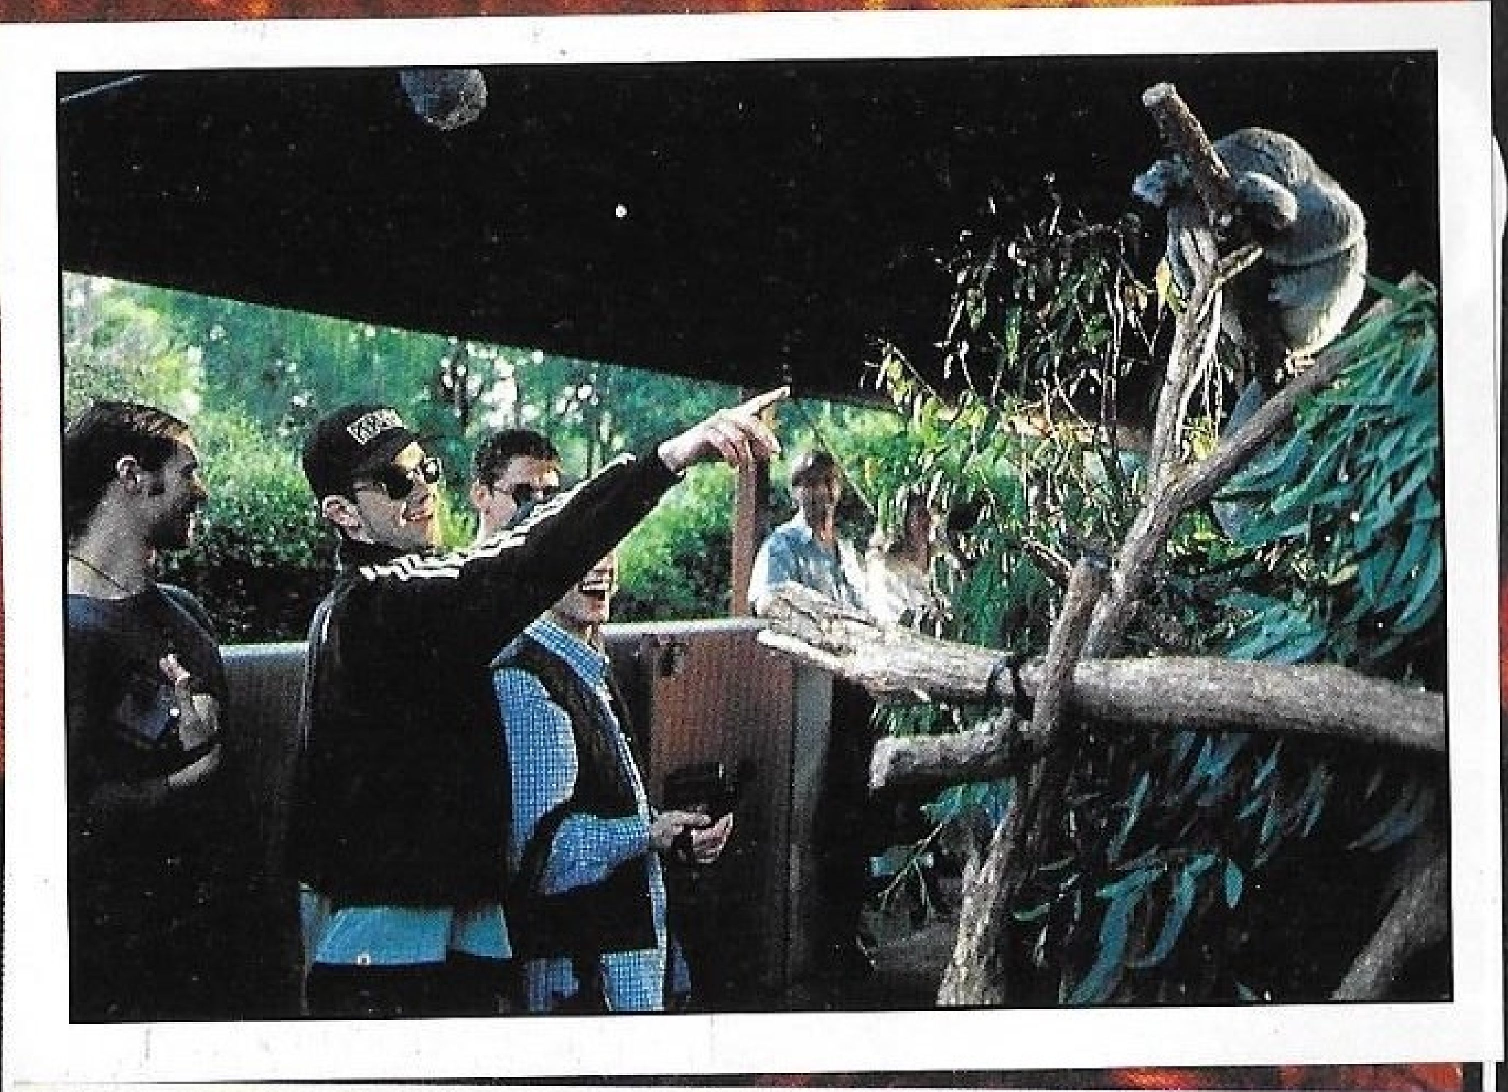

Just make yourself comfortable! Howard finds himself a unique spot in the "Everything Changes" video.

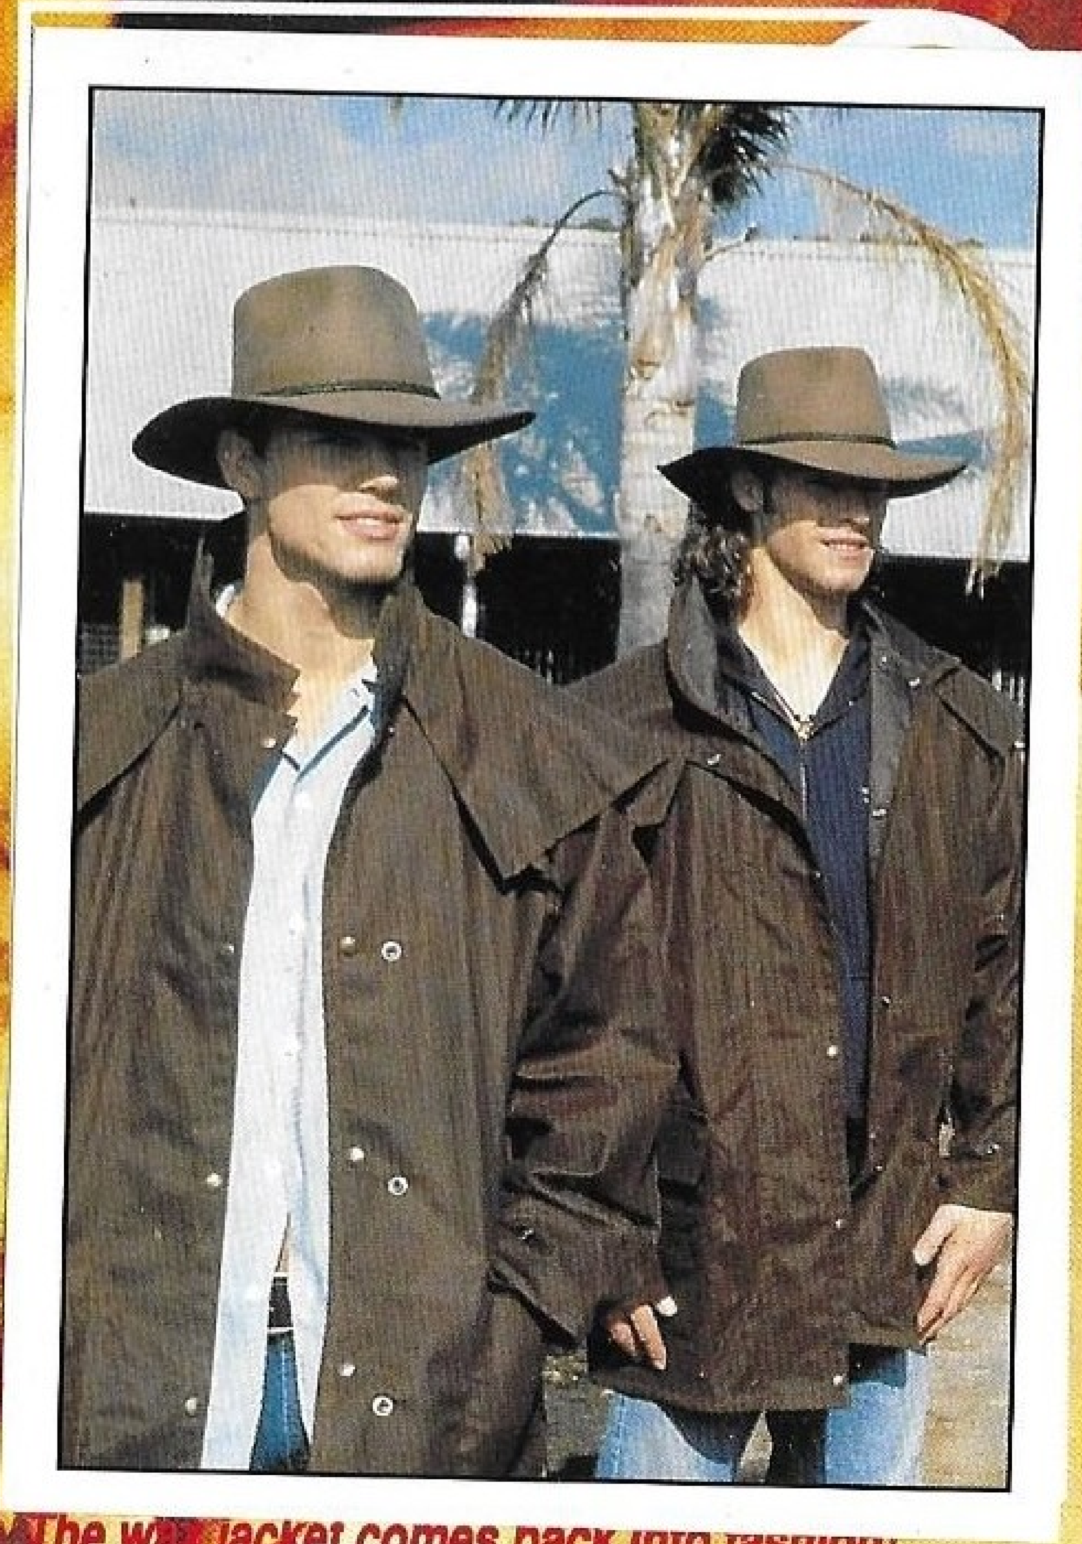

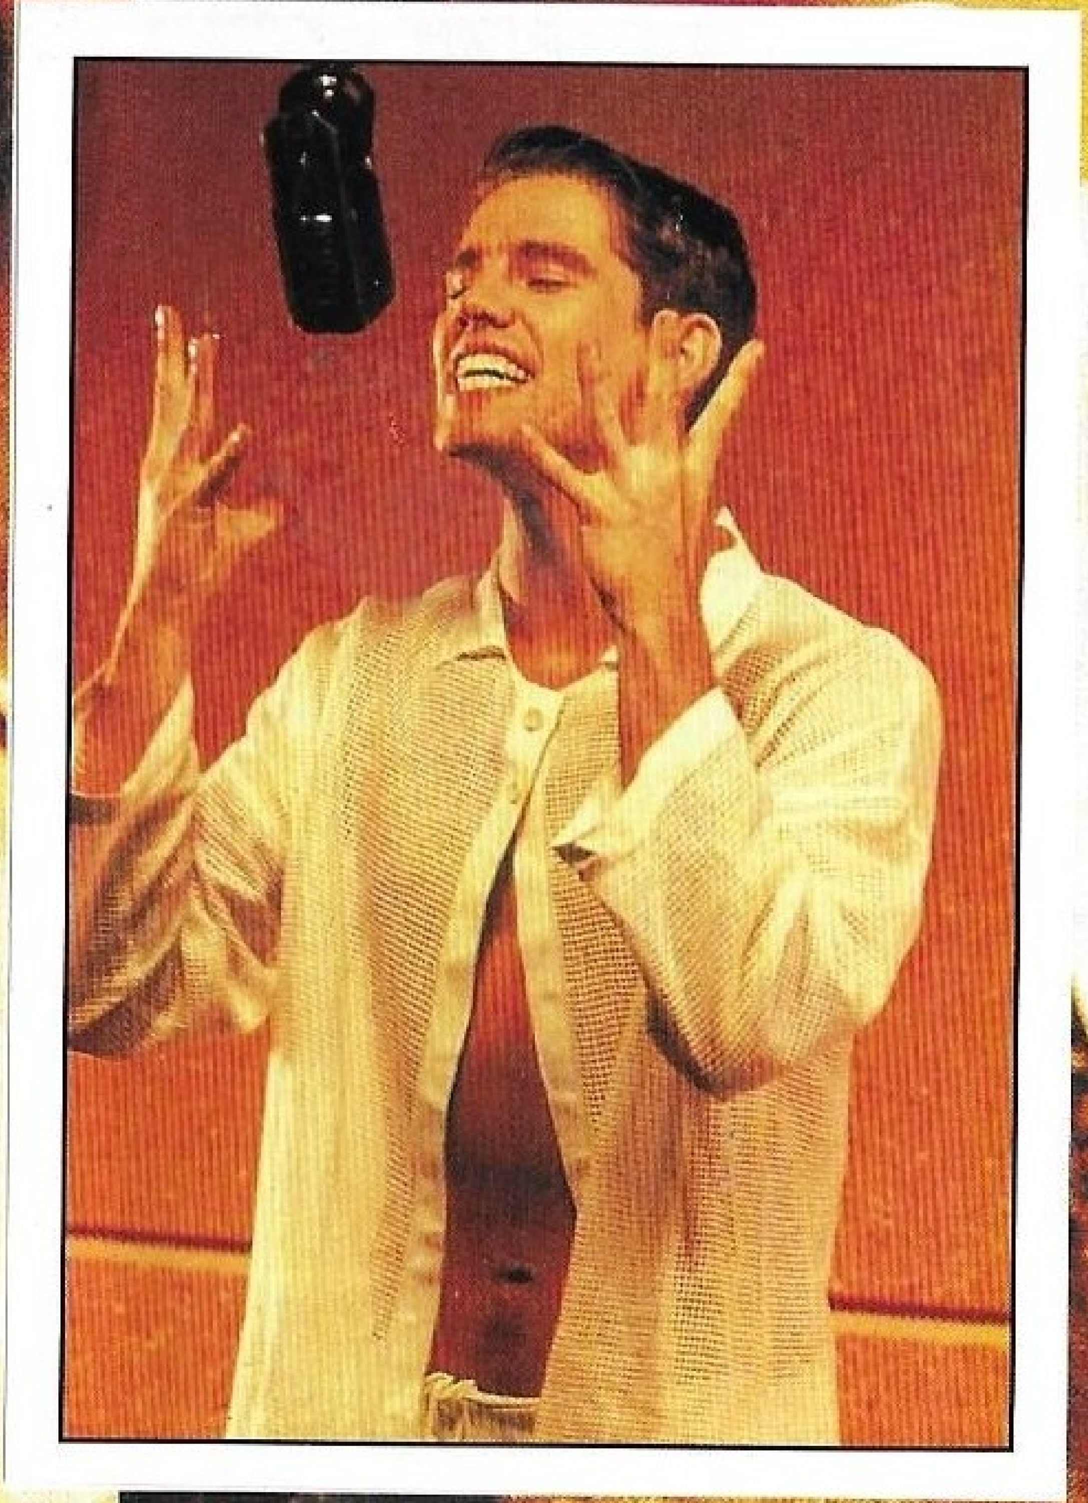

Robbie and Howard make a guest appearance on Korean Radio, shame they can't speak the lingo!

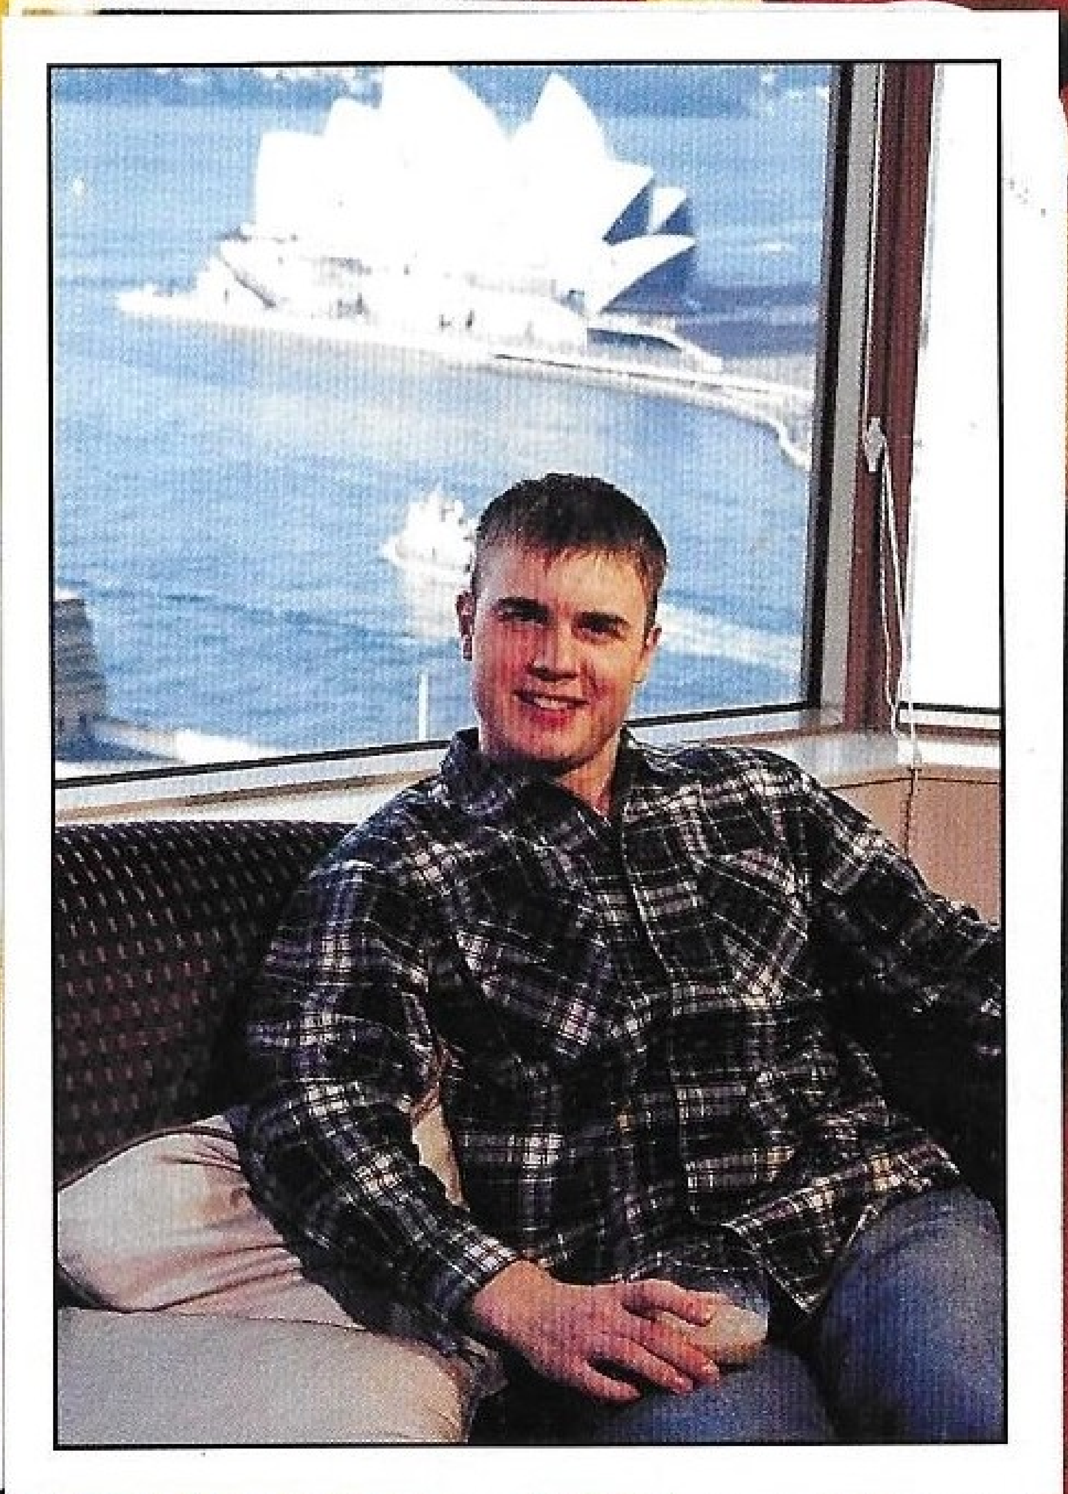

"I come half way around the world and what happens? I see someone I know!"

The wax jacket comes back into fashion!

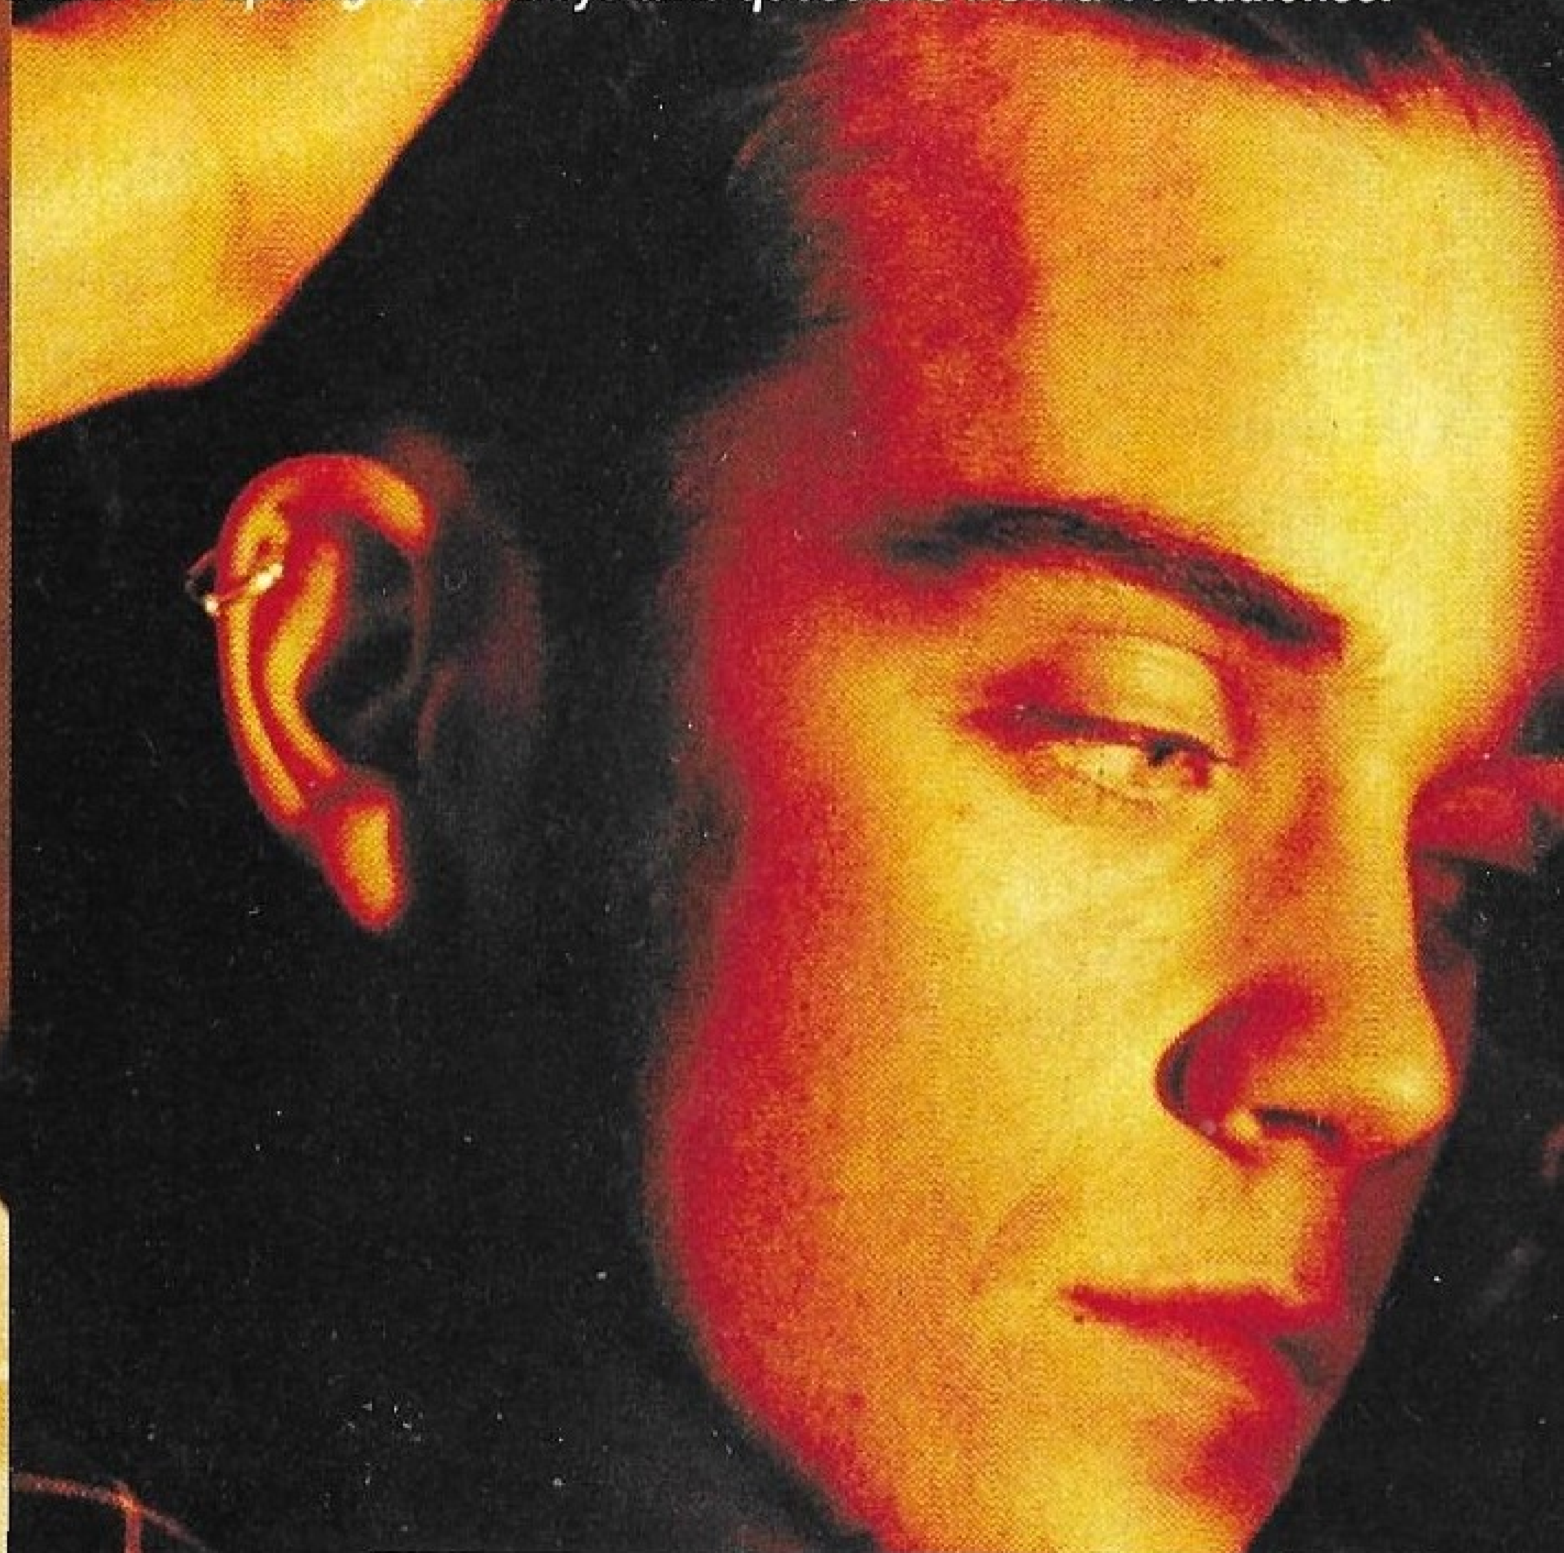

Jason adds backing vocals to TT's hit, "Love Ain't Here Anymore."

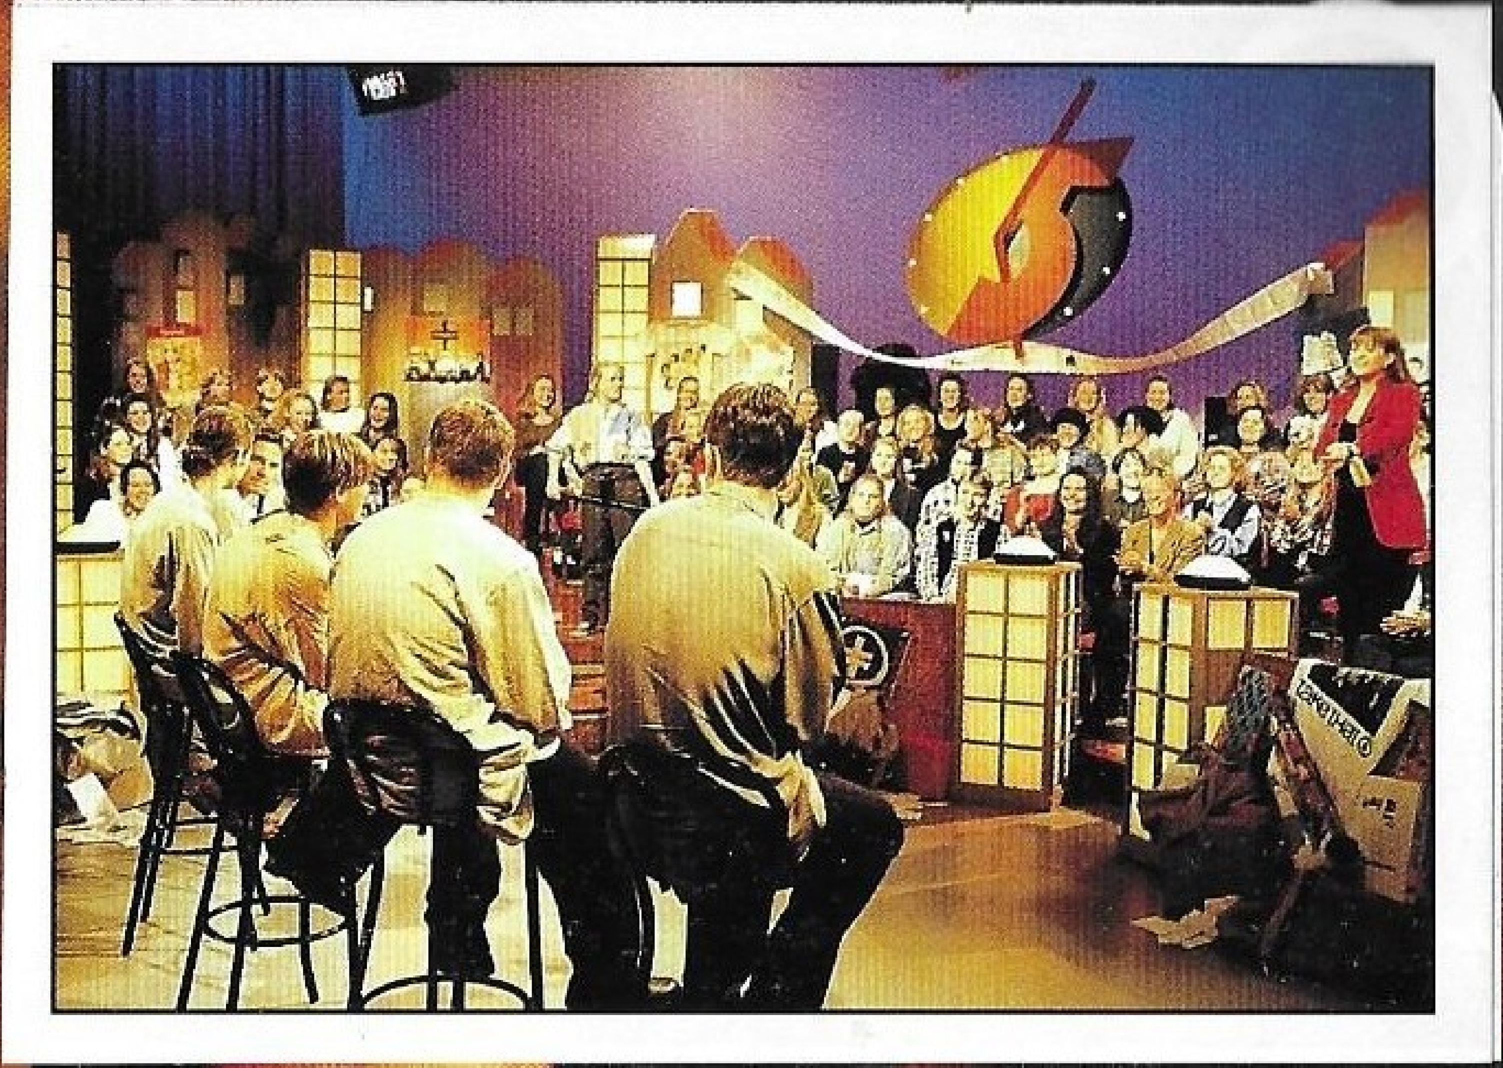

"What looks better, me or the Sydney Opera House?" No contest.

JET-SETTING

Under the spotlight, the boys take questions from a TV audience.

"Bath time, anyone want to scrub my back?"

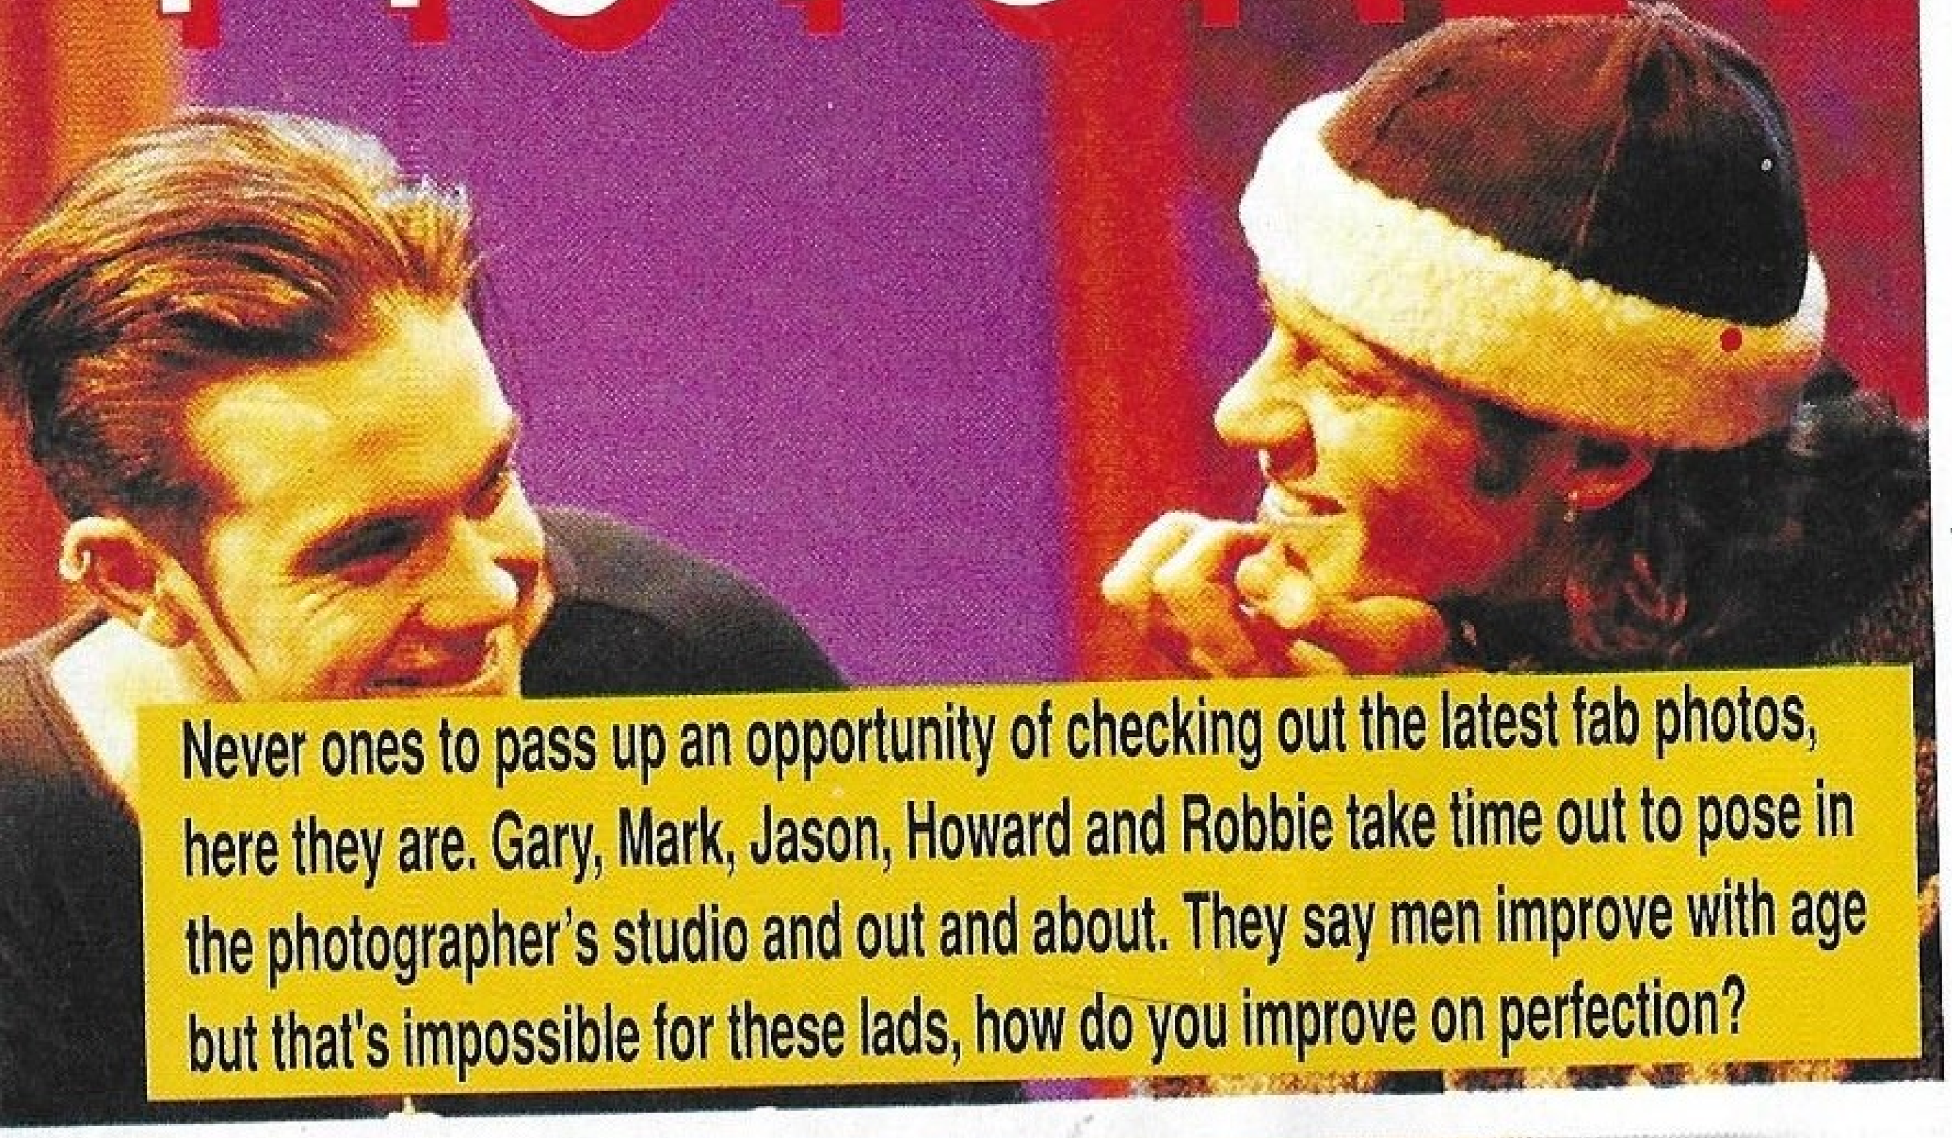

"Can we do some shopping now?"

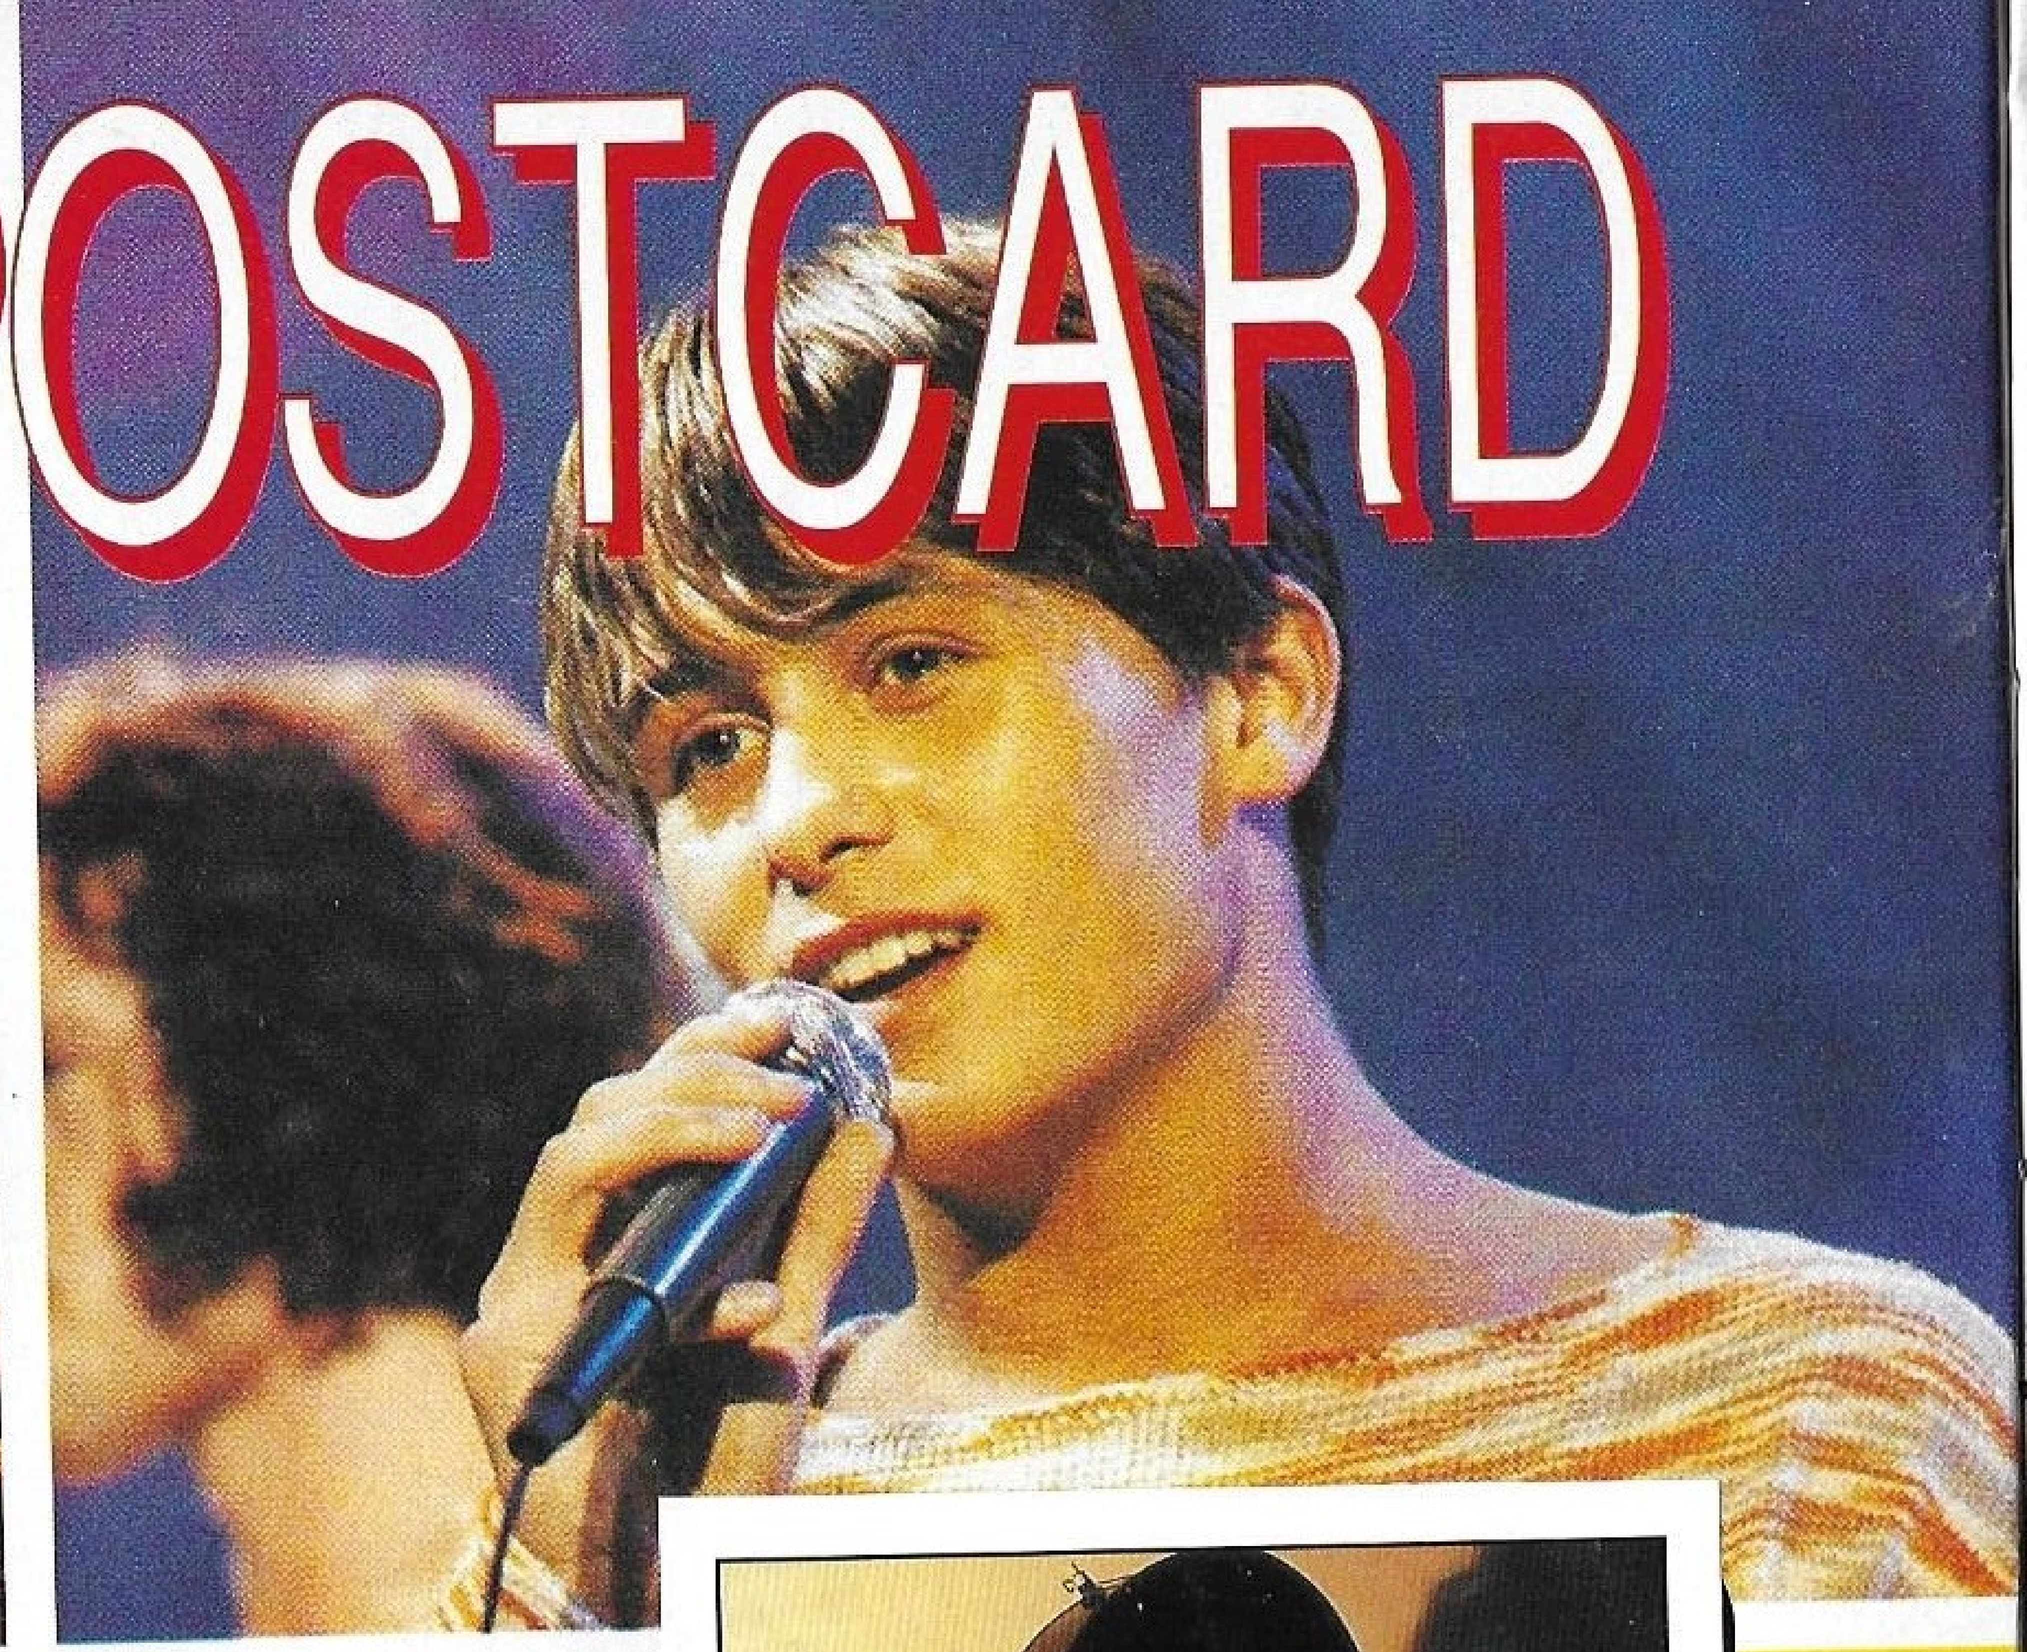

Back in front of the cameras again, TT are a big hit in Oz.

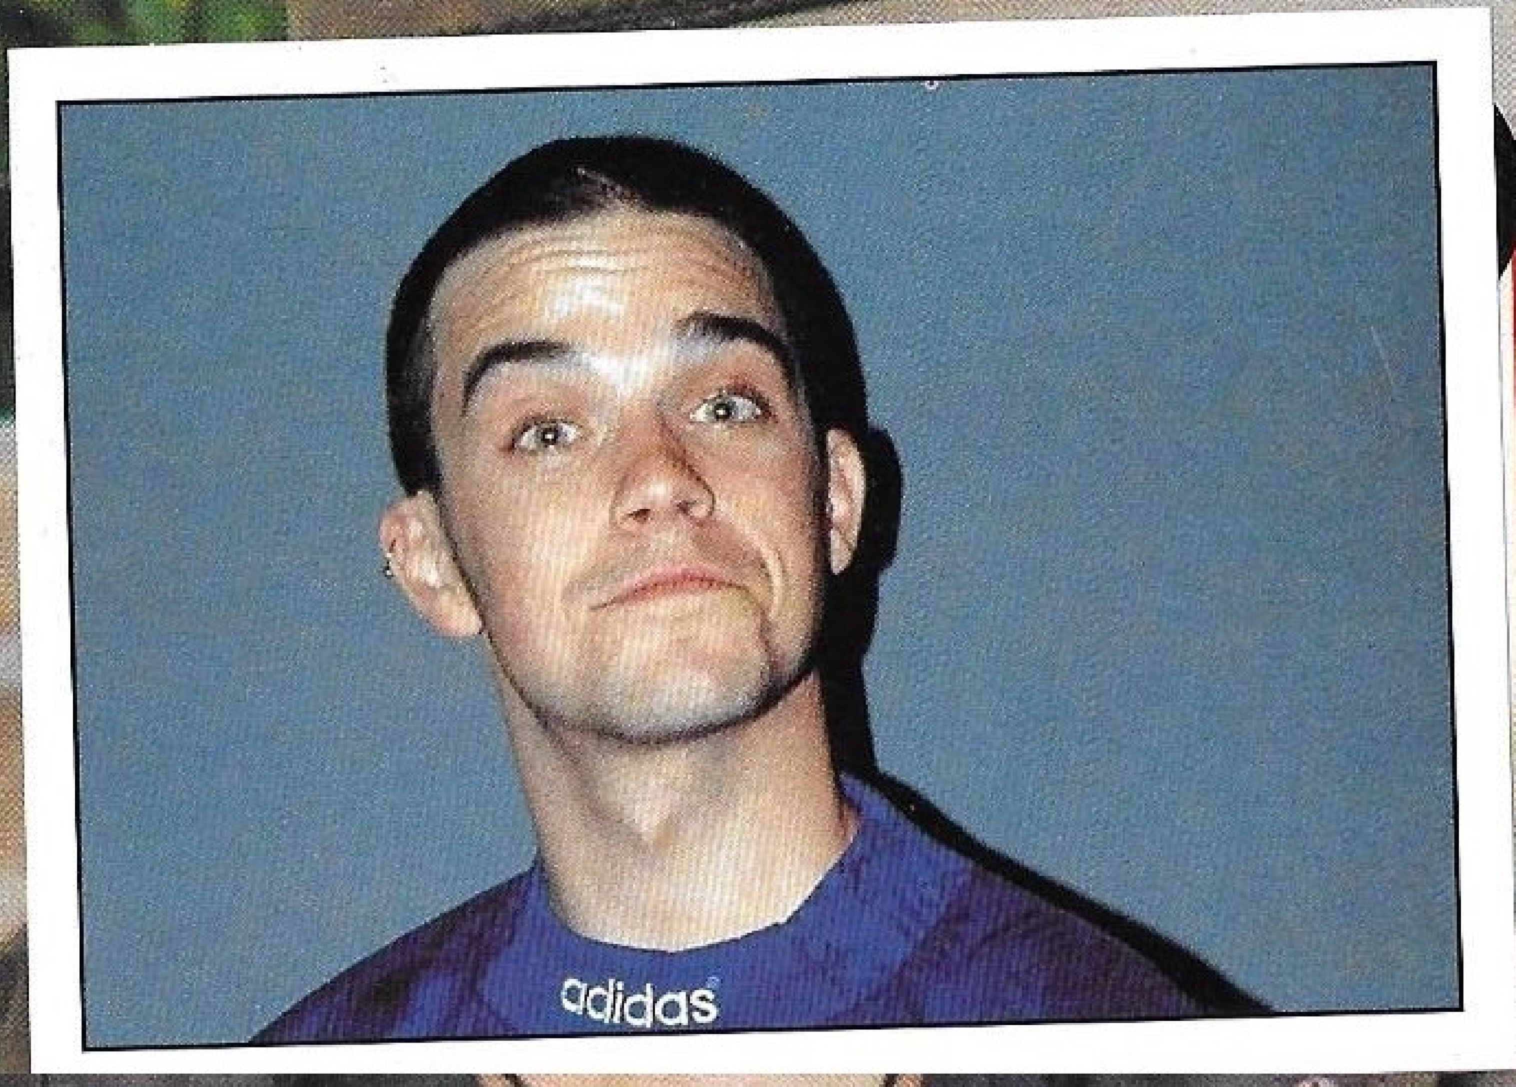

No rest for the wicked, as soon as the European tour was over, the land of the kangaroos and koalas called. So time for a quick change and then off to Australia. Take That's first trip down-under was an amazing success, unsure of the kind of reception they would receive, the boys were delighted when they staged a sell-out concert in Sydney to 6000 Aussie fans. Back on home ground the band dived straight into rehearsals for their tour as well as finding time for recording, making videos, doing promotions, writing songs, choreographing dance steps... when do they get time to sleep?

PICTURE POSTCARD

Never ones to pass up an opportunity of checking out the latest fab photos, here they are. Gary, Mark, Jason, Howard and Robbie take time out to pose in the photographer's studio and out and about. They say men improve with age but that's impossible for these lads, how do you improve on perfection?

TAKE THAT TOURMOBILE

Half a tub of this is enough for anyone.

Sweet dreams...Howard and Jason can't keep their eyes open any longer.

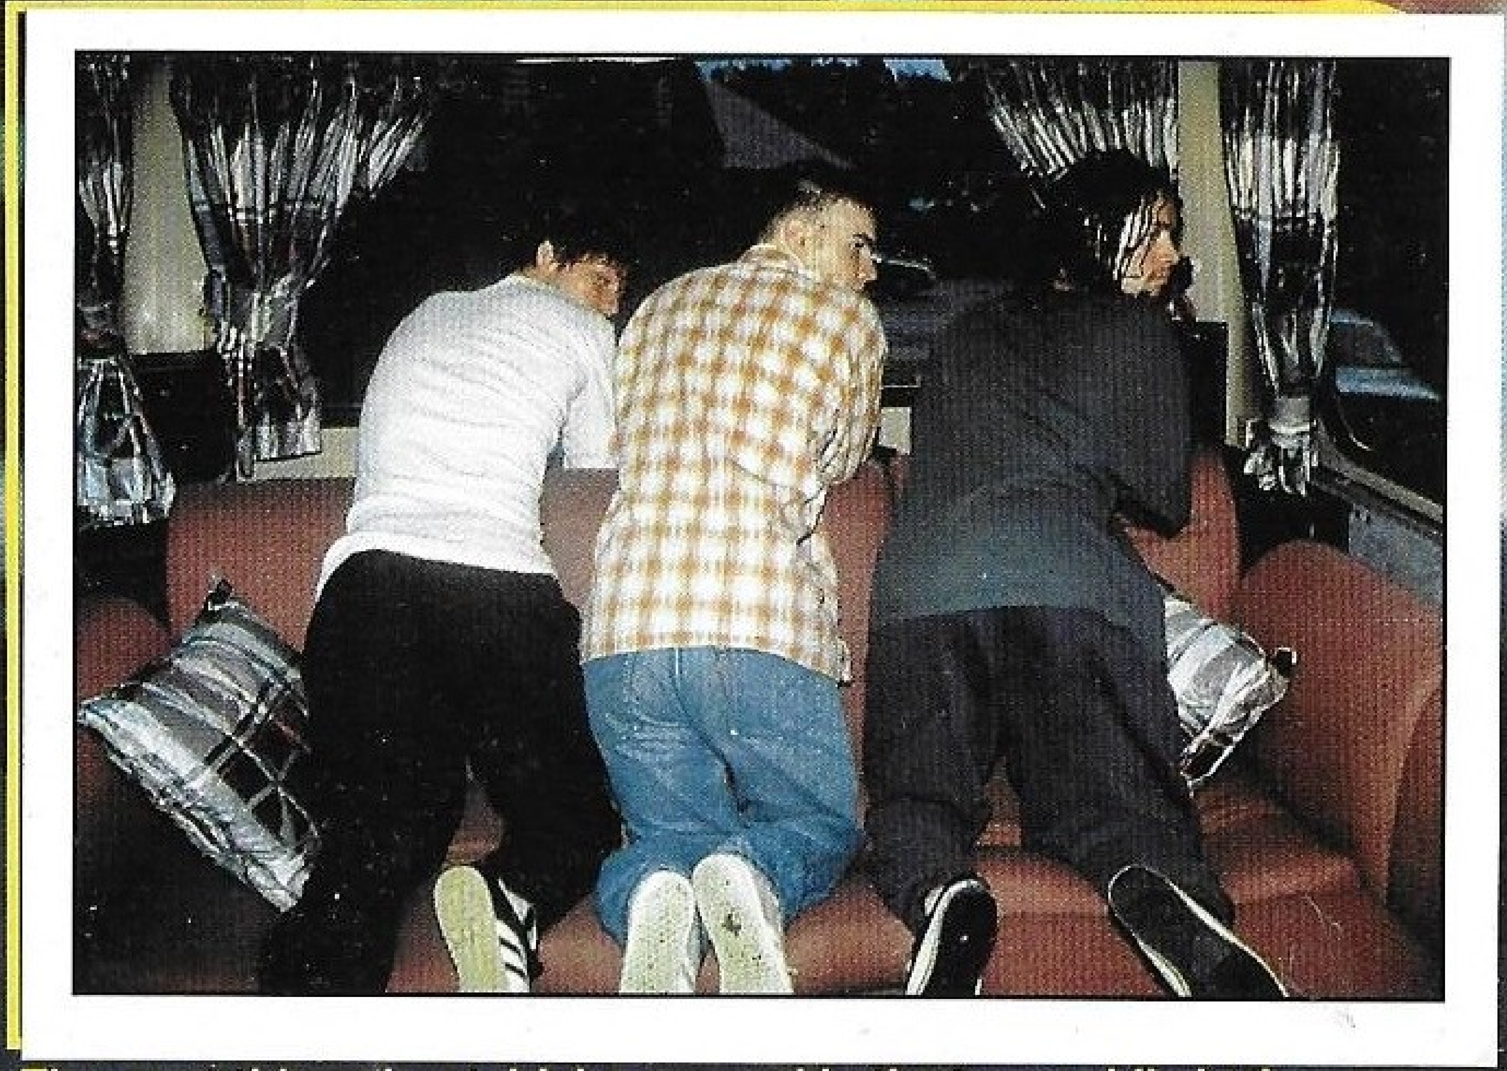

Put your feet up, sit back and relax.

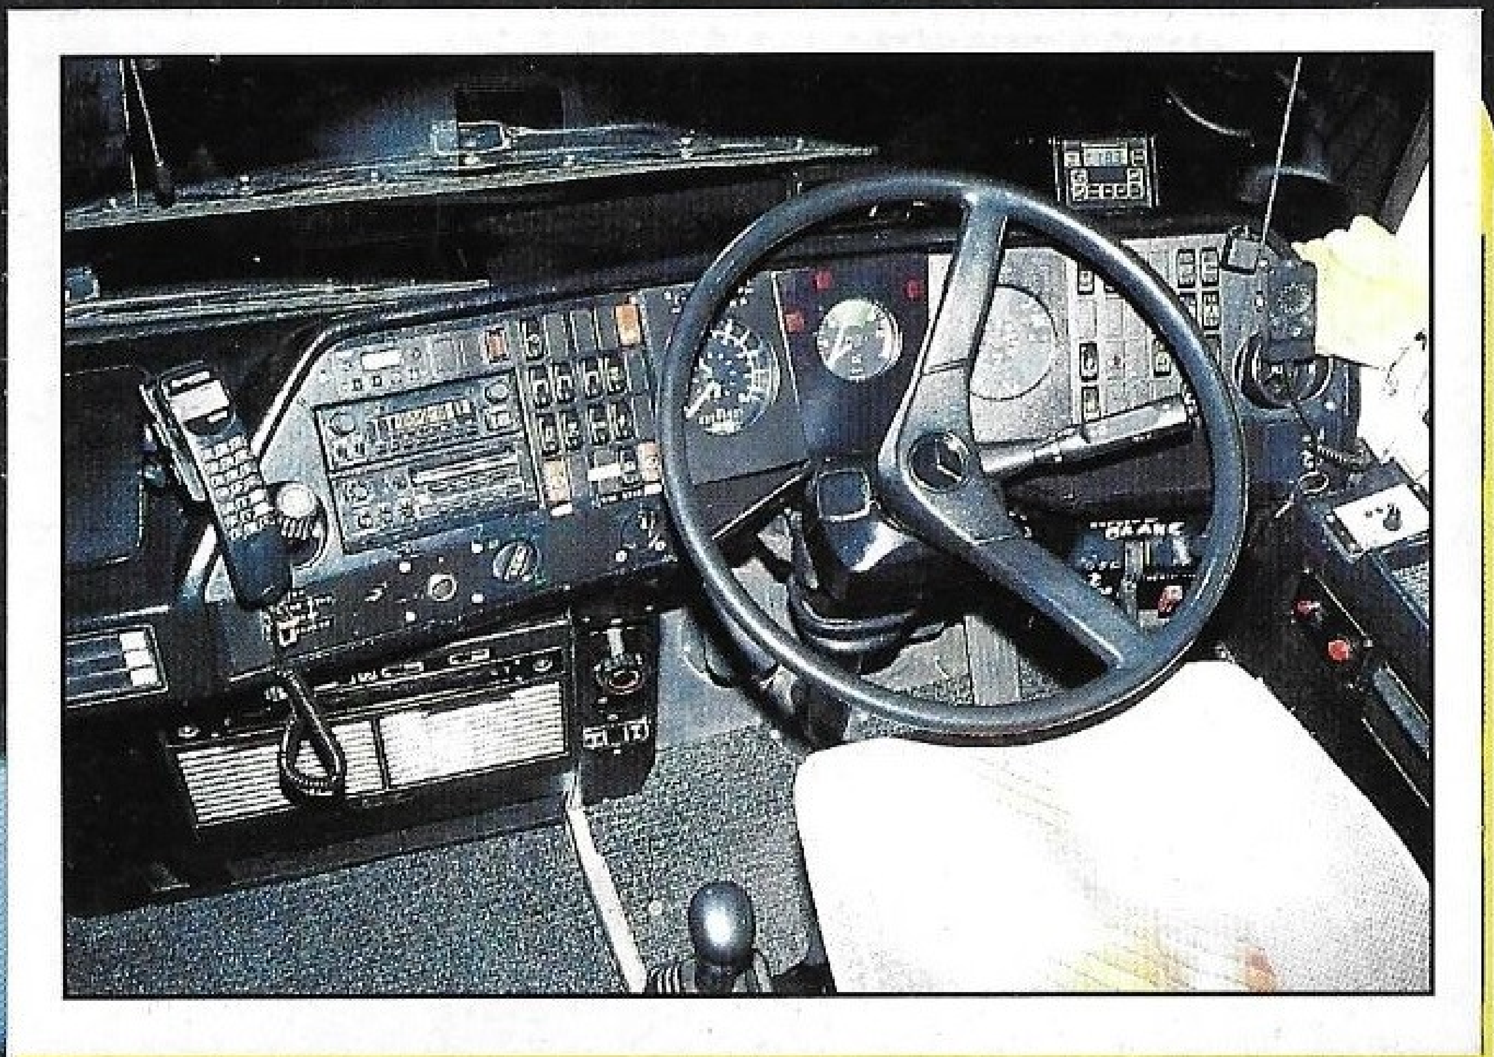

This place is getting seriously overcrowded.

The great thing about driving around in the tourmobile is the scenery keeps changing.

You need more than a licence to drive this thing.

Is it a house, is it a car, is it a coach? No, it's the Take That tourmobile, which is basically all three rolled into one! No ten year old camper vans for this lot, being on the road is tiring so the band travel in style on an amazing tour bus. The tourmobile is kitted out with a TV and video, so at the end of a hard day they can put their feet up and check out their favourite programmes. If, on the other hand, they fancy relaxing to some music, no problem, because the bus is installed with a high tech music centre. In fact short of a swimming pool and jacuzzi, the tourmobile has pretty much everything, a fridge, toaster, microwave and not forgetting Robbie's favourite, a megadrive games system. Next question, when can we move in?

GIG GUIDE

Take That's biggest tour kicked off on Thursday 25 August at Glasgow's Scottish Exhibition and Conference Centre. The first of a gruelling 36 dates covering 8 venues dotted throughout England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland - and all in seven weeks! The tour was originally supposed to have 31 concerts but because the tickets sold out within hours of going on sale, extra dates were added to give disappointed fans a second chance to see the band's most spectacular concerts to date.

KINGS HALL, BELFAST; one of the largest concert venues in Northern Ireland. Crowd capacity 7,000.

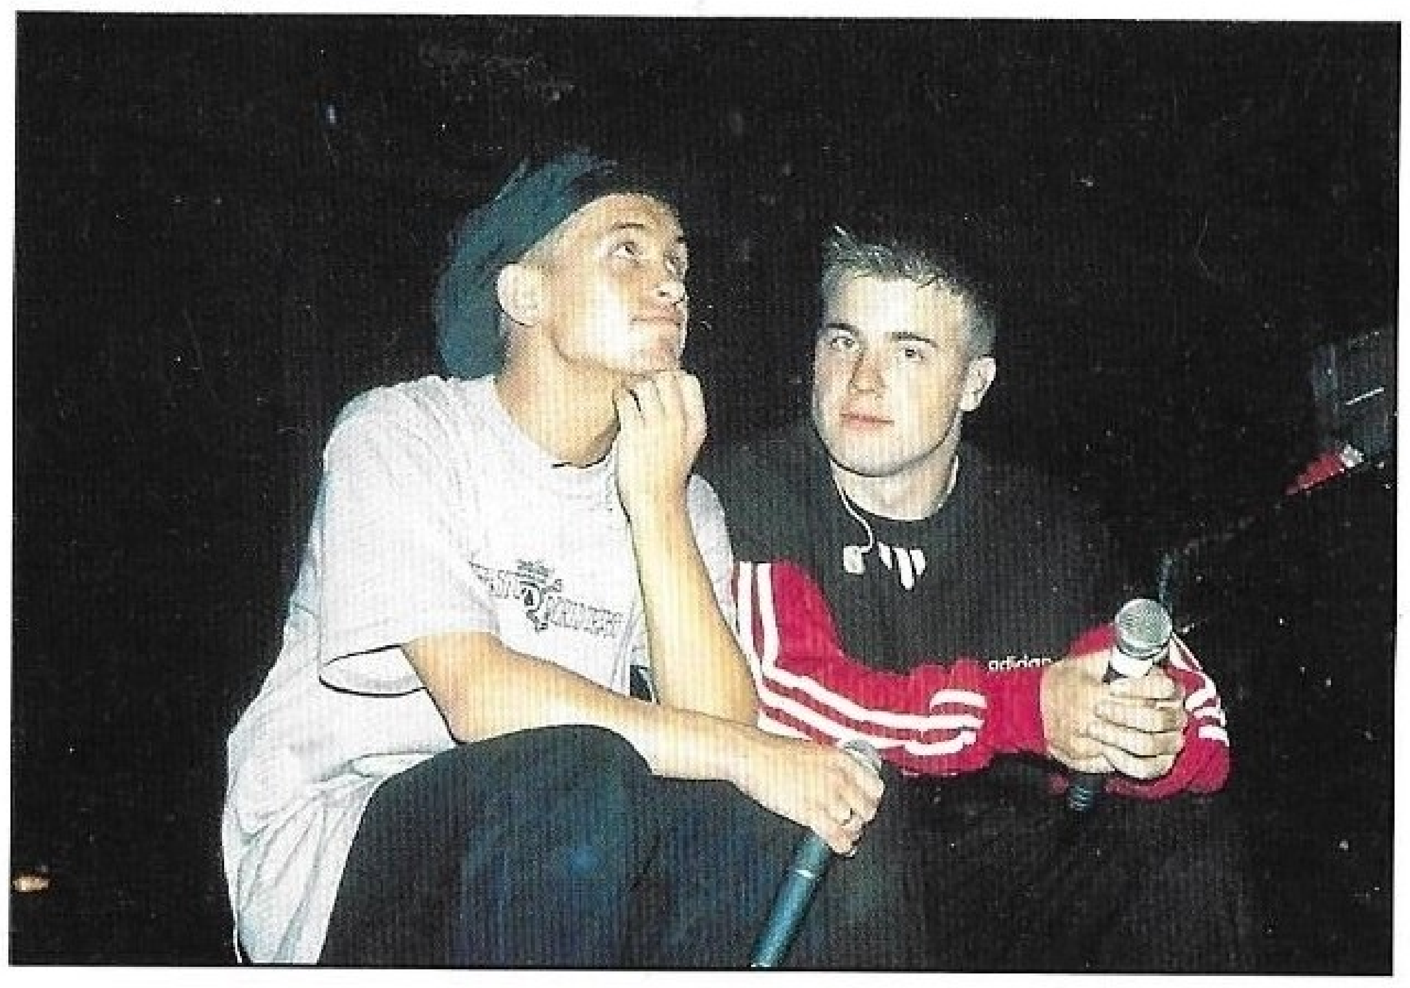

Howard takes a trip down memory lane.

SHEFFIELD ARENA; 11,500 people were dancing in the aisles every night.

"It's no good, I'm not listening to you."

The band travelled about 3,000 miles to make sure that none of their fans would miss out on the concerts.

Did you know that THE POINT in Dublin used to be an old railway storage depot? The venue held 7,500 fans each night during the Take That concerts.

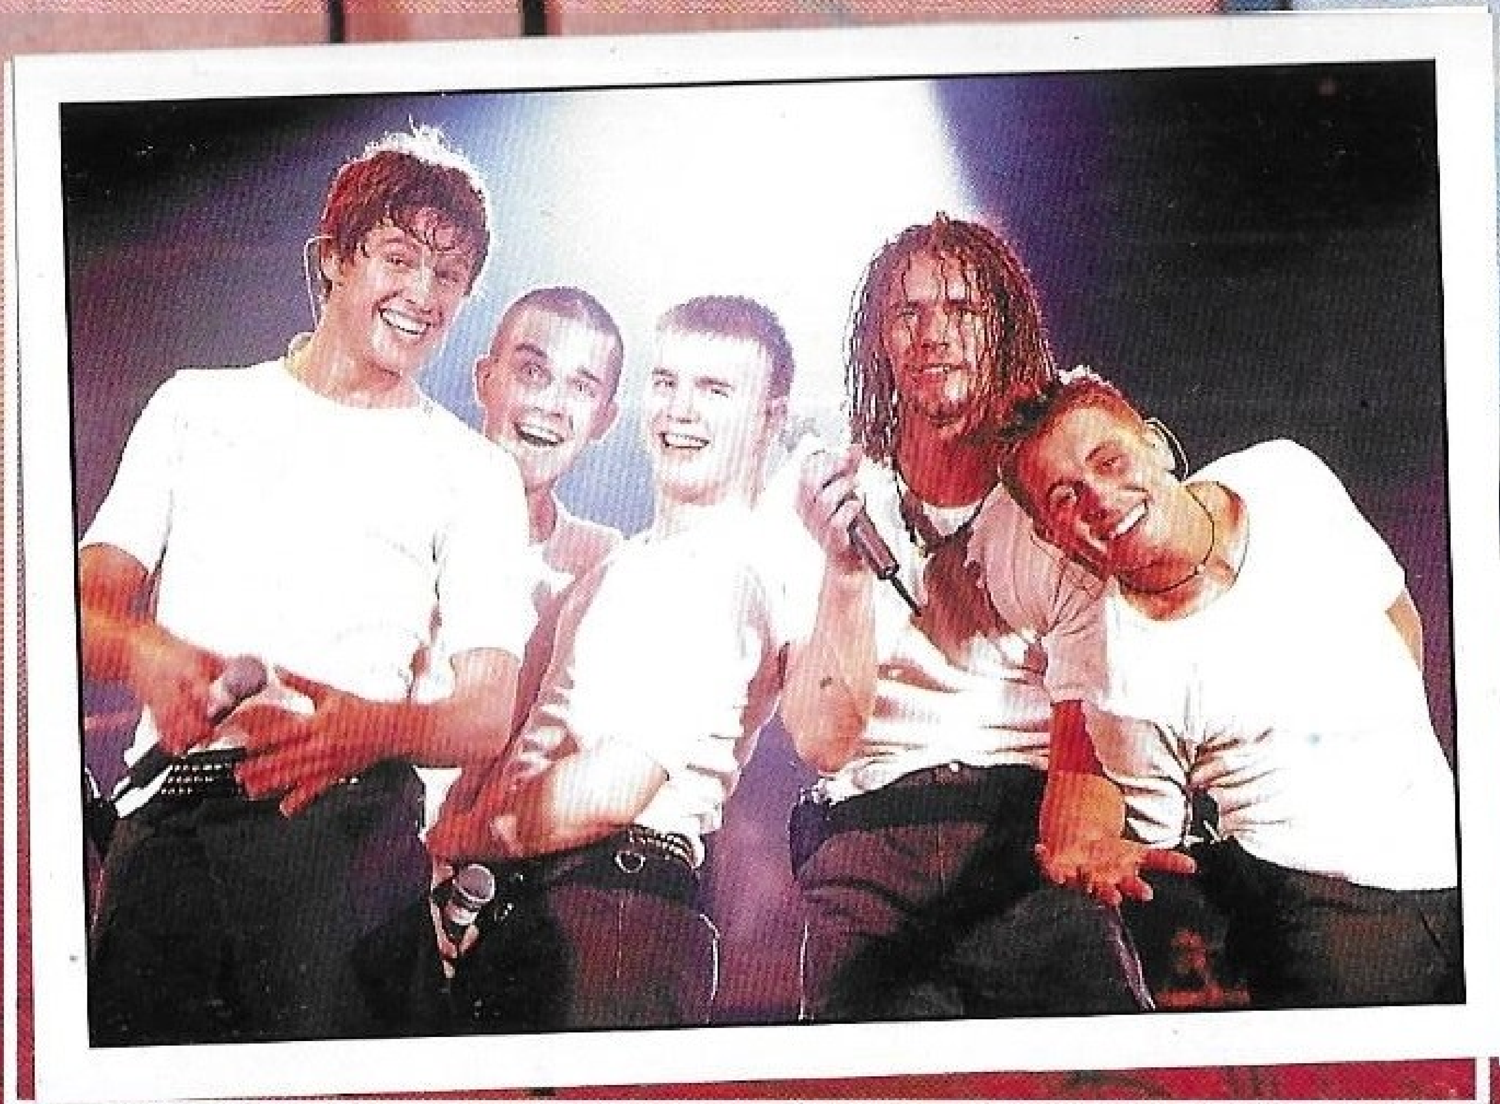

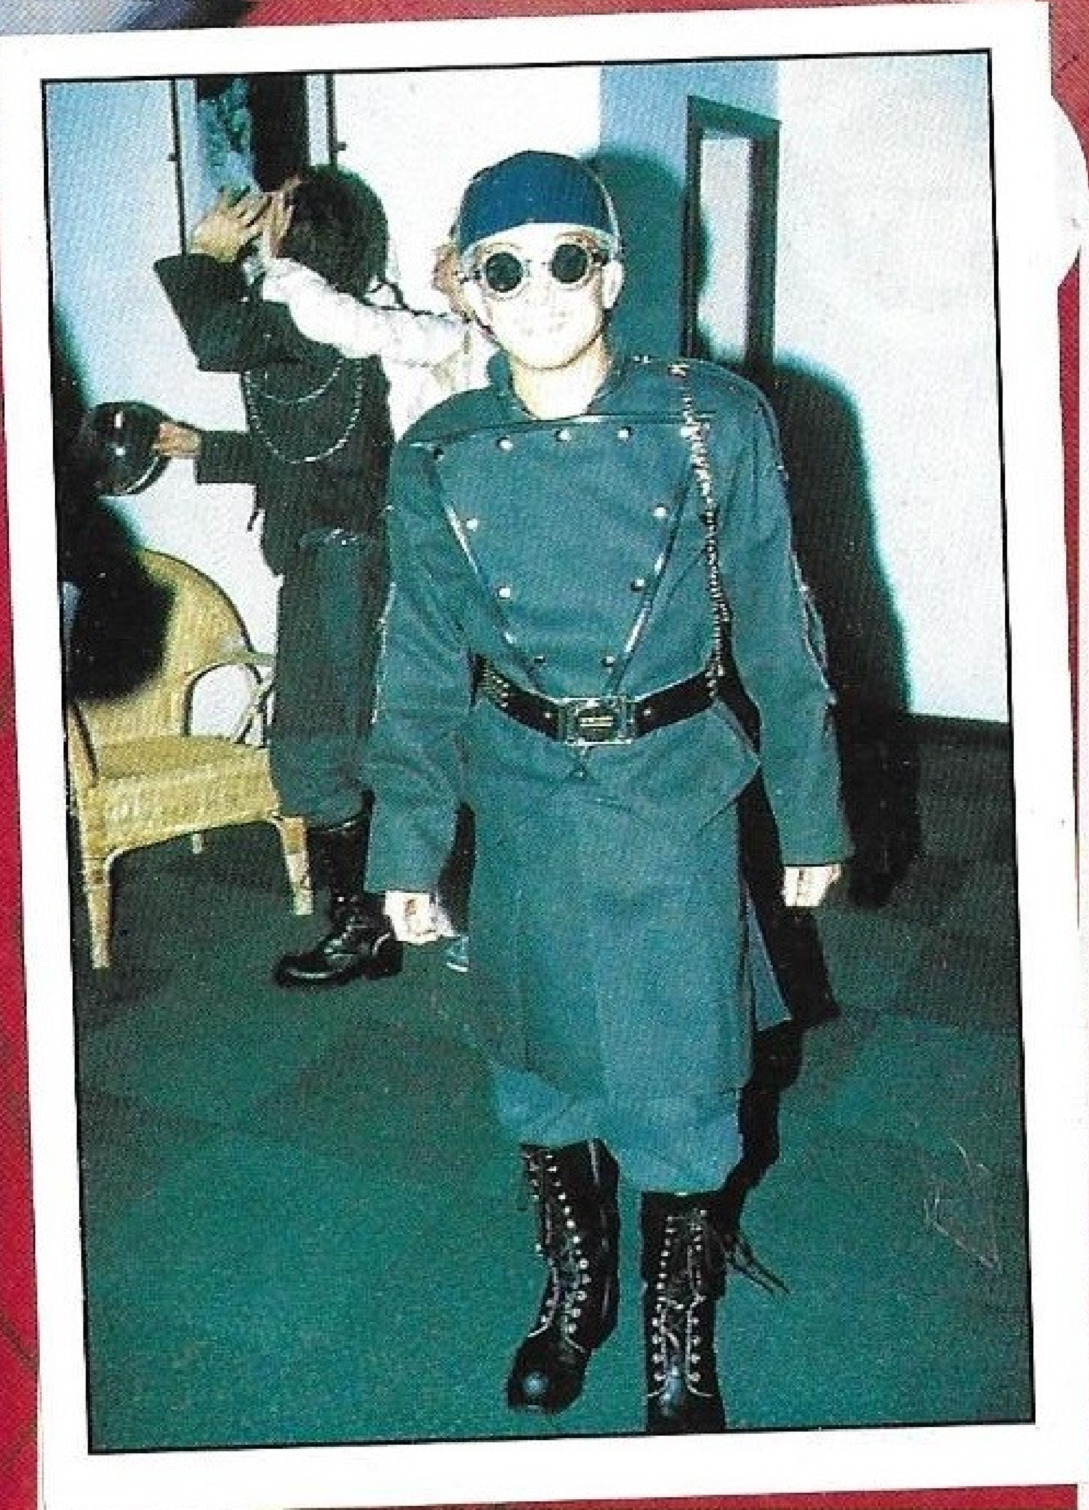

"You're under my spell."

One of the top southern venues, WEMBLEY ARENA, welcomed 12,500 fans on each of the 9 dates played in London.

"It's not all hard work you know!"

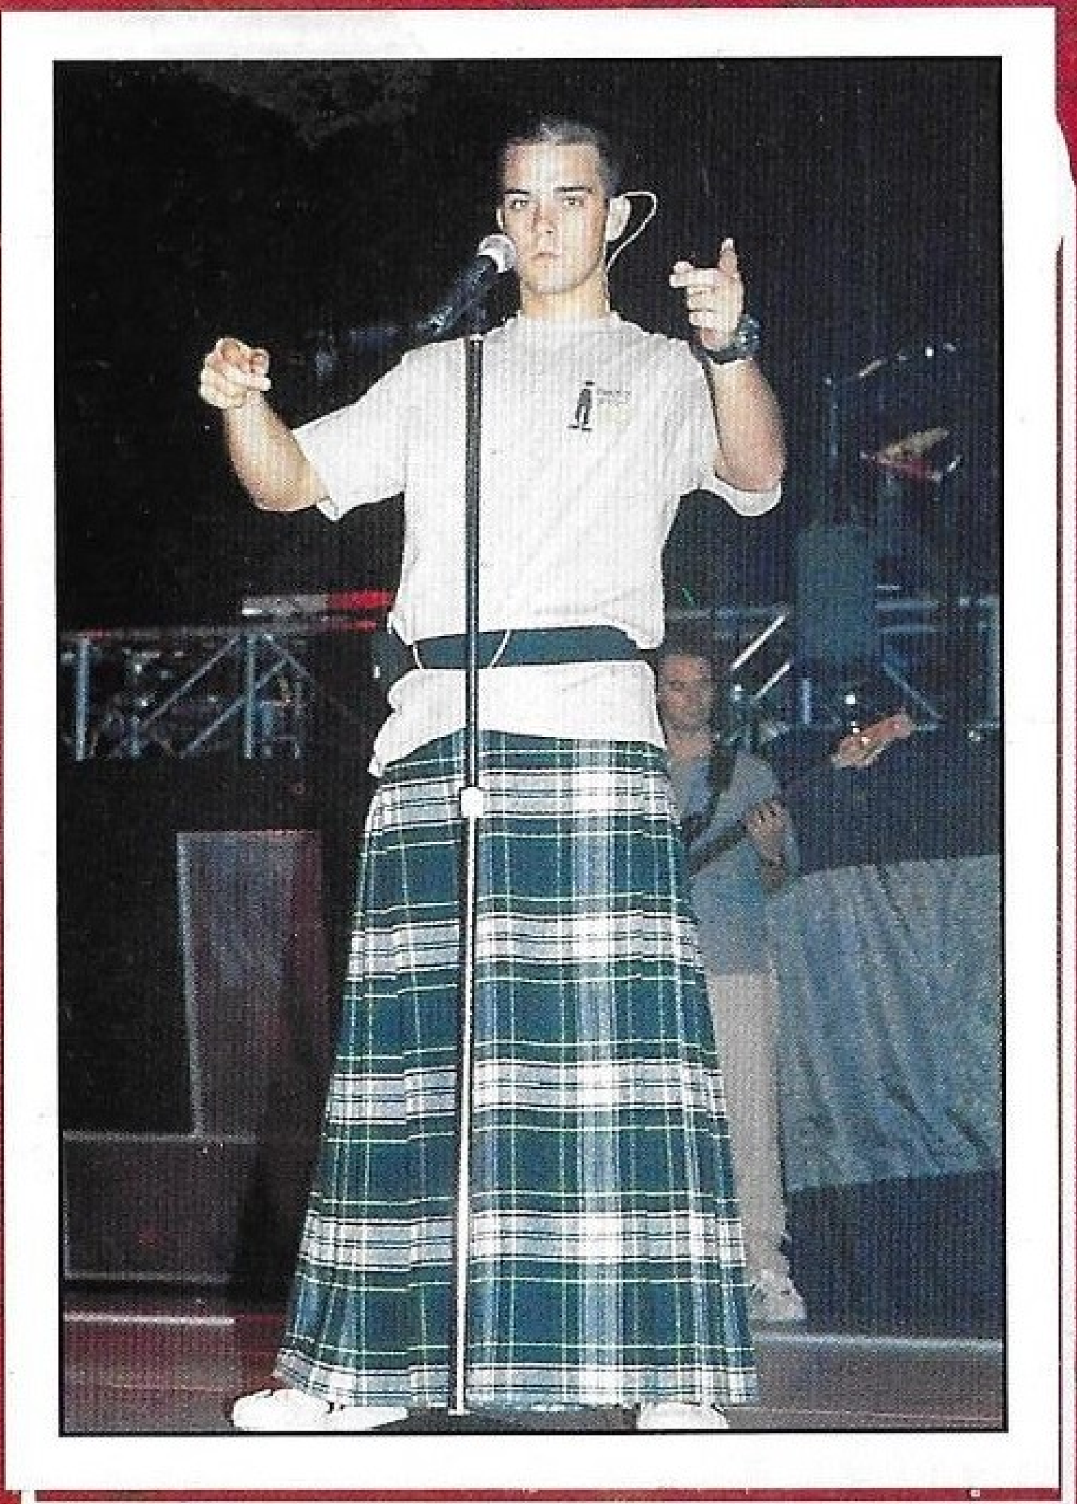

"Which way to the costume party?"

During the tour, Take That entertained more than 360,000 people, that's a lot of birthdays to remember!

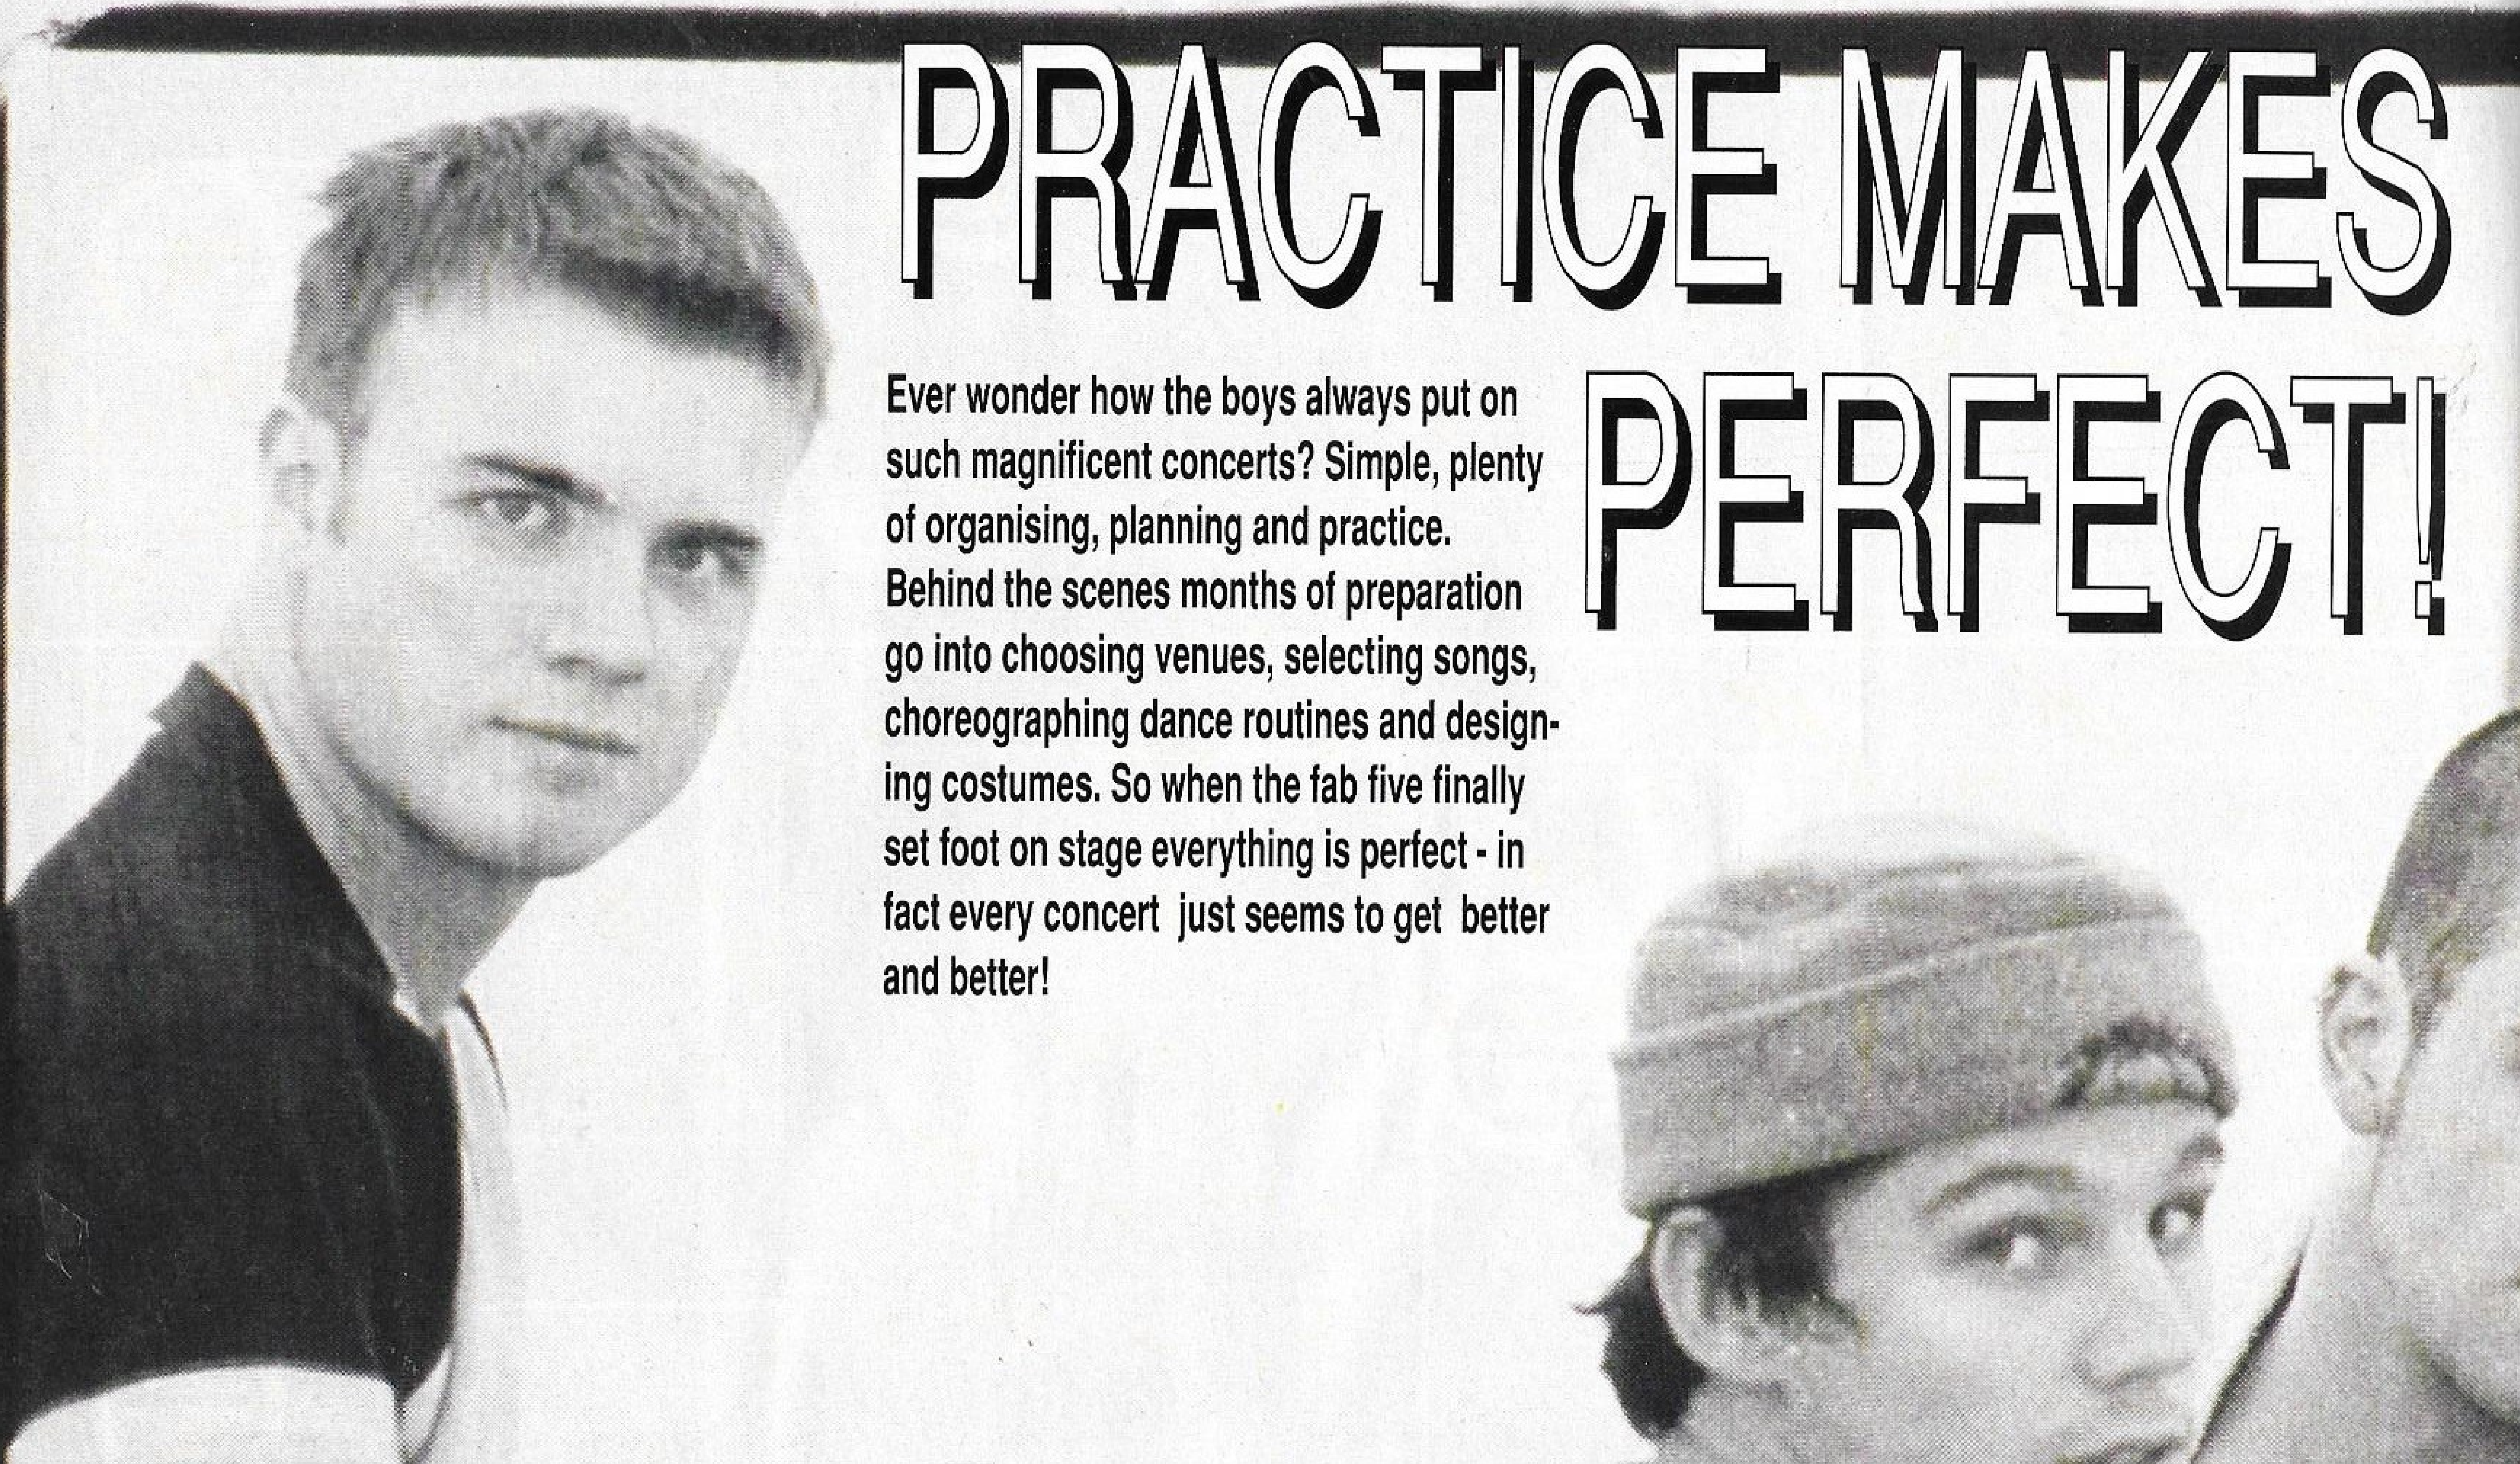

MANCHESTER G-MEX, capacity crowd over 8,700; CARDIFF INTERNATIONAL ARENA, capacity crowd 5,000; BIRMINGHAM NEC, capacity crowd of 11,500 each night.

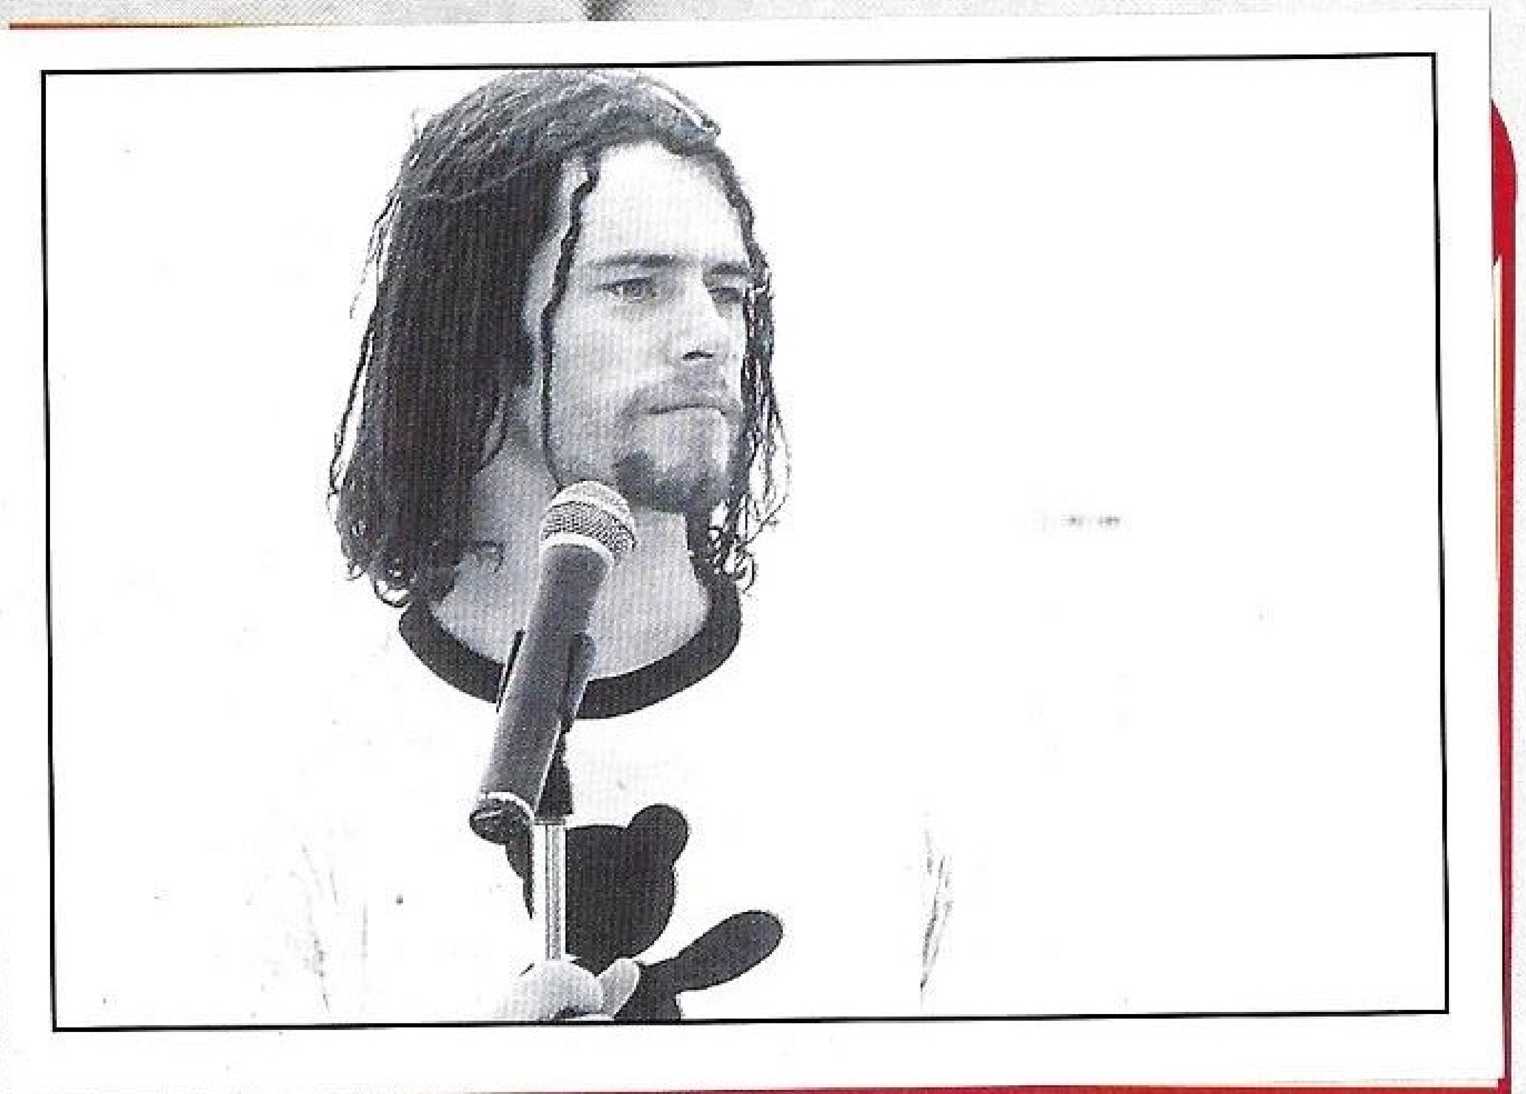

Robbie's had enough of short skirts!

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT!

Ever wonder how the boys always put on such magnificent concerts? Simple, plenty of organising, planning and practice. Behind the scenes months of preparation go into choosing venues, selecting songs, choreographing dance routines and designing costumes. So when the fab five finally set foot on stage everything is perfect - in fact every concert just seems to get better and better!

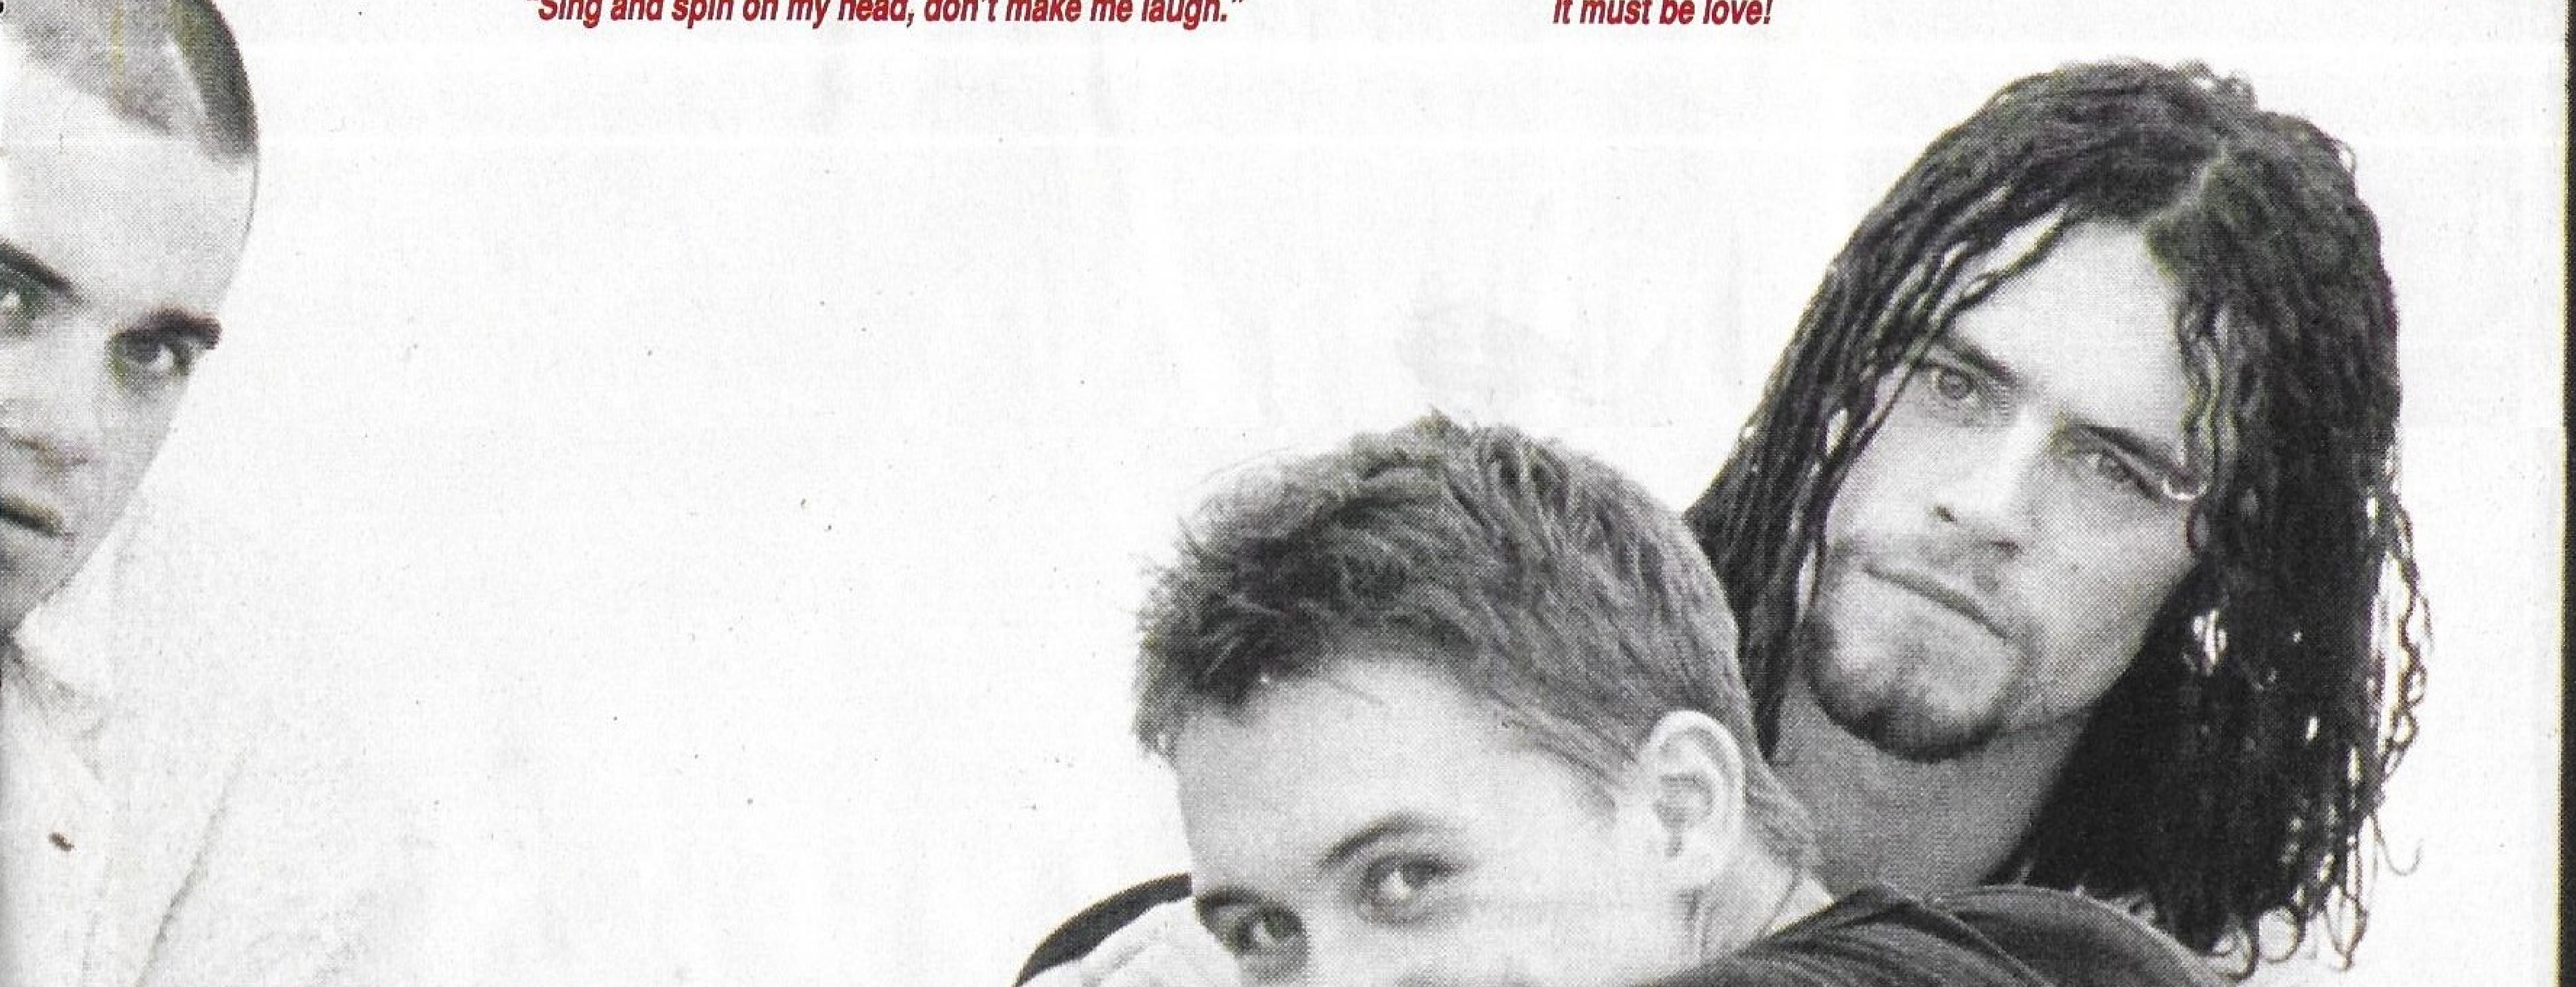

"Okay, so Gary fell over!"

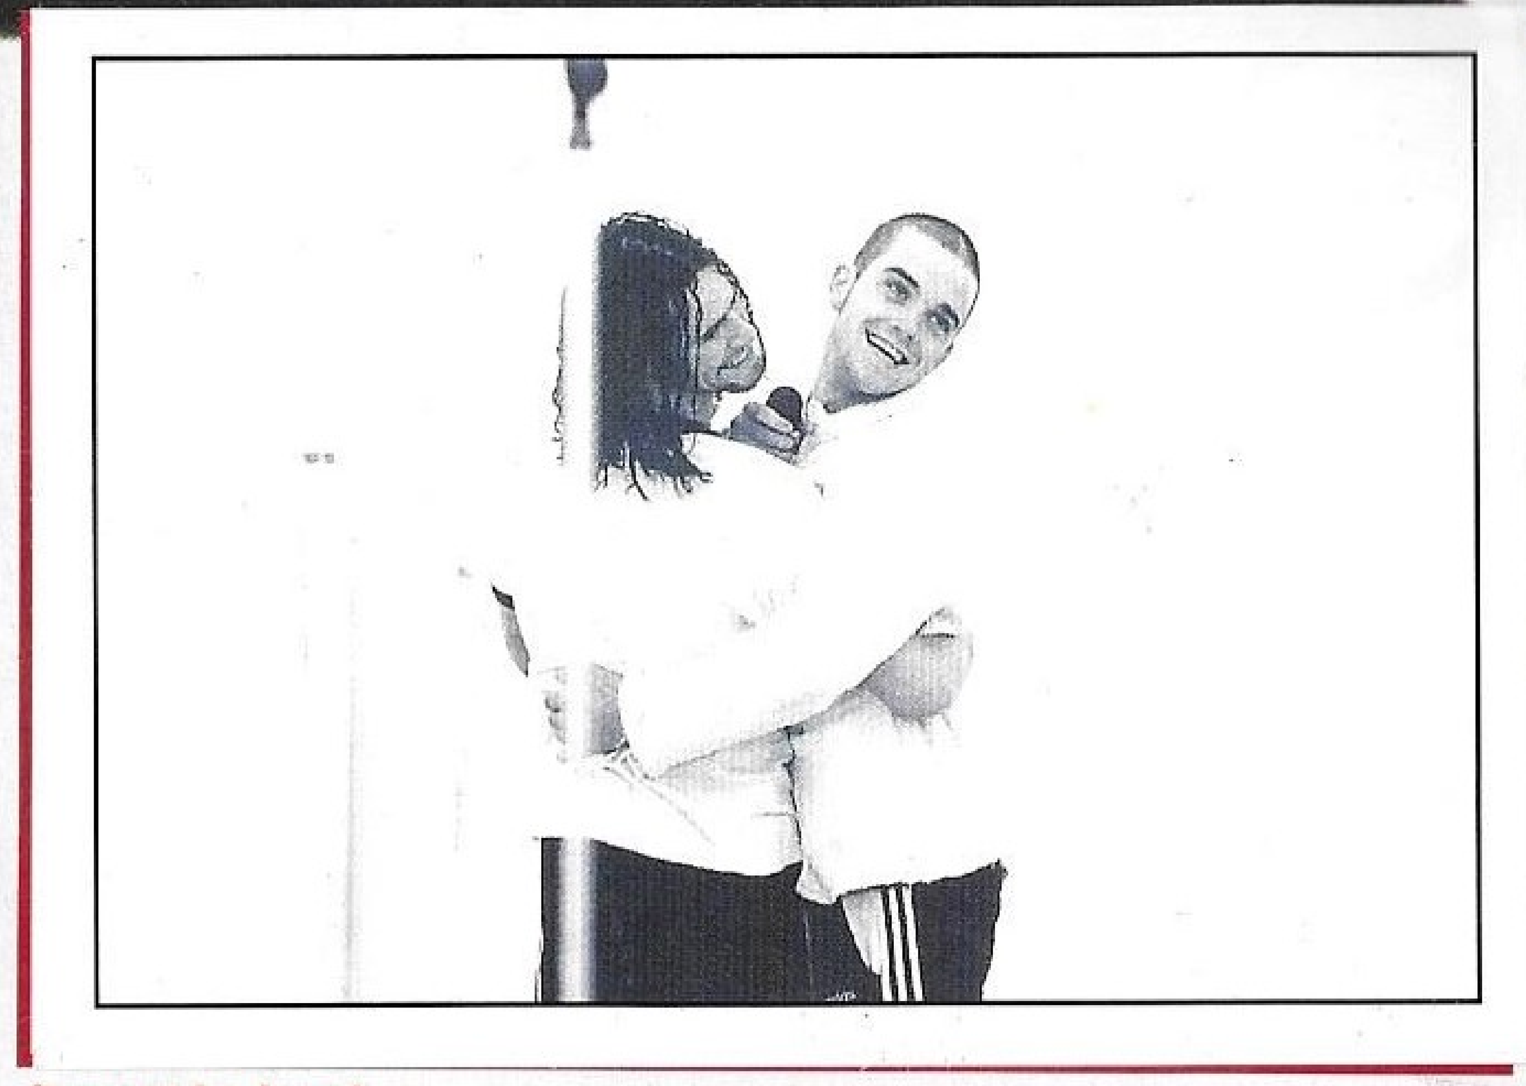

Even the songwriter has to practice his vocals.

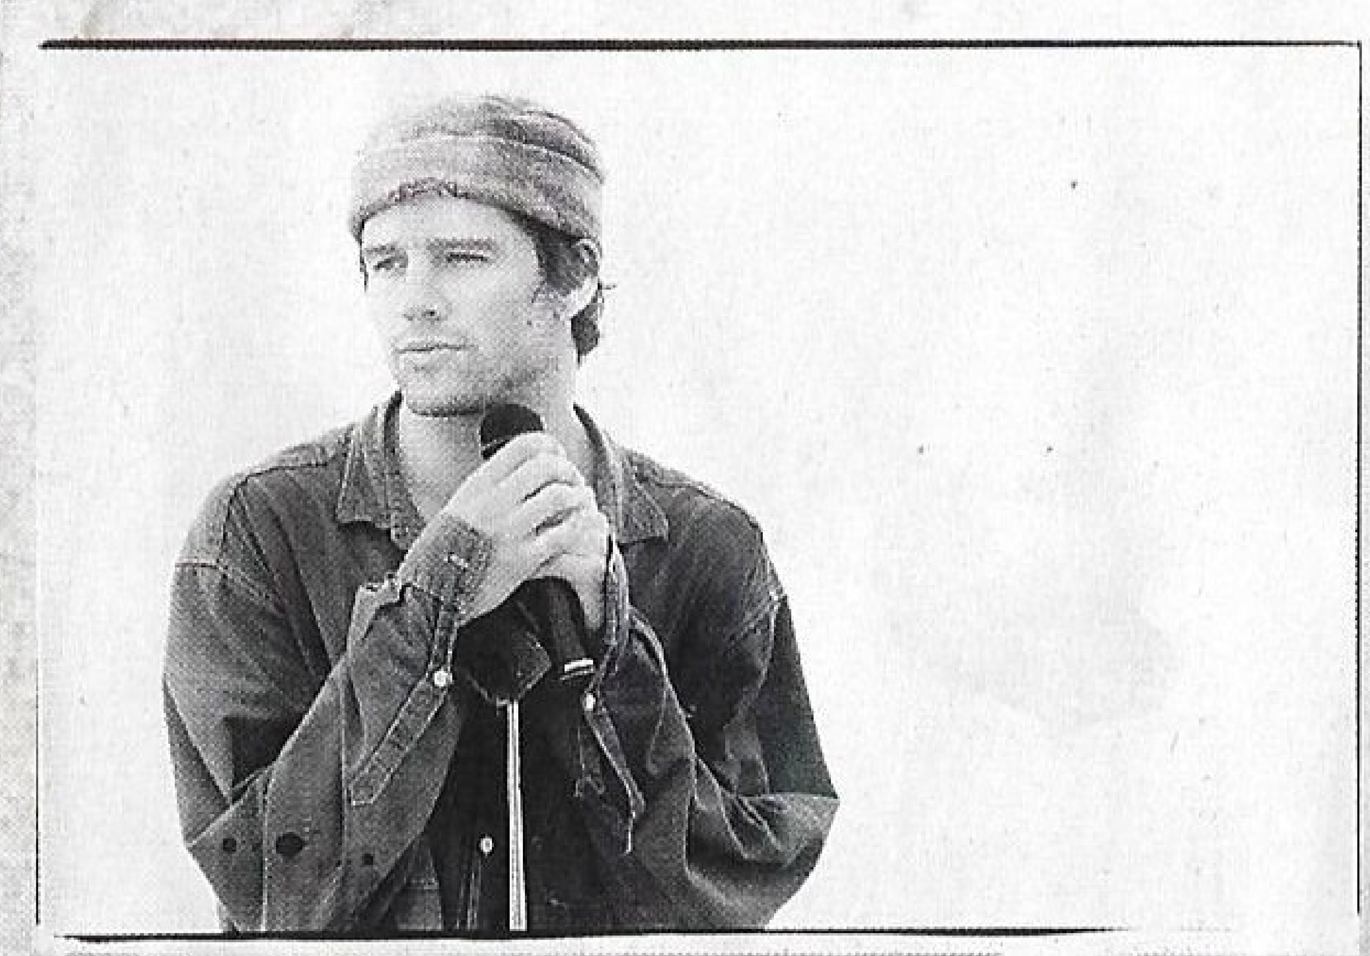

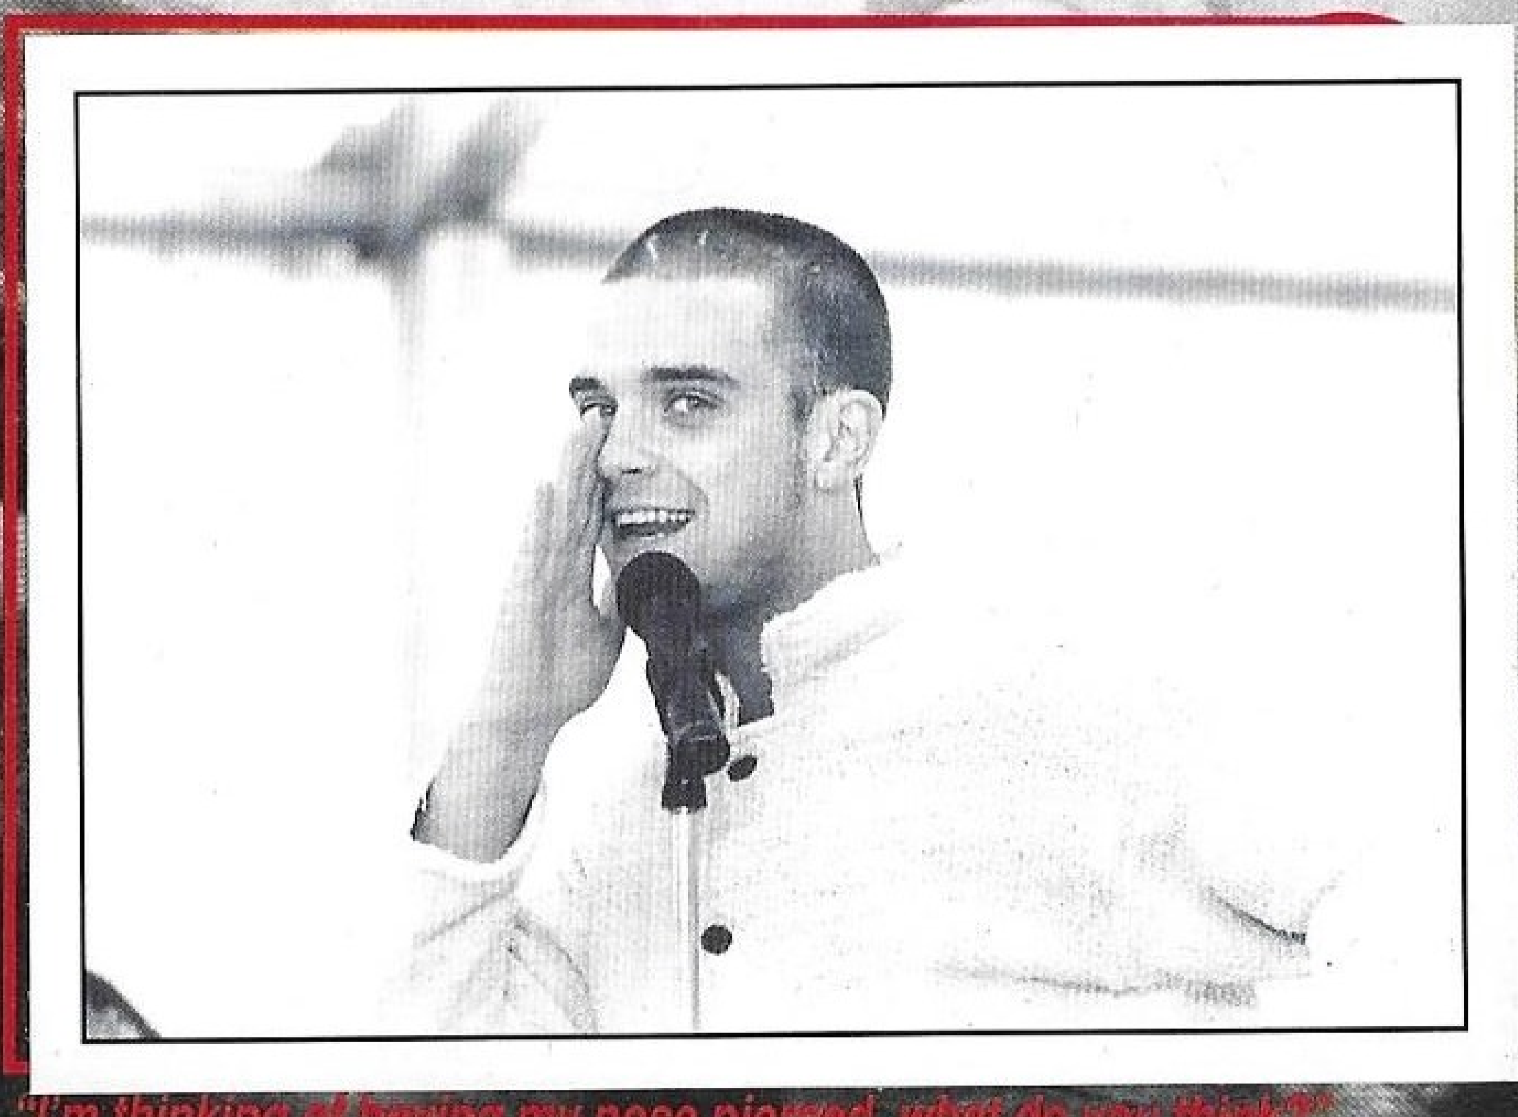

"Sing and spin on my head, don't make me laugh."

It must be love!

"I'm thinking of having my nose pierced, what do you think?"

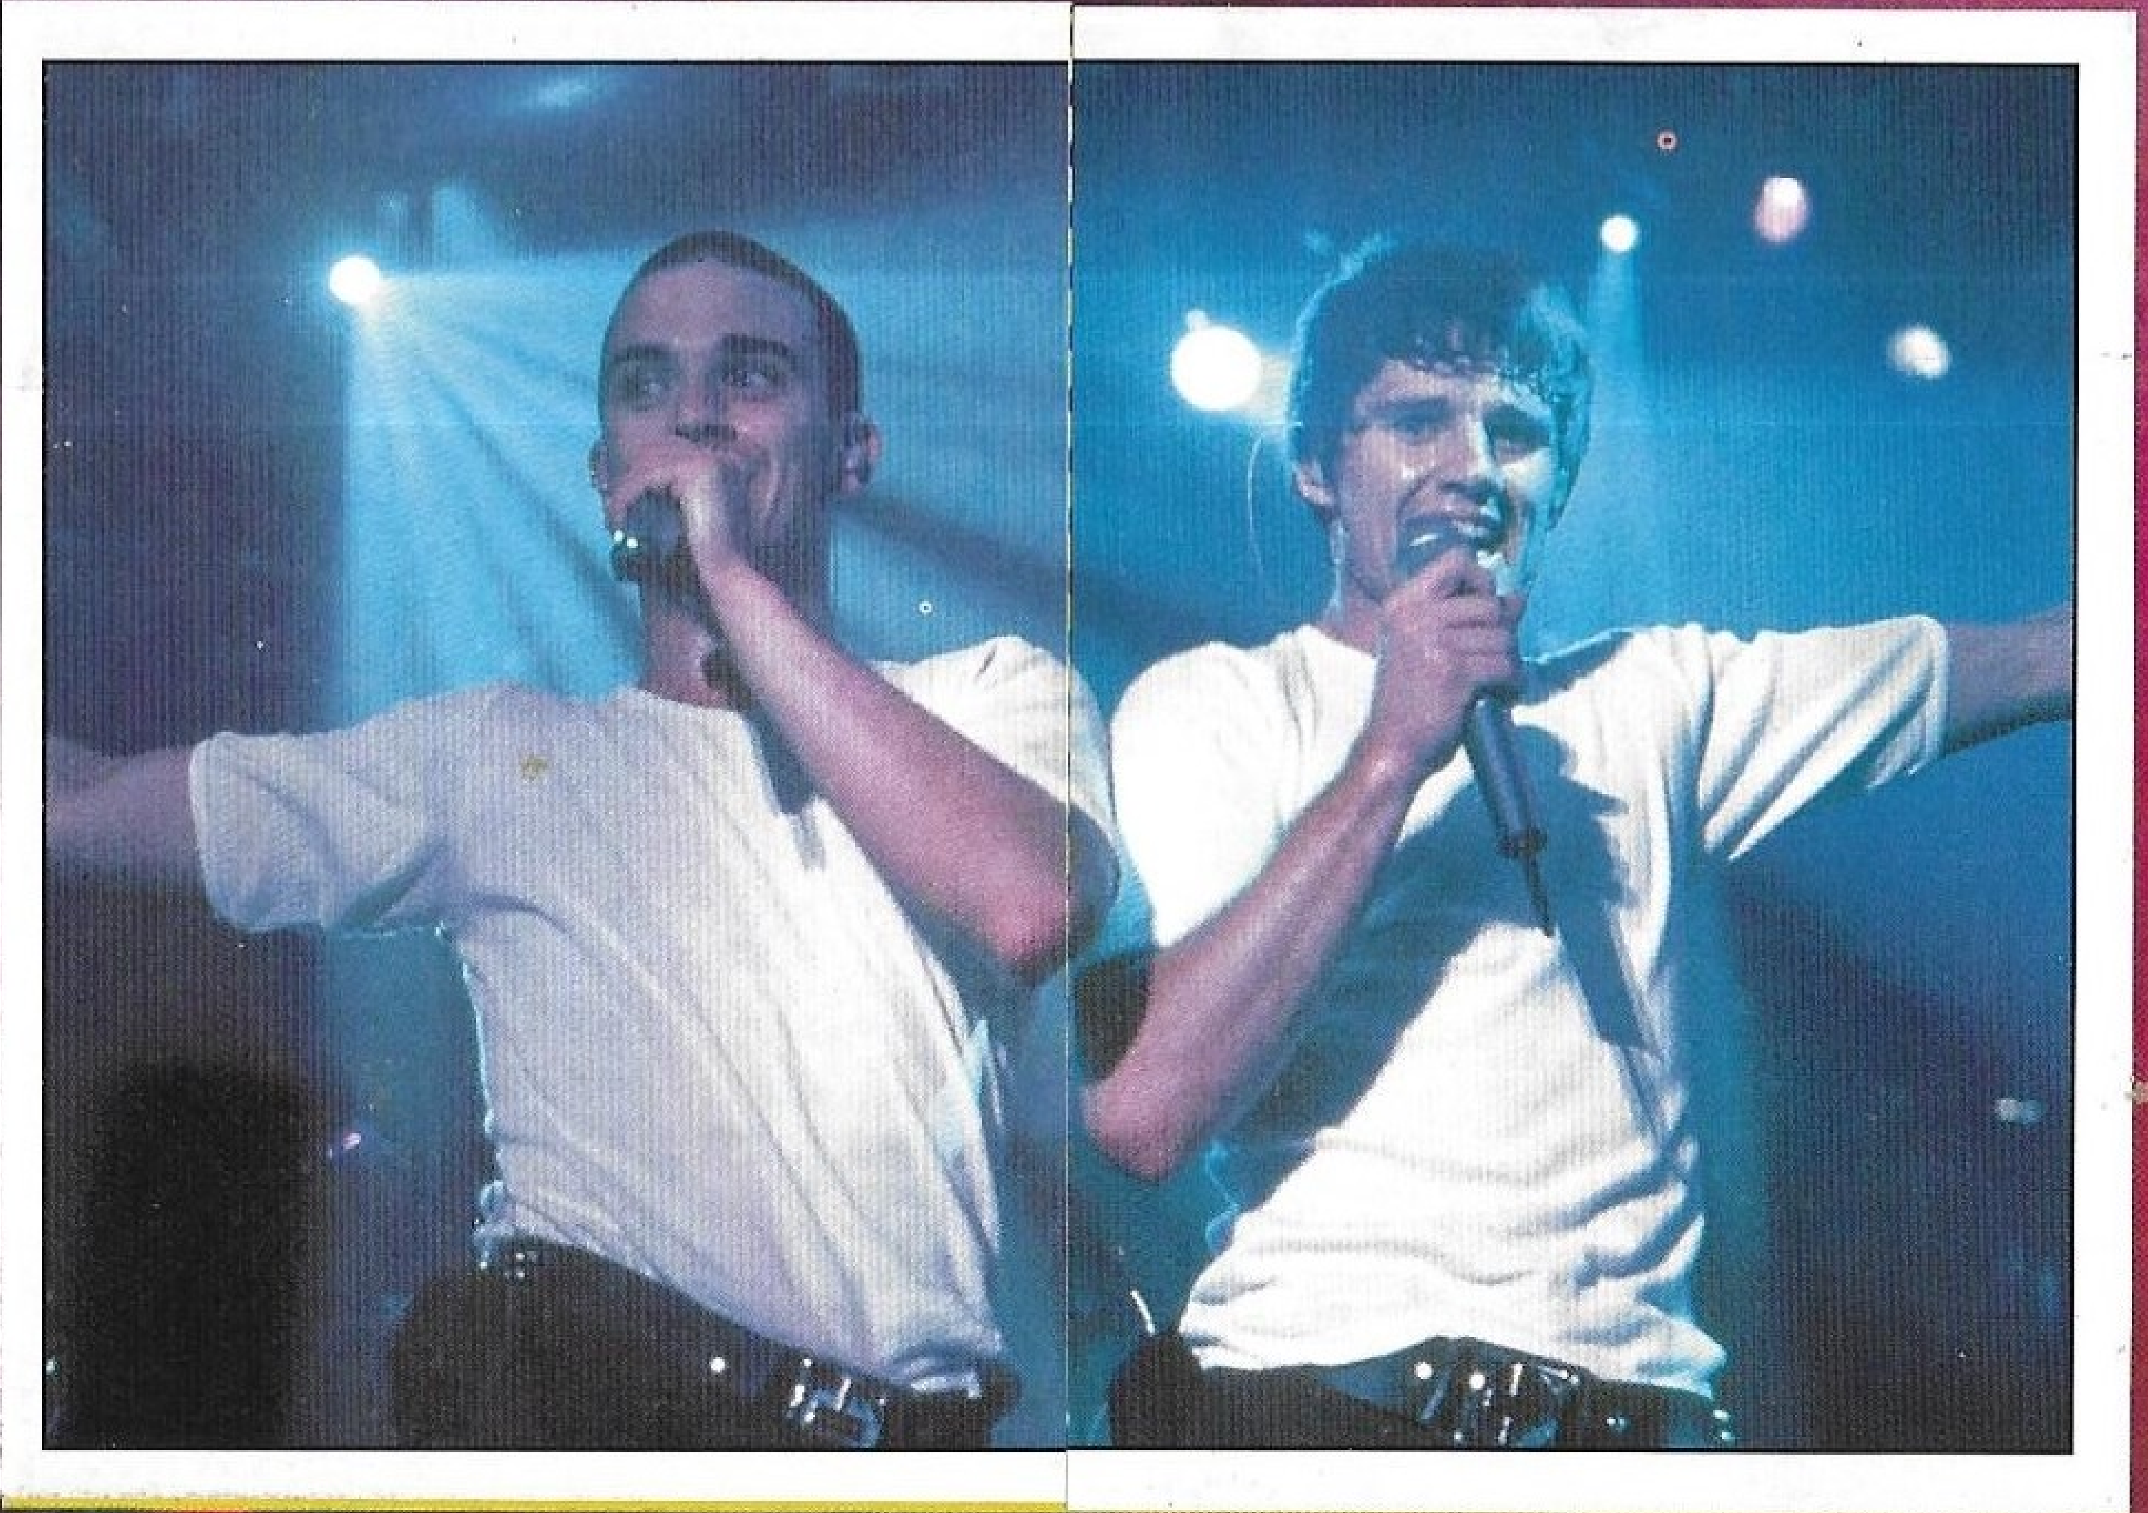

Okay, what's so funny?

STAGE SENSATION

"I'm going this way." "Well I'm going this way!"

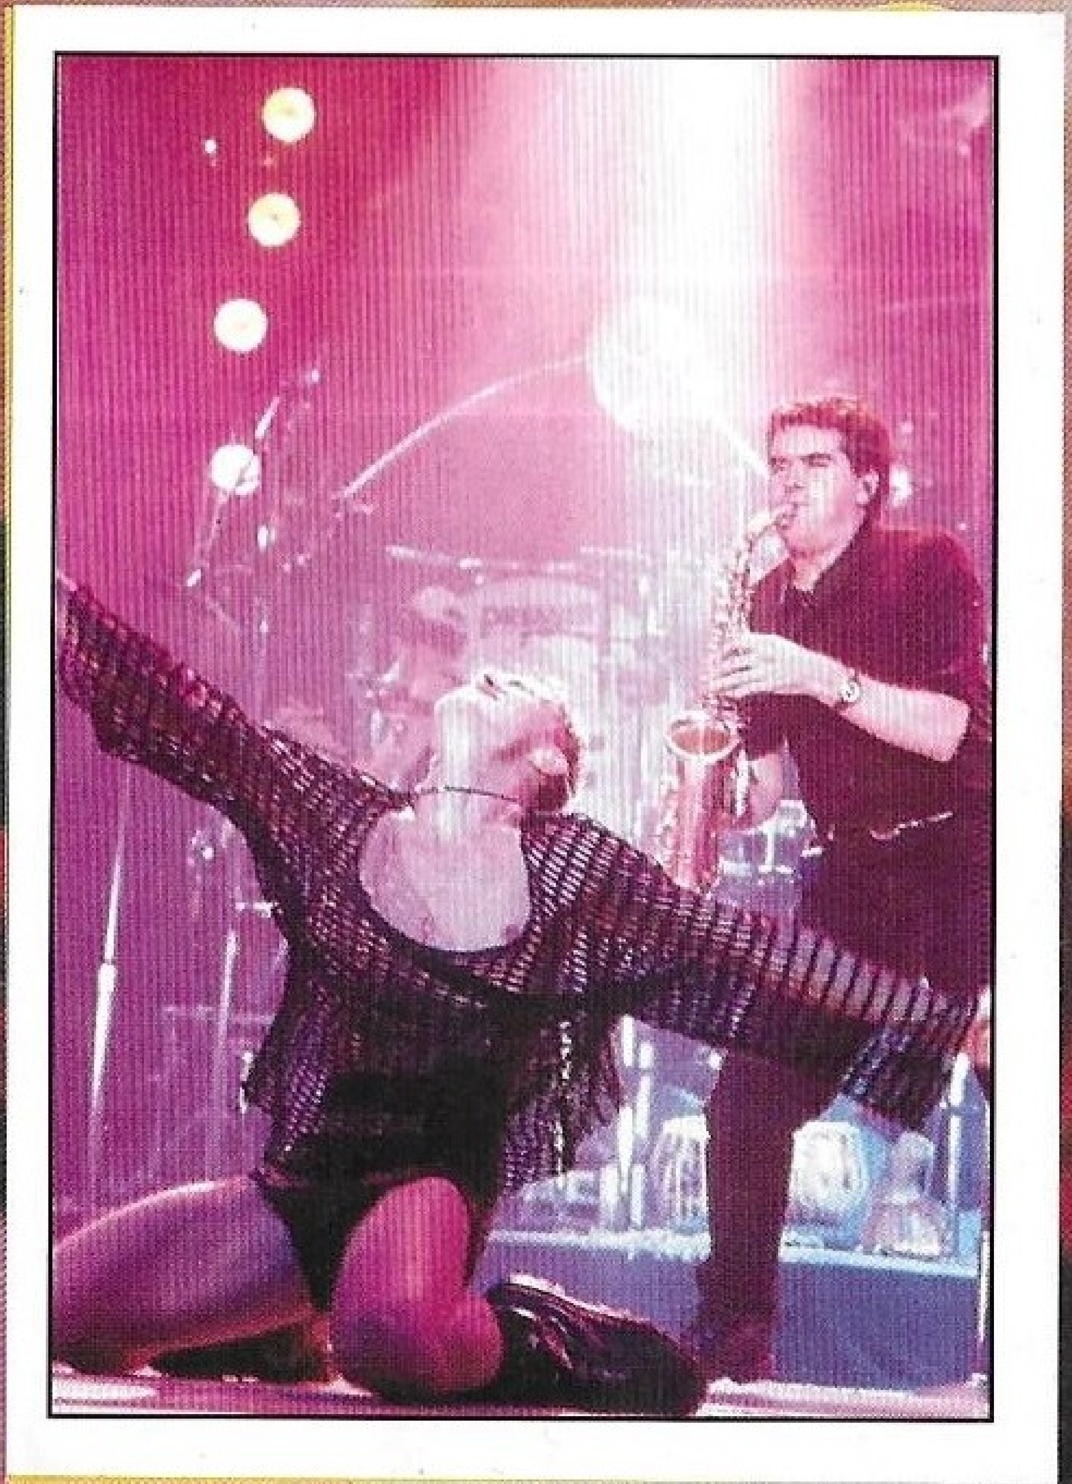

Halfway through the show, Mark has to make an urgent phone call!

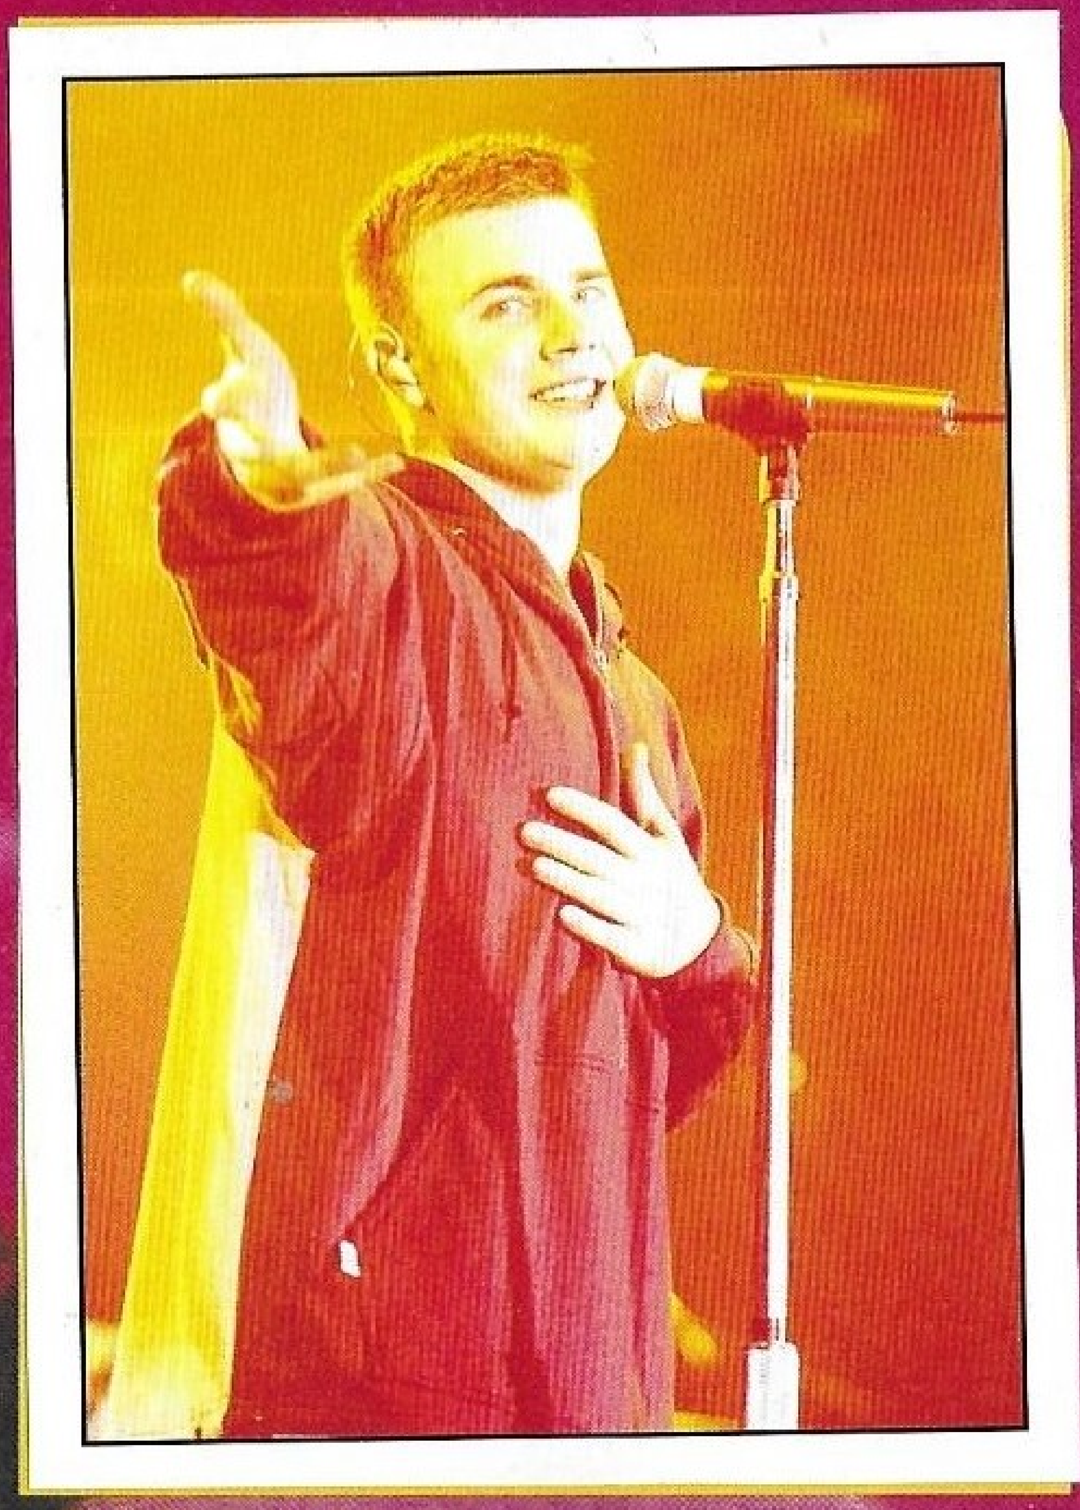

A few hearts start racing when Mark begins to sing.

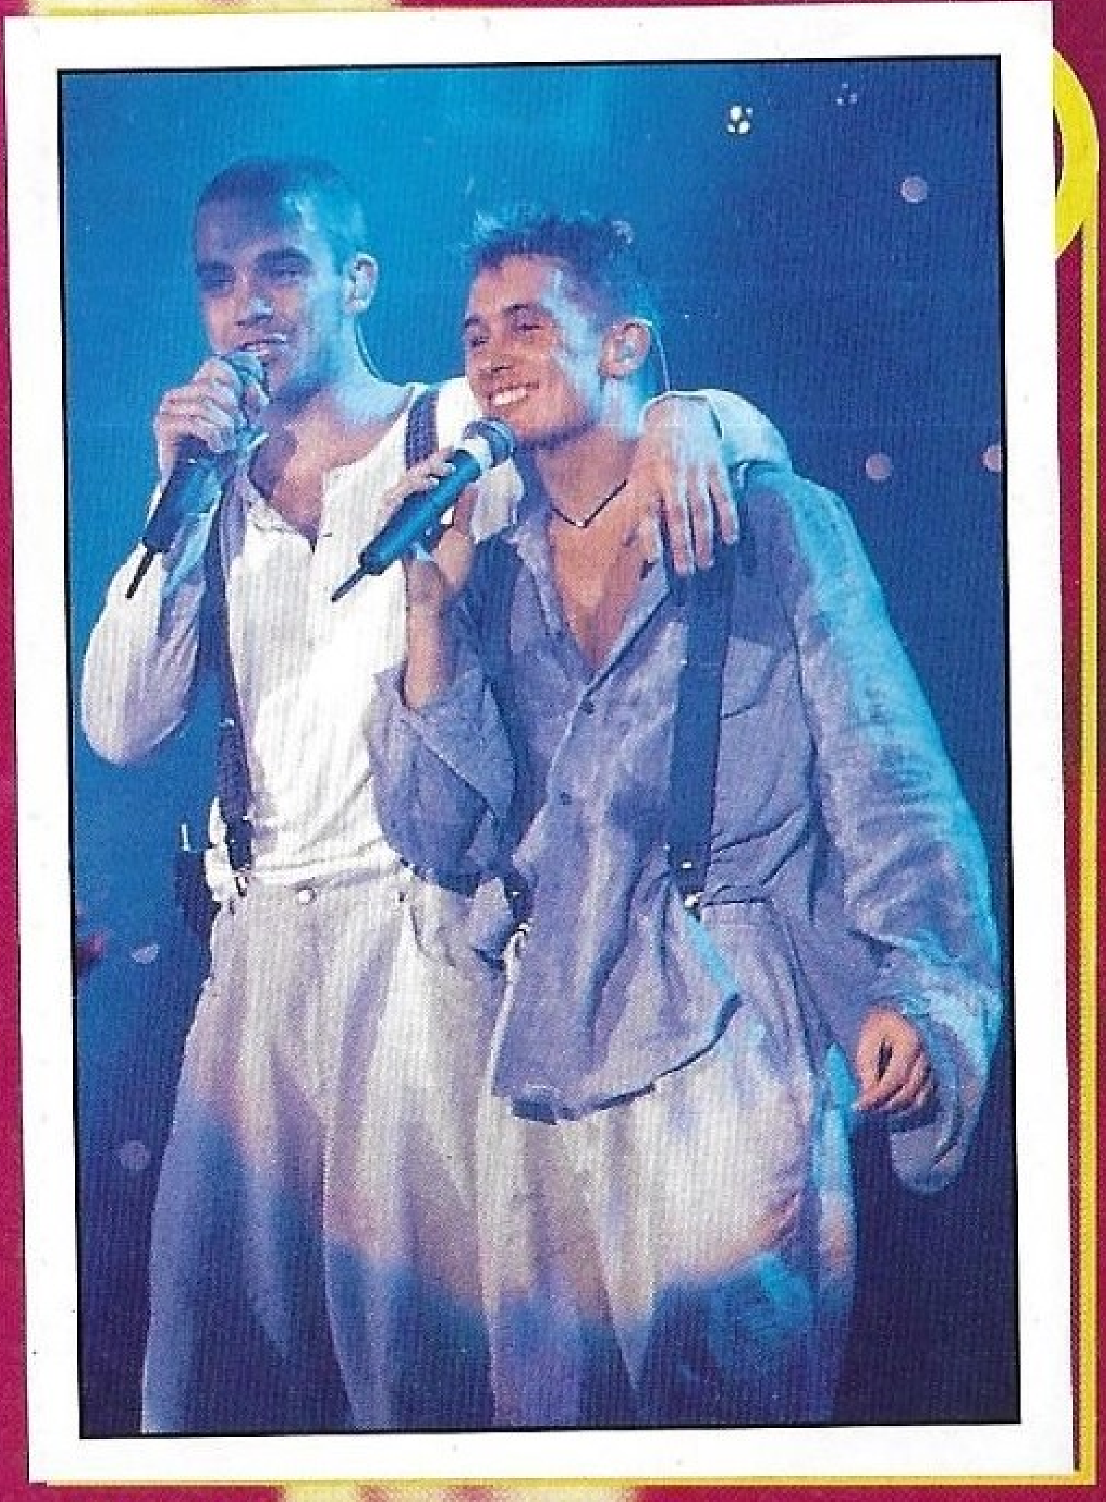

TT spent in the region of £2 million on putting together their most spectacular concerts ever... and it was worth every penny. The moment they stepped on stage the jammed-packed venues went crazy and the fans were treated to 90 minutes of sheer ecstacy!

Jason gets his hearing tested.

And it's over to you.

All together now, Neighbours...

All dressed up and somewhere to go.

THE ULTIMATE EXPERIENCE

The boys put on a super-slick show crammed with new dance routines and quick costume changes. Dressed in military jackets TT opened with their own funky version of "Satisfaction" and from then on the pace just got more and more frantic. The band had the crowds jumping in the aisles as they performed their now famous Beatles medley clad in familiar bright blue sixties jackets, everyone from six to sixty couldn't resist singing along.

This brings a whole new meaning to bending over backwards.

Double vision; TT are joined by their mini lookalikes.

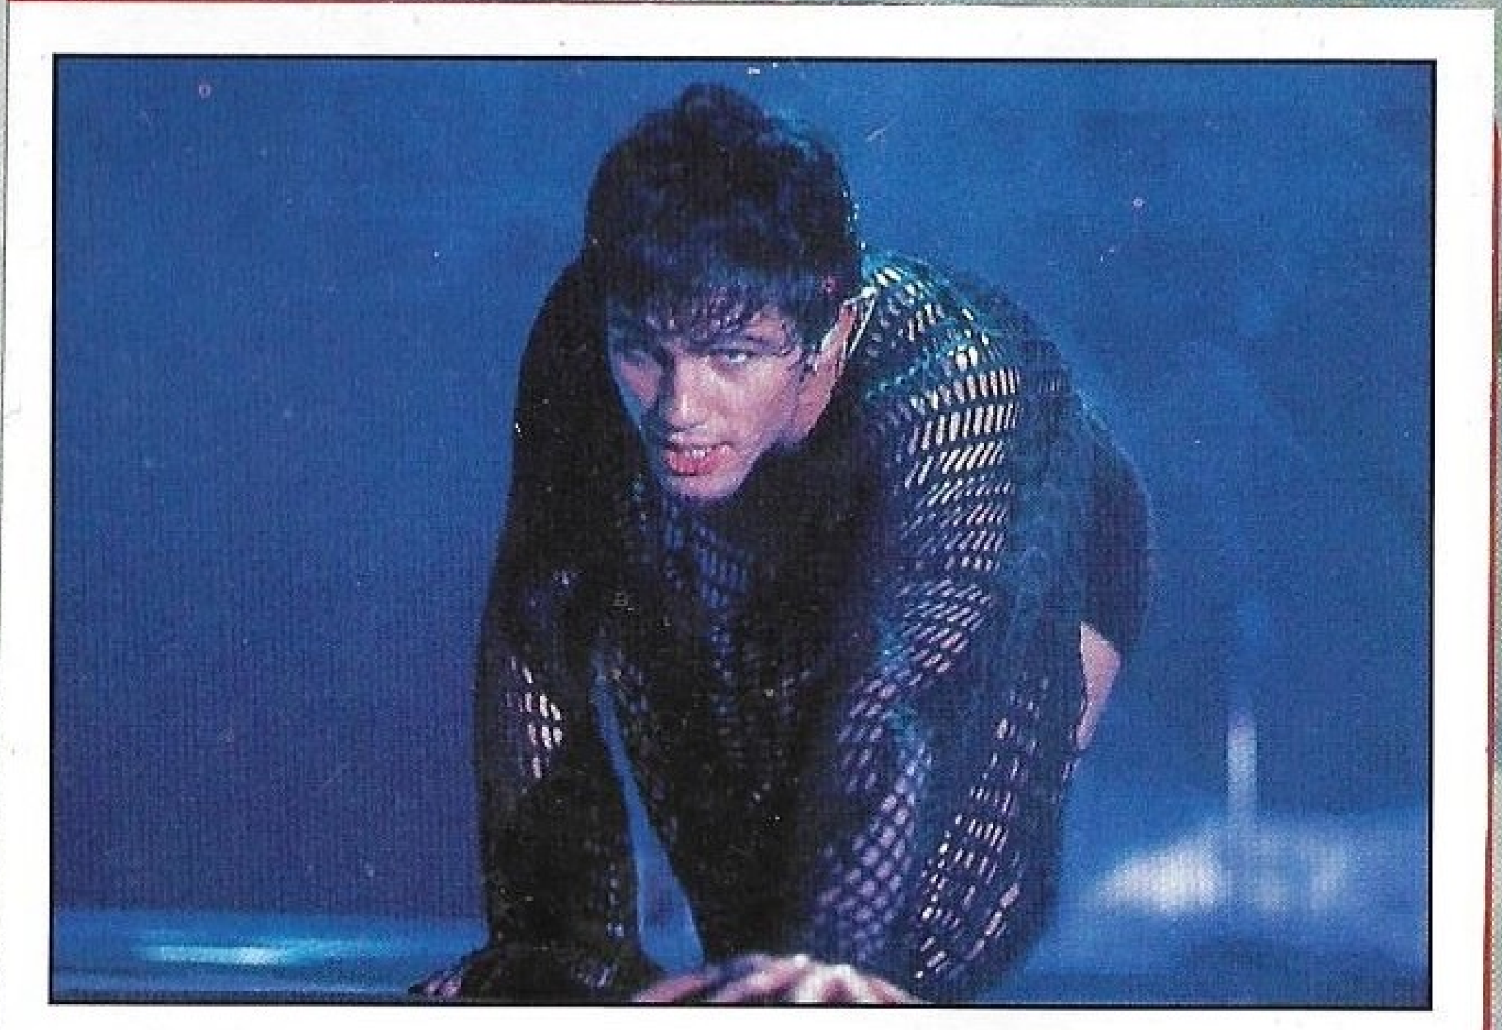

Robbie gives it all he's got.

On stage aerobics!

Too hot to touch, Howard gets down to the bare essentials.

Jason's keen to "Give Good Feeling."

FUN AND FANTASY

One of the fun highlights were the mini TT lookalikes, all aged between eight and twelve, who joined the fab five on stage to sing "It Only Takes A Minute" and "Do What You Like". As the show went on the atmosphere reached fever pitch, especially when the guys slid back on stage wearing little more than hot pants and string tops to give a raunchy performance of "Give Good Feeling"...and they certainly did!

We want you...

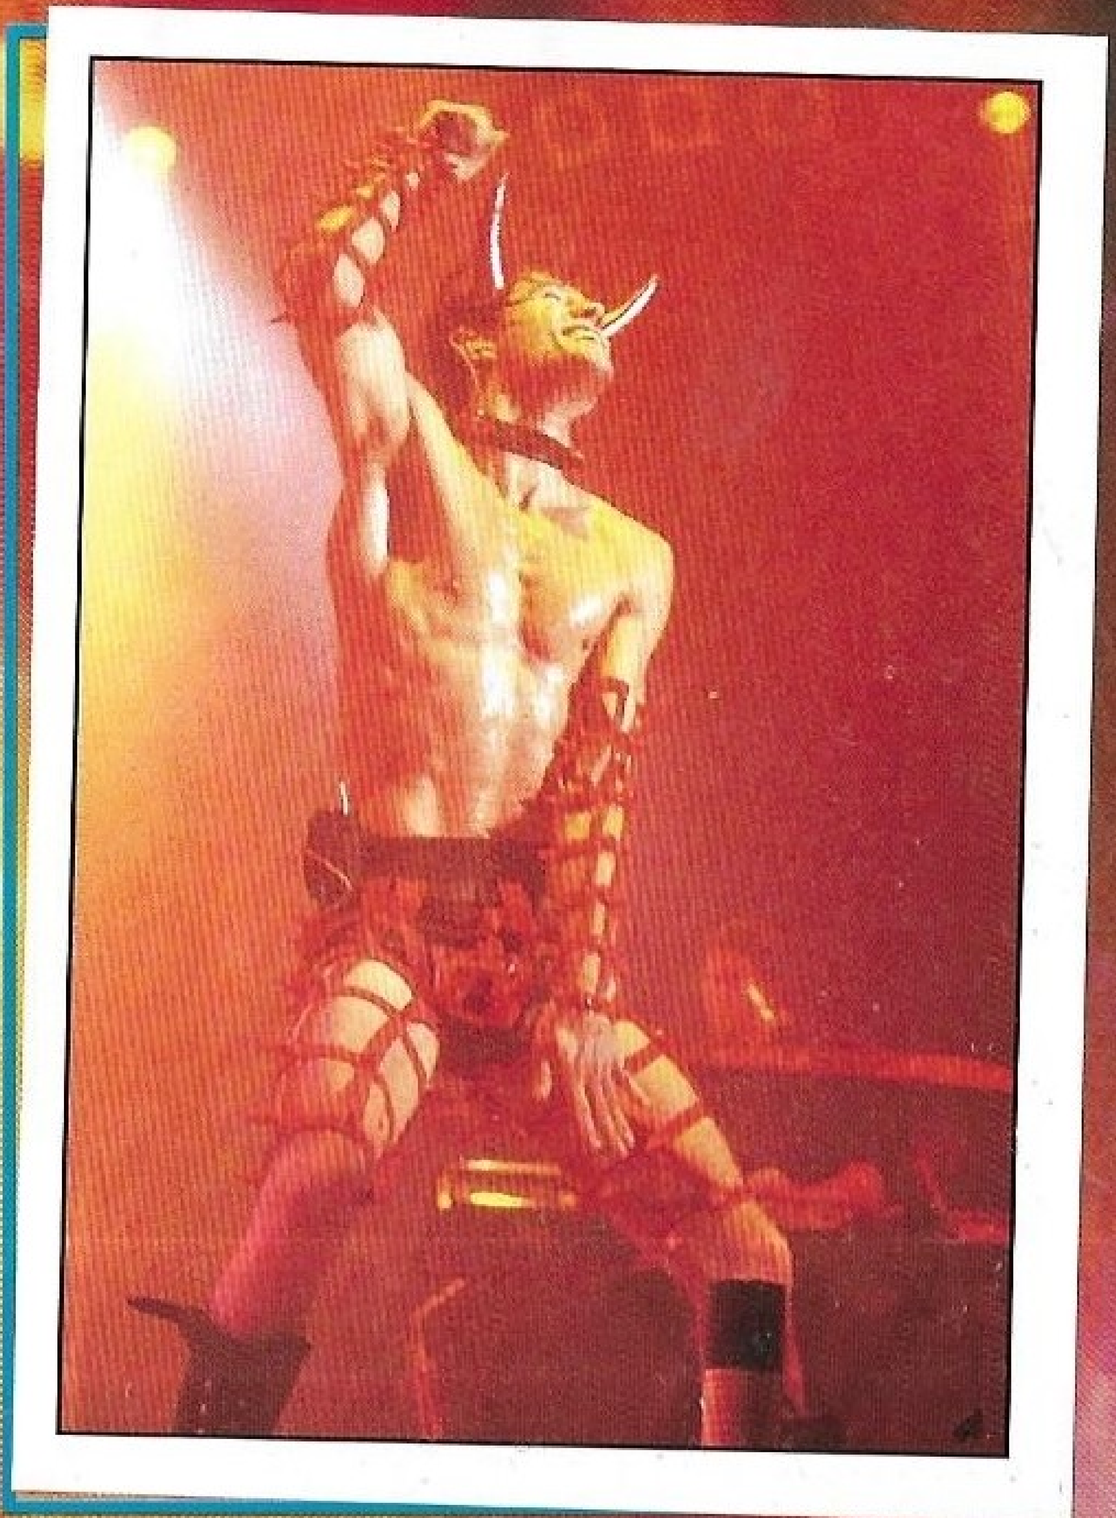

Mark gets upstaged by his carbon copy.

It looks like Jason's about to eat the microphone.

Jason, you horny little devil!

FANTASTIC FINALE

Just when it seemed that the concert had reached its climax, Take That dived onto the stage amid an array of fireworks in the sexiest gear they've ever worn. The fans went wild as Howard turned and showed off one of his best assets covered only by a skimpy black leather g-string and red cowboy chaps. As the final notes of "Relight My Fire" faded away another concert was over and the lights went down... still there's always the next tour to look forward to!

Cheeky...

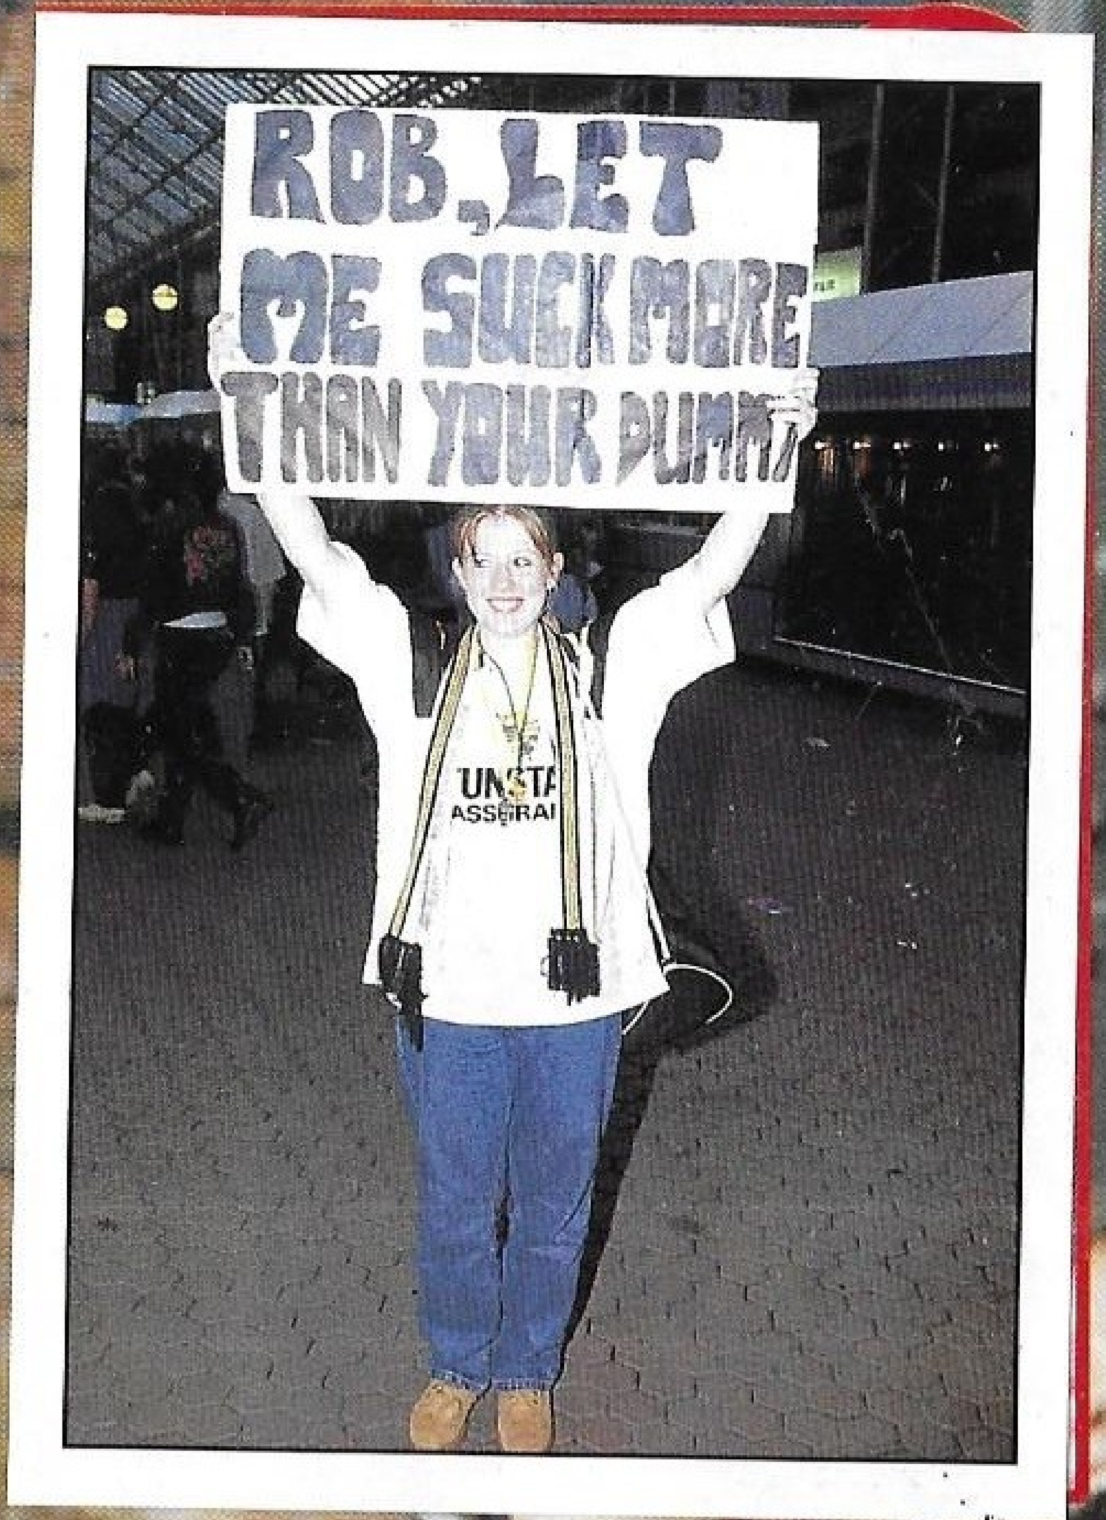

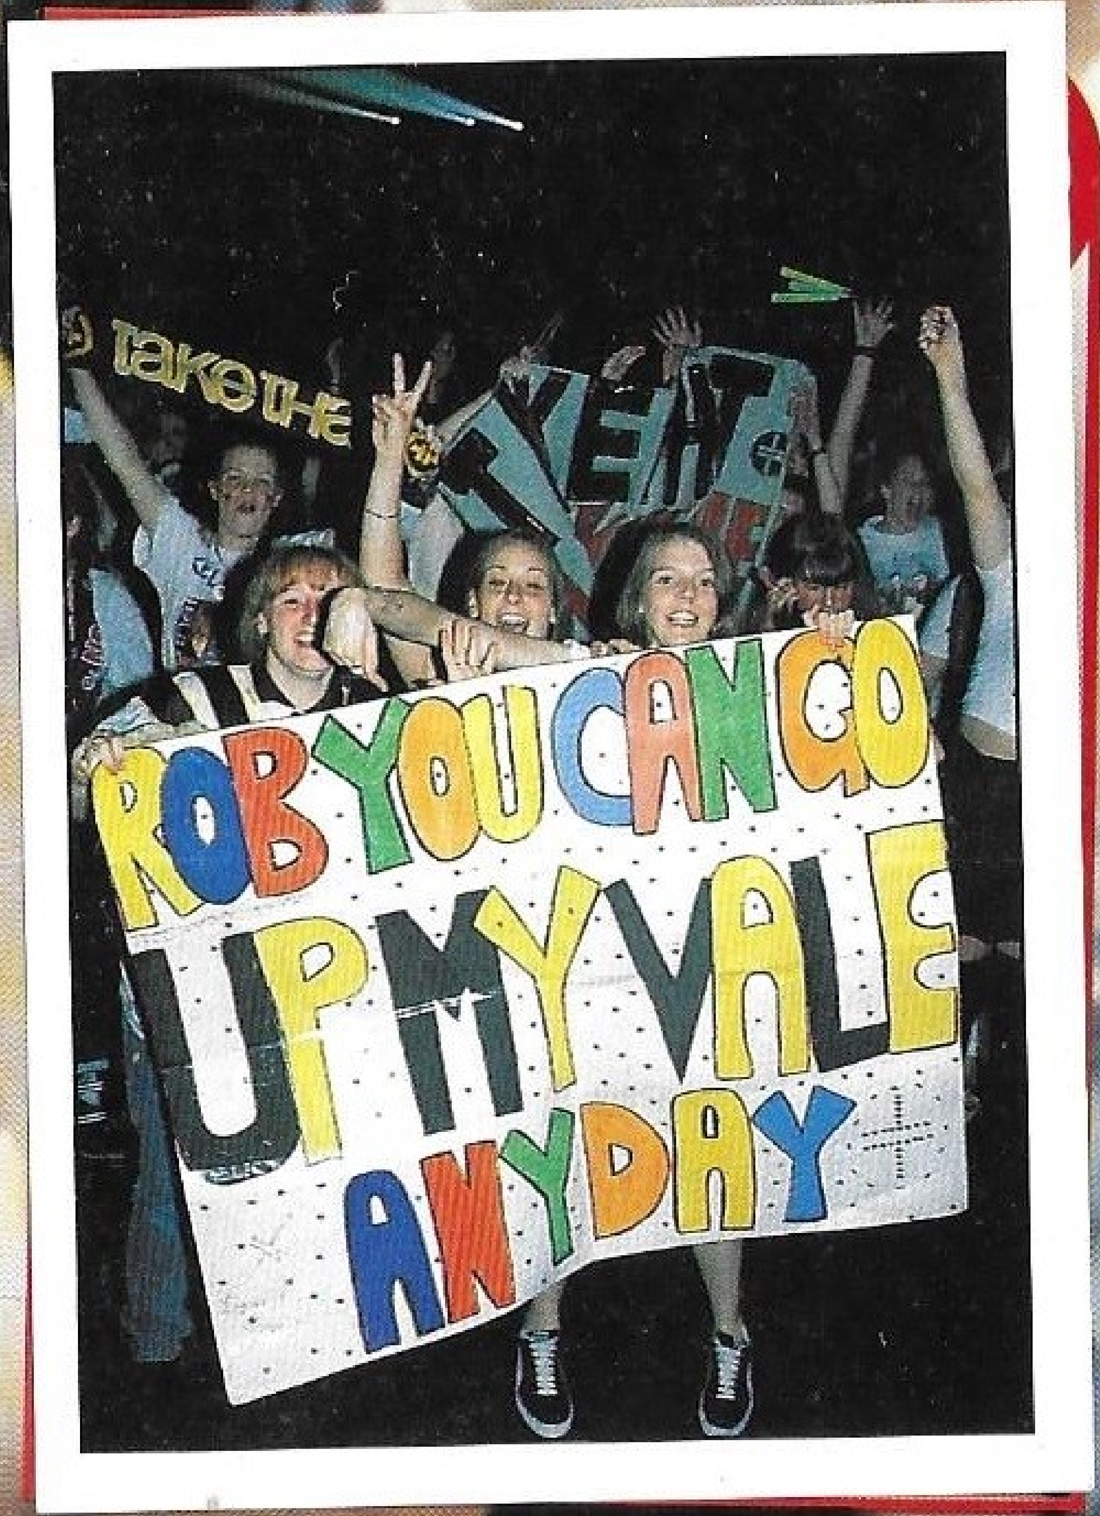

Get on your knees and beg.

FAN FRENZY

Every time TT arrive at a venue there are always hundreds of screaming fans to greet them. Many dedicated Thatters spend hours standing at stage doors, airports and outside TV and recording studios just to catch a glimpse of Britain's hottest property. Don't despair, quite often it's worth the wait; unlike some bands TT enjoy seeing their fans and if they get the chance the boys take time out to have a quick chat or sign some autographs. Have you been one of the lucky ones?

BEHIND THE SCENES

The humble cardboard box makes a comeback.

Backstage during a tour is a hive of activity. When the band are preparing to go on stage, an army of people are sorting out costumes, make-up, microphones and lighting to name a few. Throughout the show the crew are rushing around, keeping everything running smoothly and helping the band change costumes in between sets... now there's a job! It's not until the last note has been sung that things begin to calm down a little bit and the boys and crew have a chance to sit back and relax. Not for long though - in a tour of this size everything has to be checked and prepared for the show the next night. By the time they have finished, it's time to start again! Who said the music business was easy?

I wonder if they've got left and right marked on the bottom?

More profiteroles? Gary needs to keep up his energy level.

A horny little box!

Jason travels light, just a guitar and a change of clothes.

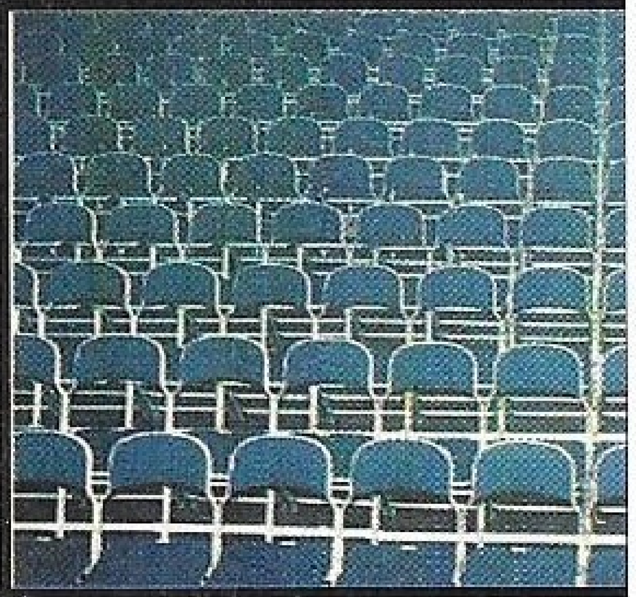

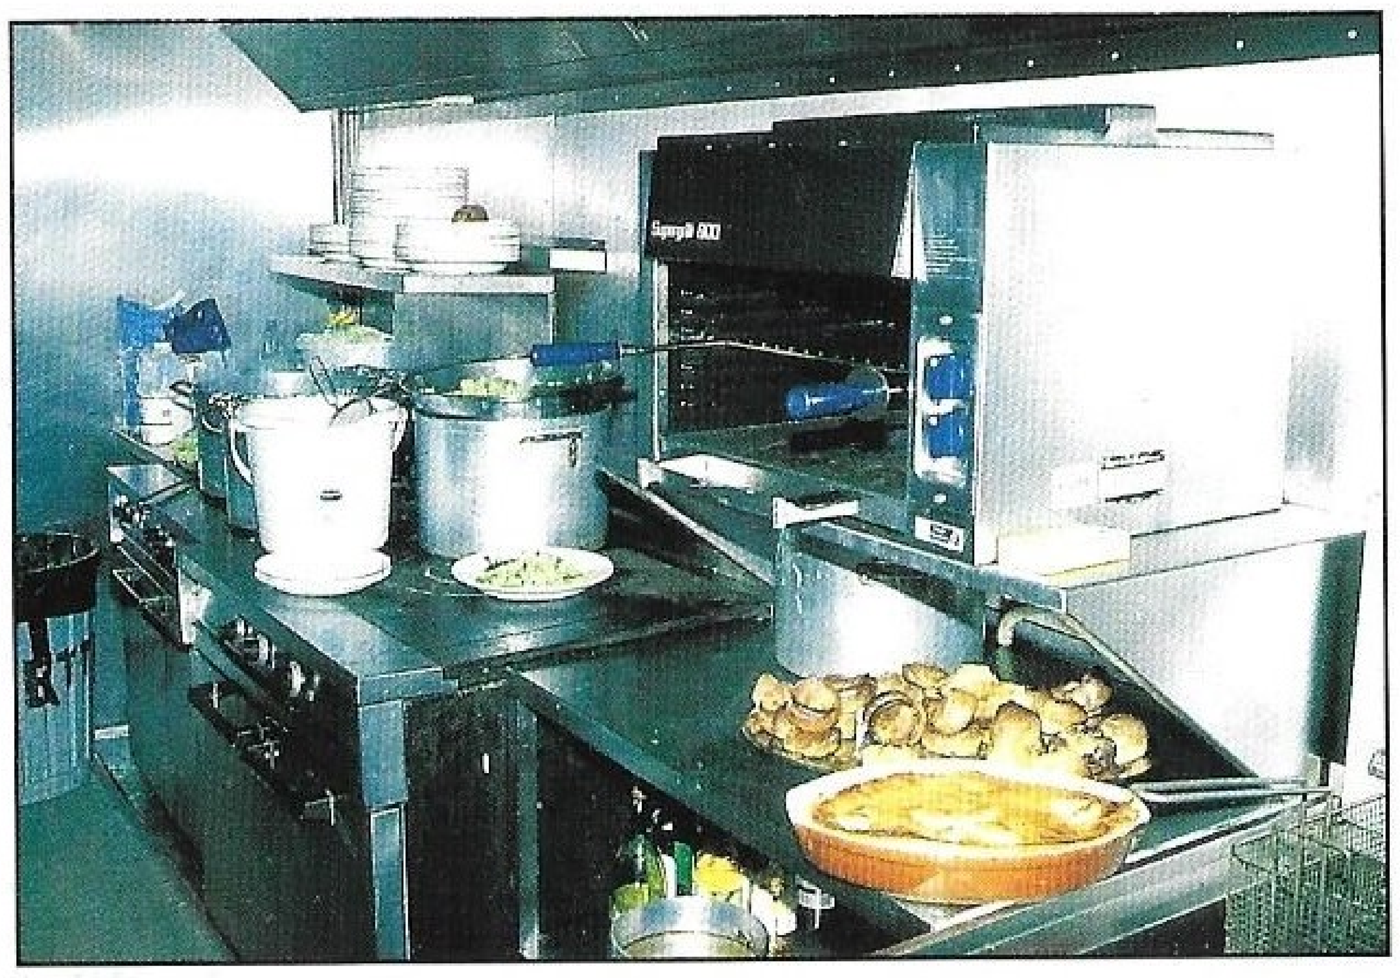

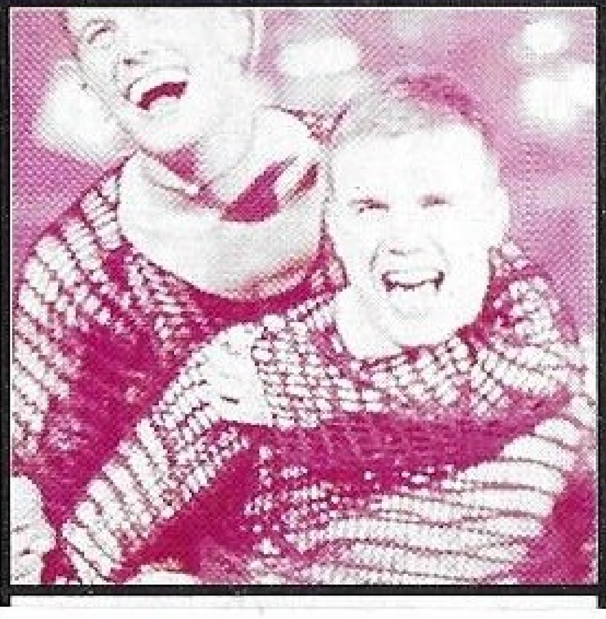

It would be a shame to spoil those boyish good looks with stubble.

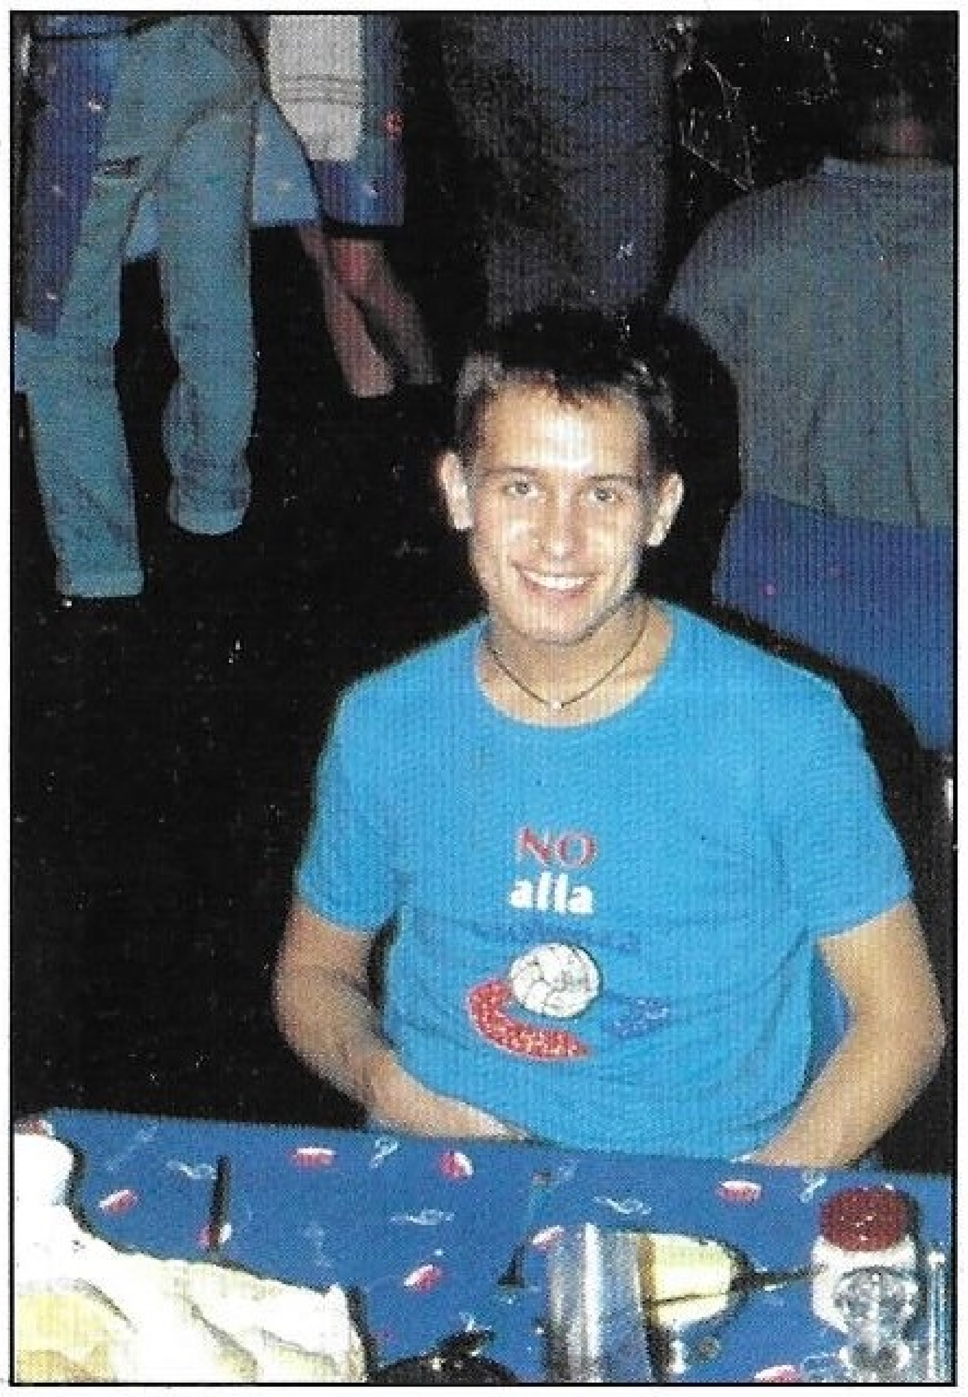

Even on tour there's no reason to miss Sunday lunch.

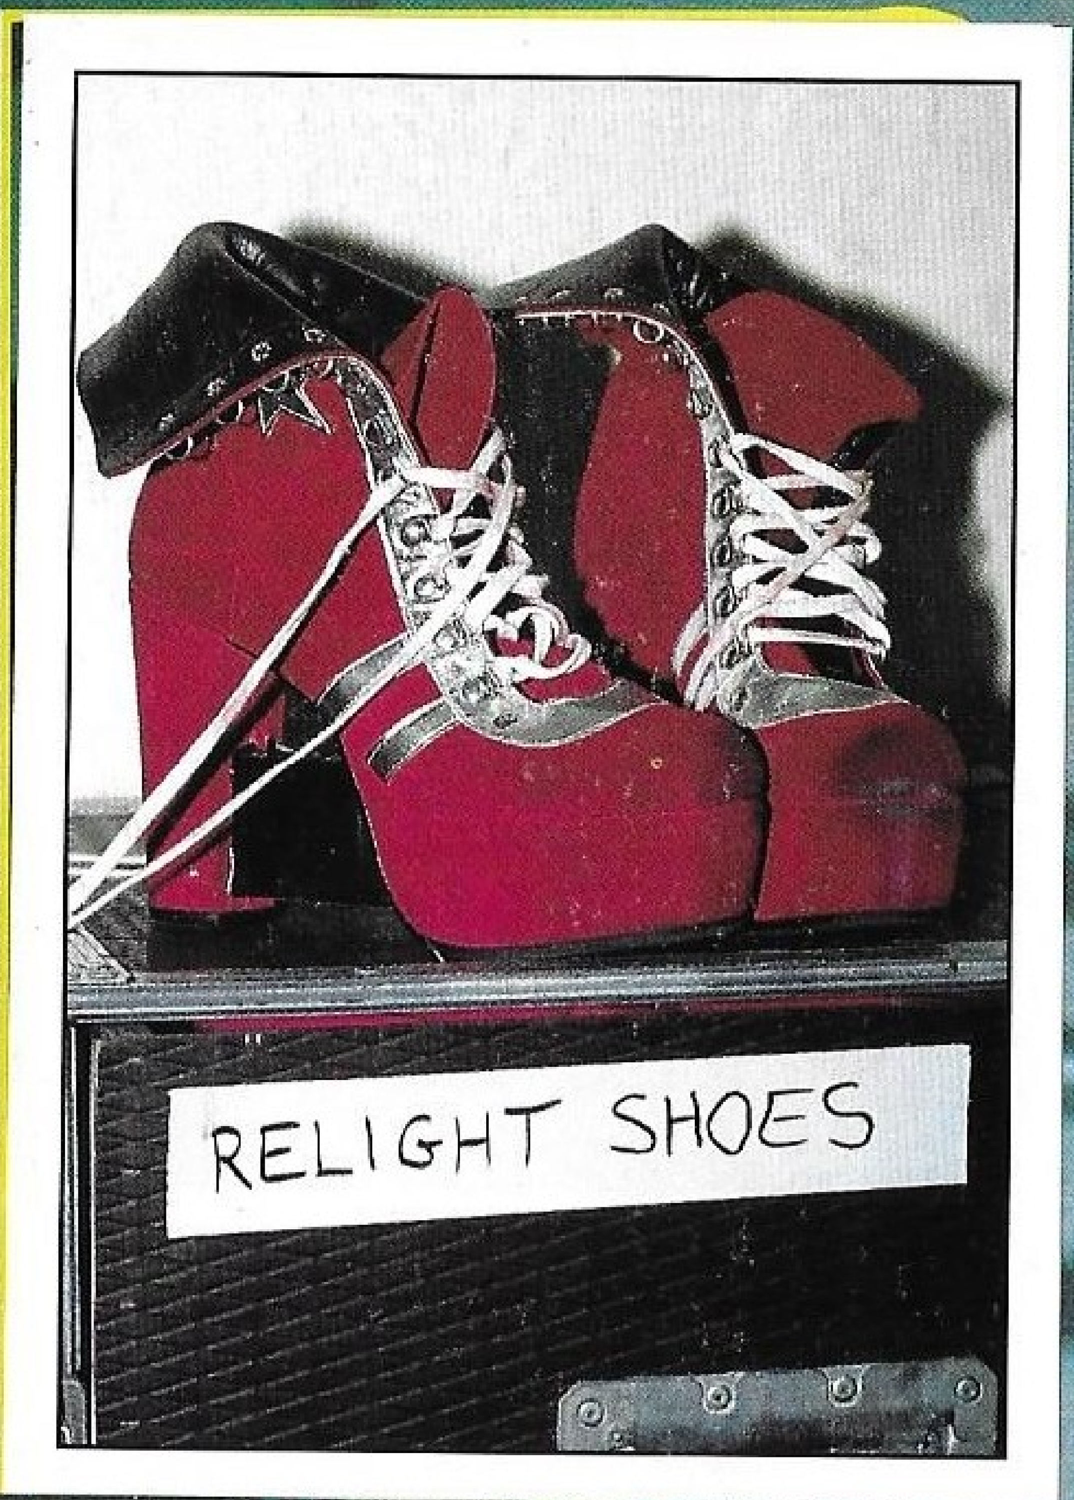

"Okay, I'm finished, what's next?"

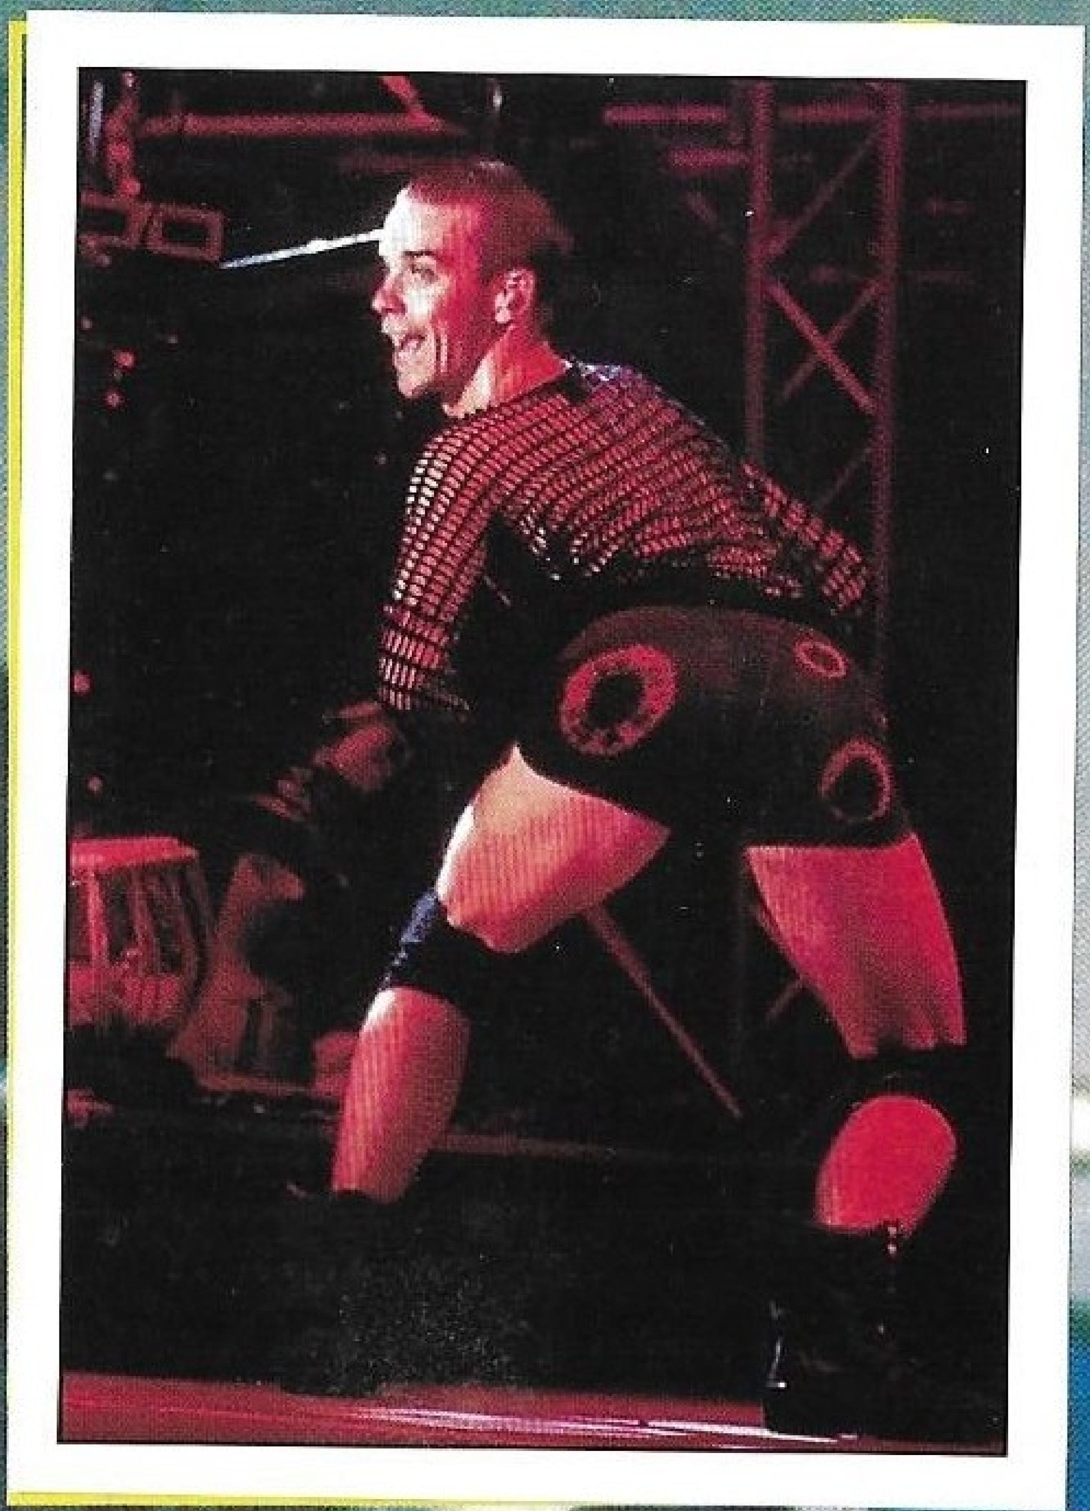

Every second of the show is monitored on high-tech equipment.

These boots were made for stomping.

You put your left one in..!

There's something about a man in uniform.

UNDRESSED TO THRILL!

It's surprising what kind of things you find in some people's wardrobes.

The string vest; something your Grandad used to wear, now the latest fashion trend.

Hot and sweaty, no wonder he doesn't wear many clothes.

The sexiest guys out can still manage to look innocent.

So much to choose from and so little time!

Have you got the nerve to bare all? Take That have. Well nearly. Raunchy, sexy and totally bad, the costumes for the latest tour left little to the imagination... what a shame! The band managed to wear every different style and all in the space of an evening. One minute they were wearing metal helmets, long military coats and goggles; the next outfits echoed the swinging sixties and for their popular hit "Pray", the band slipped on monk-type robes which showed off every inch of their glistening bodies. Of course the hottest sensation was the devil costumes complete with little red horns, a definite way to raise a few temperatures! Not only were their outfits out of this world but just days earlier the lads caused a sensation with their serious new hairstyles; Robbie had his lovely locks shaved, Mark went for a stylish crop and Howard opted for dreadlocks! Ten out of ten for their new image.

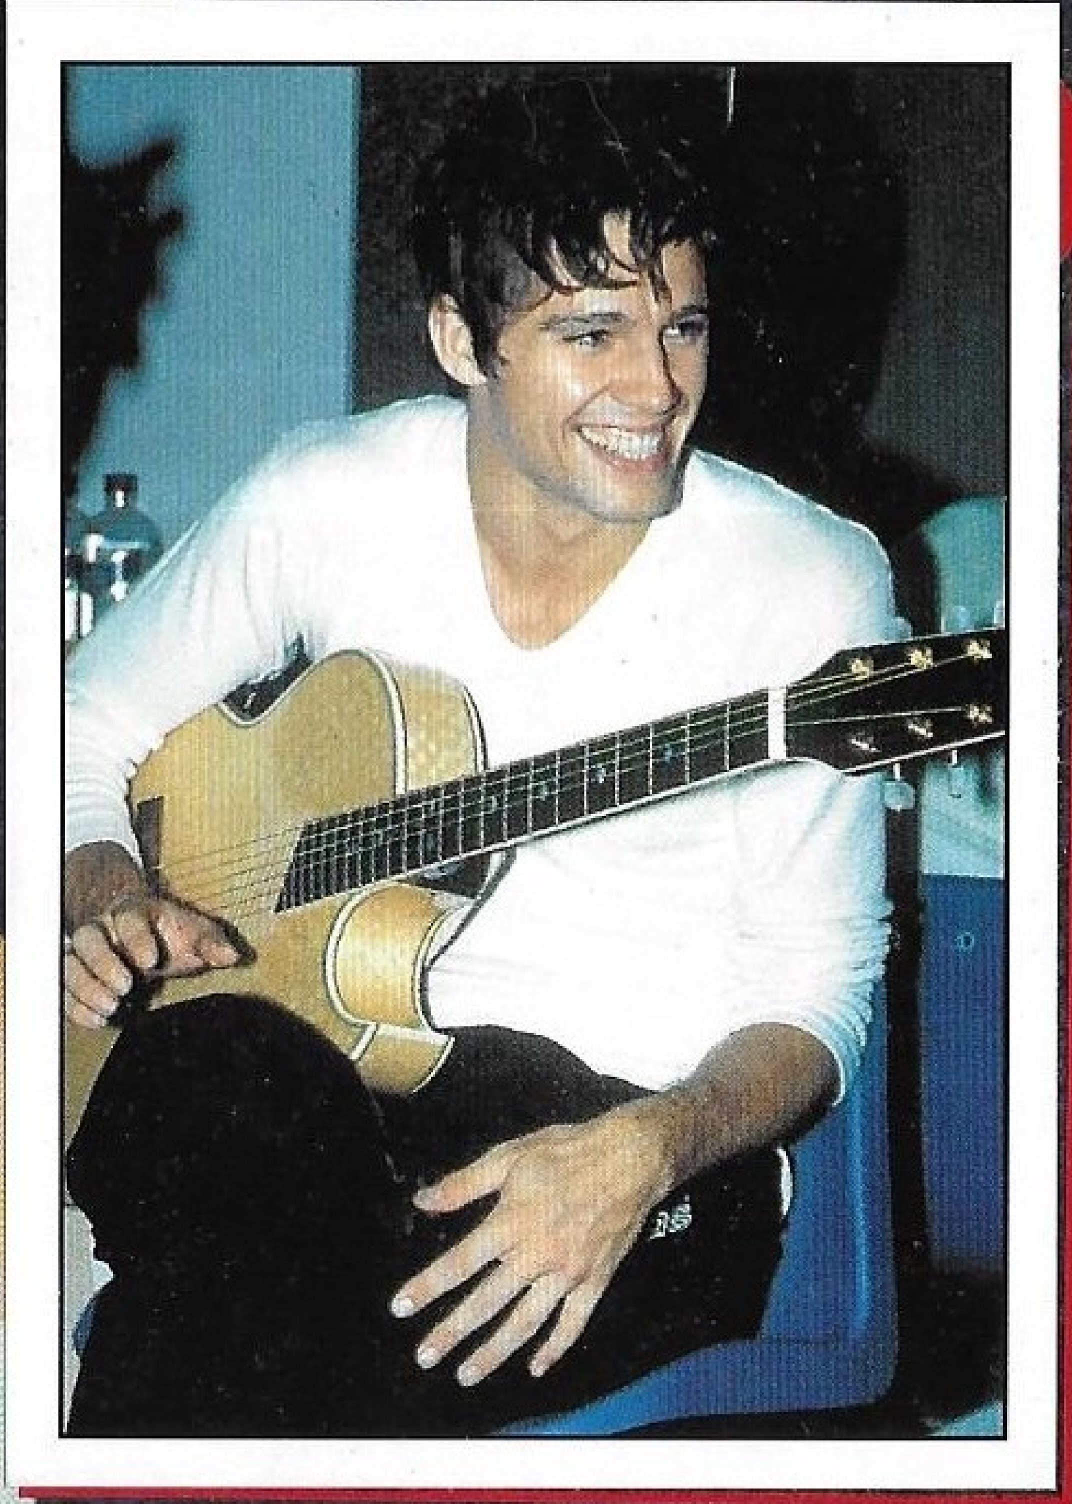

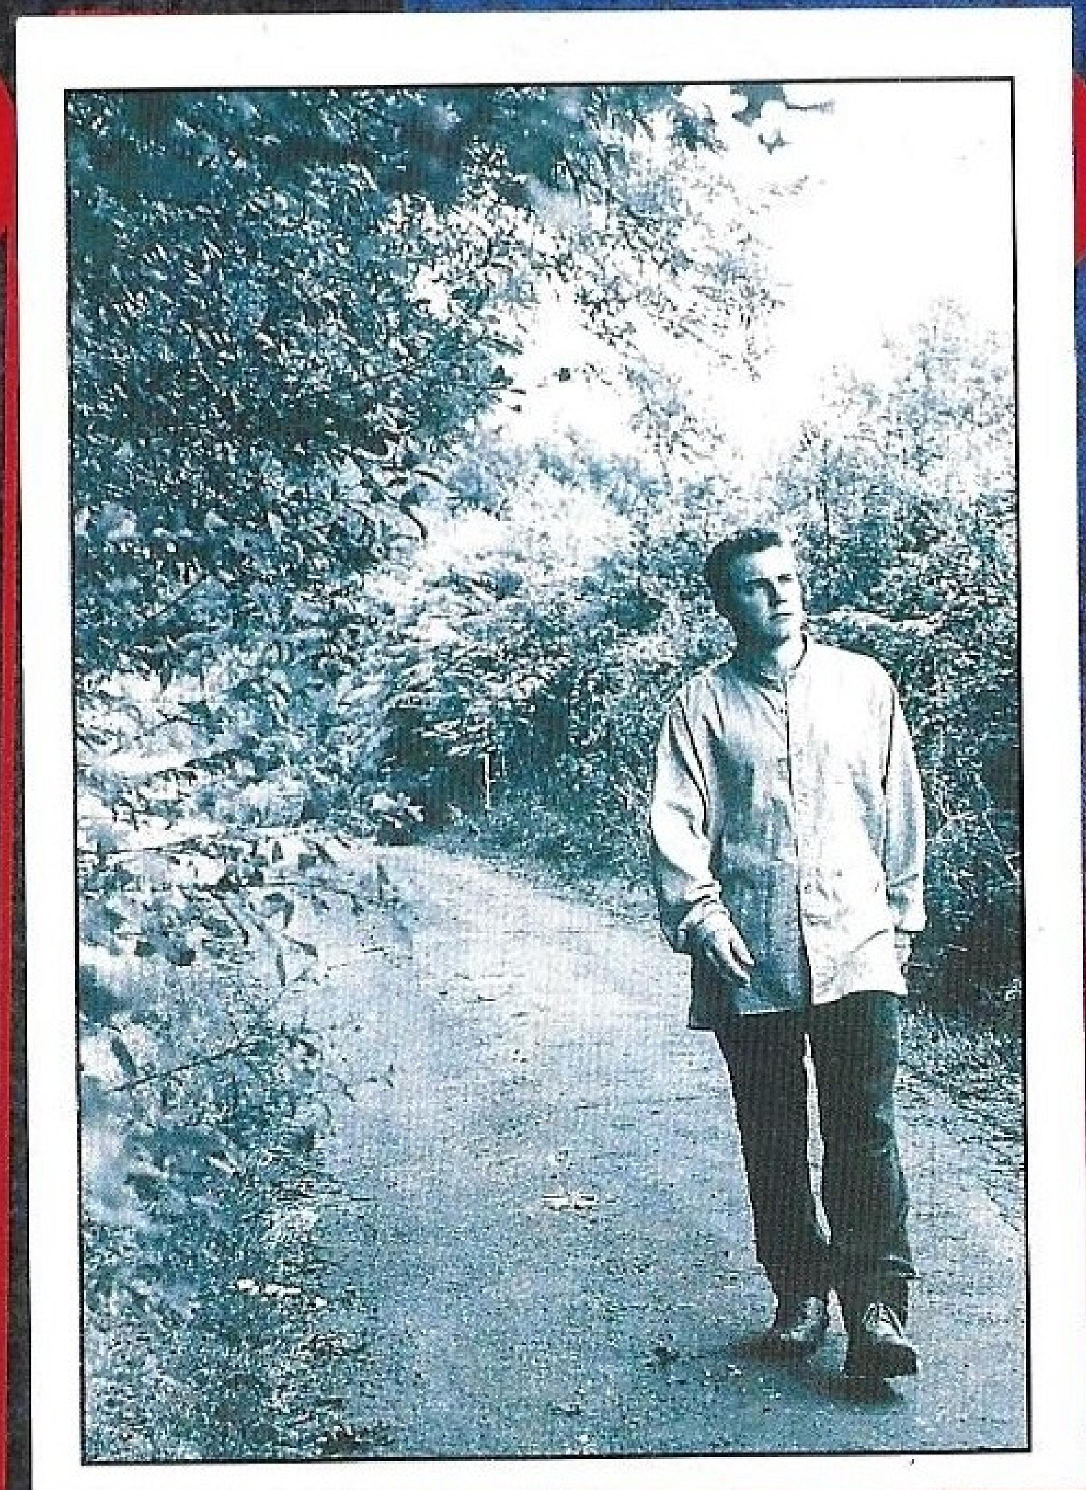

A few minutes to spare, Mark signs some pictures.

BREAK TIME

In the hectic life of the coolest band around, it's not easy to find time to sit back and take things easy. Each of the band members has their own way of relaxing away from the spotlight.

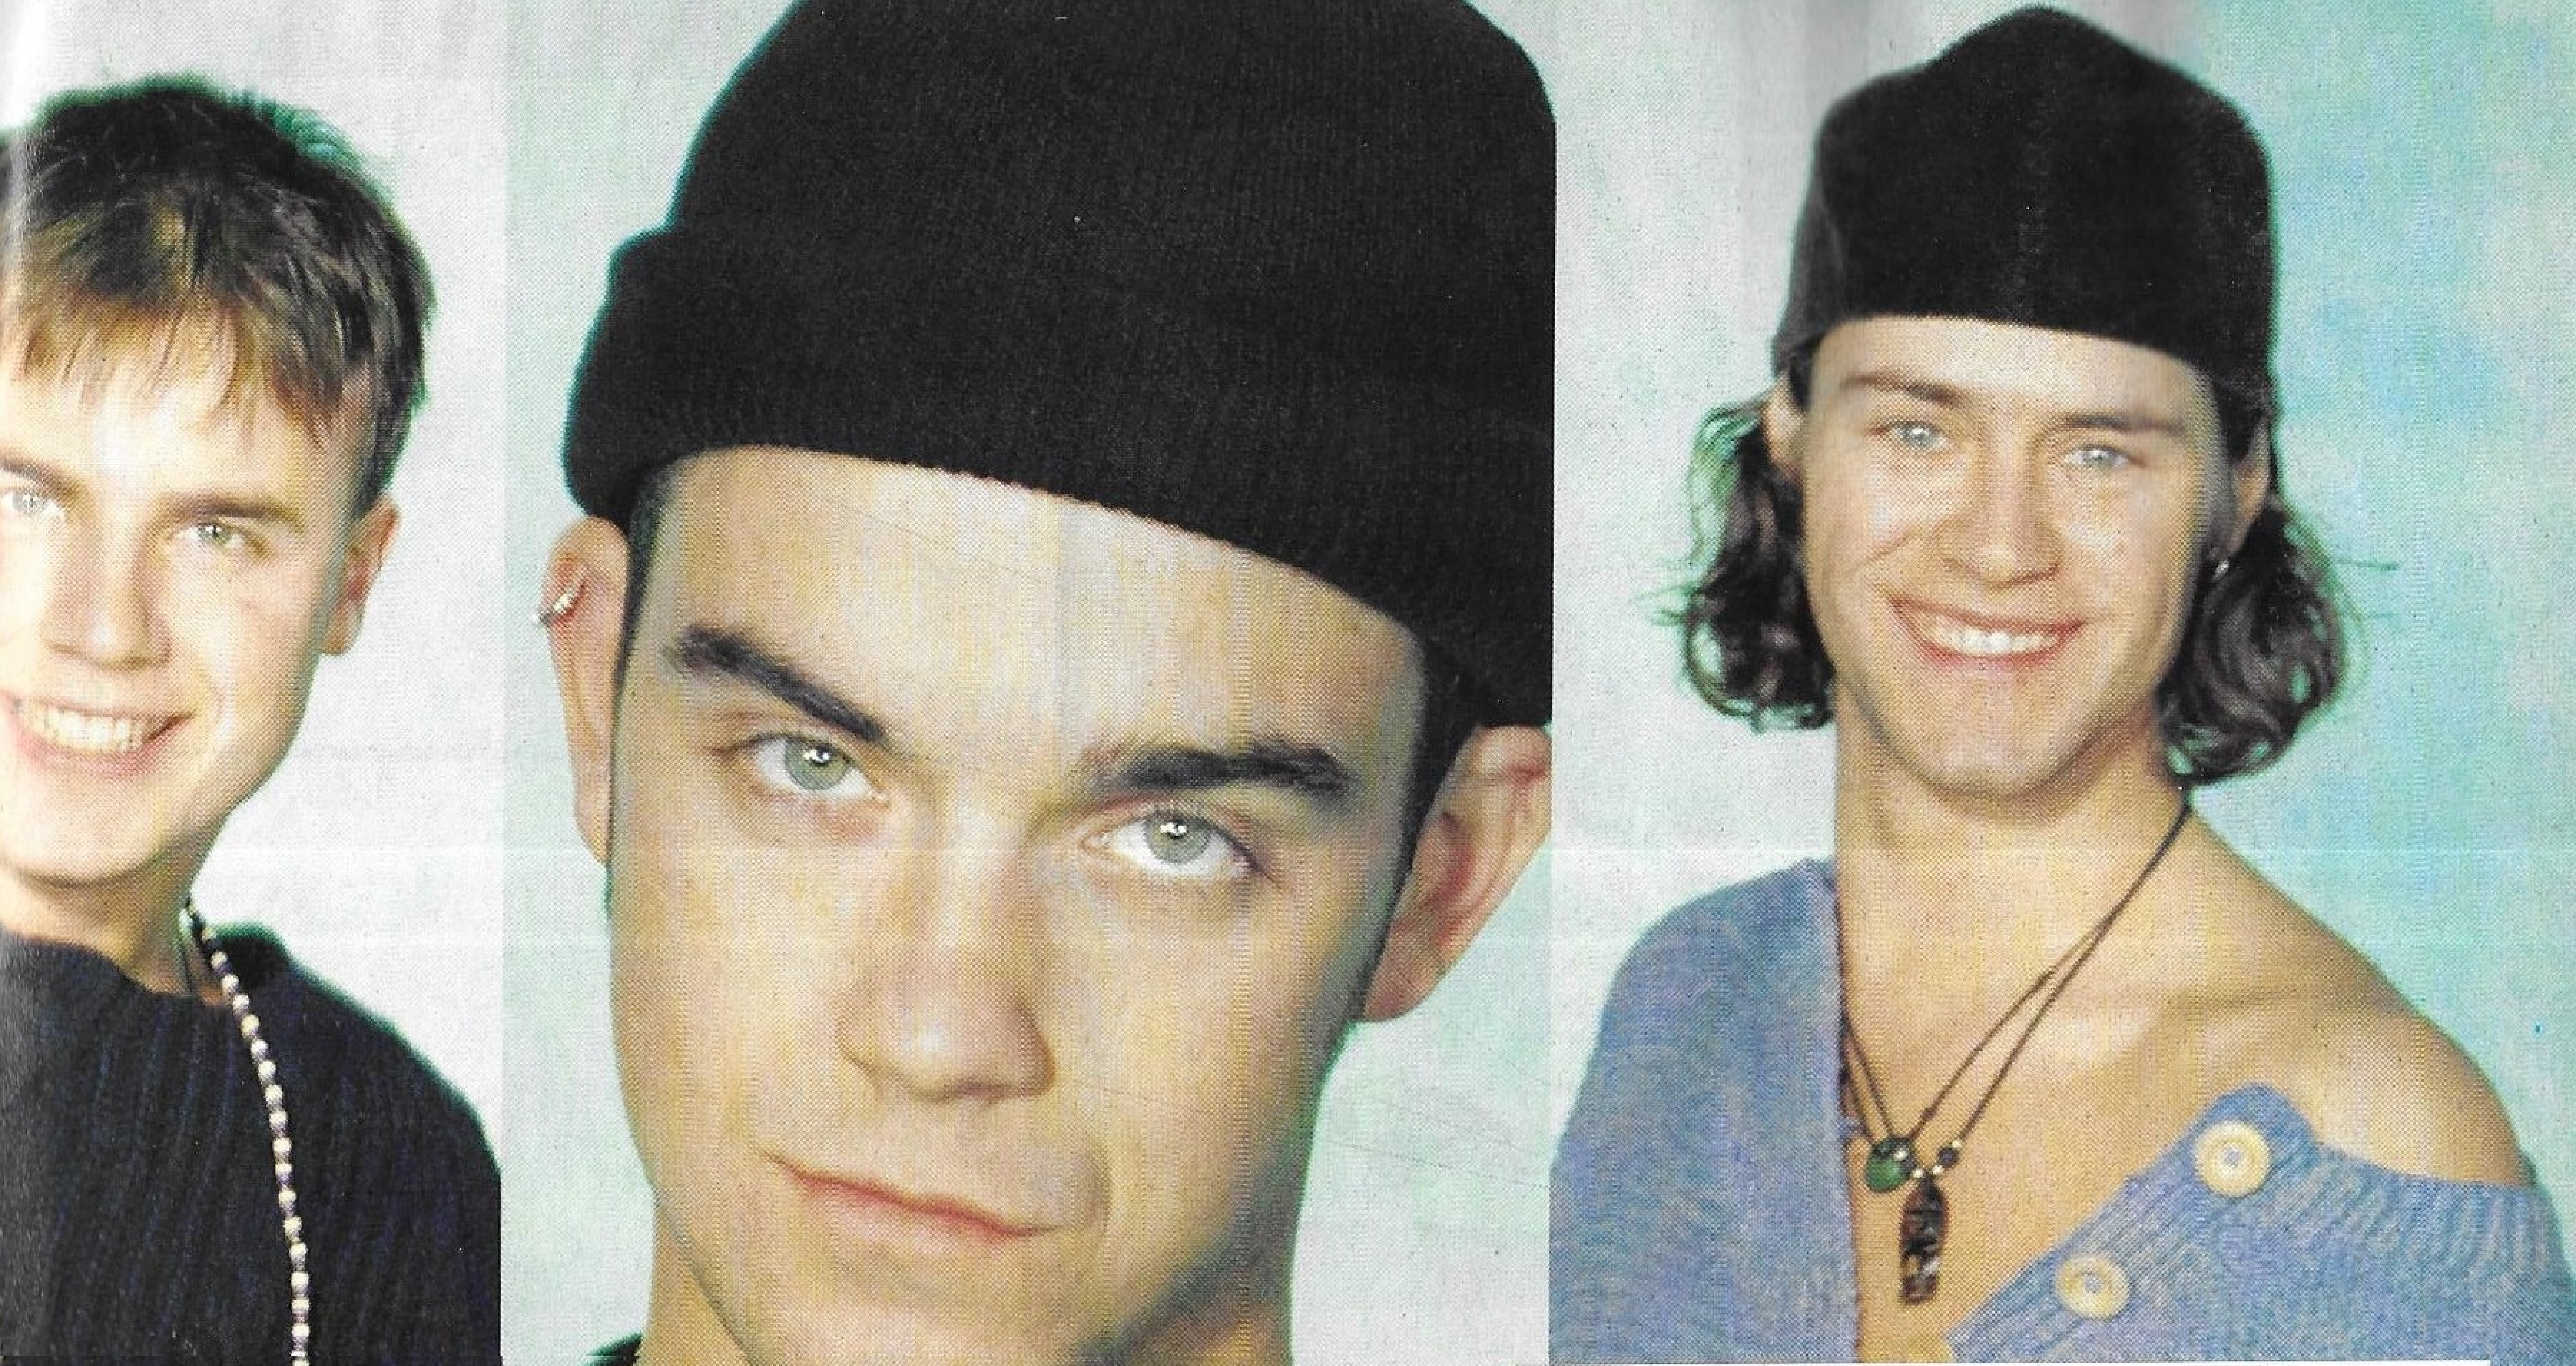

Jason takes his prized possession everywhere.

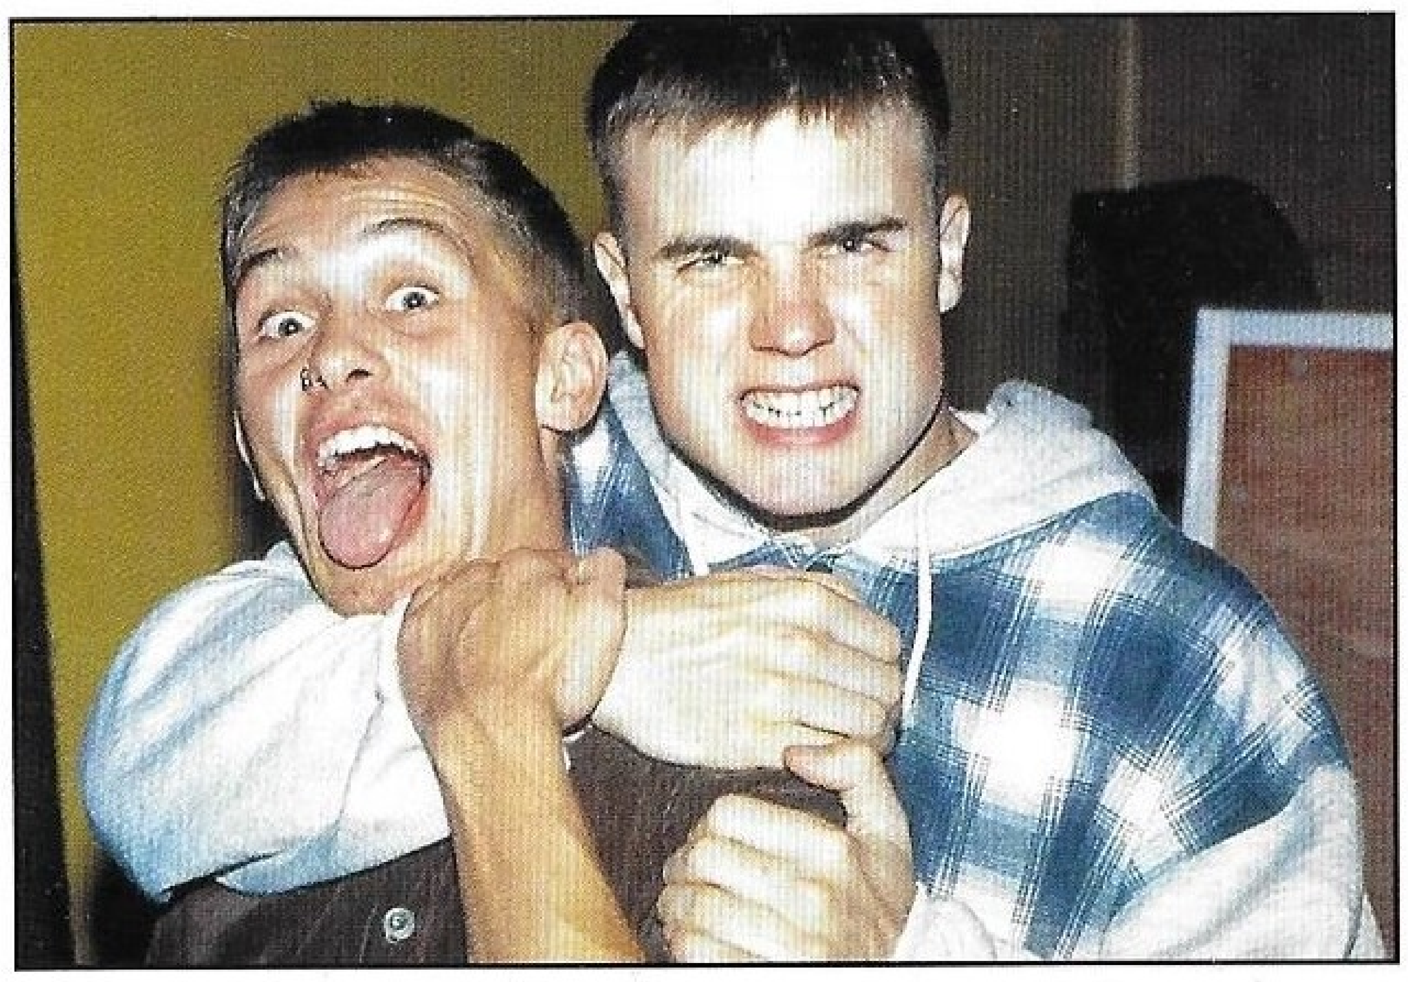

A quiet walk relieves the tension.

Mark thinks he looks stupid but Gary hasn't noticed the difference!

Mark gets all choked up!

"What's next on the menu?"

Mark still has to use stabalizers!

I don't know where Howard's going but I know a few people who'd like to follow.

What better way to say farewell than private, hand-written messages from the boys; penned especially for you...

Dear T.T fan,

Hello everyone,

Well its taken me 2 weeks to pack my bags I've got lots of undies and socks and that and I'm ready for our biggest tour yet 36 nights over 3 months of exhausting ourselves, No it shouldn't be that bad really were feeling pretty fit actually after 6 weeks of rehersals. We're tried to include all the hits and our favourite songs in this show but we realised that only lasted us 5 mins so we had to throw a few others in as well. No seriously were gonna have a great time performing it and if you do manage to get along to the show we hope you have a great time, thanks for all your support once again

We'll see you soon
lots of love
Mark!

PRIVATE MESSAGES

TO ALL READERS!

"THANX 4 ALL OUR FANS 4 SUPPORTING US AND MAKING THIS SUCH A GREAT TOUR. HOPE YOU ENJOYED YOURSELVES AND LOOK FORWARD TO SEEING YOU AGAIN V. SOON!"

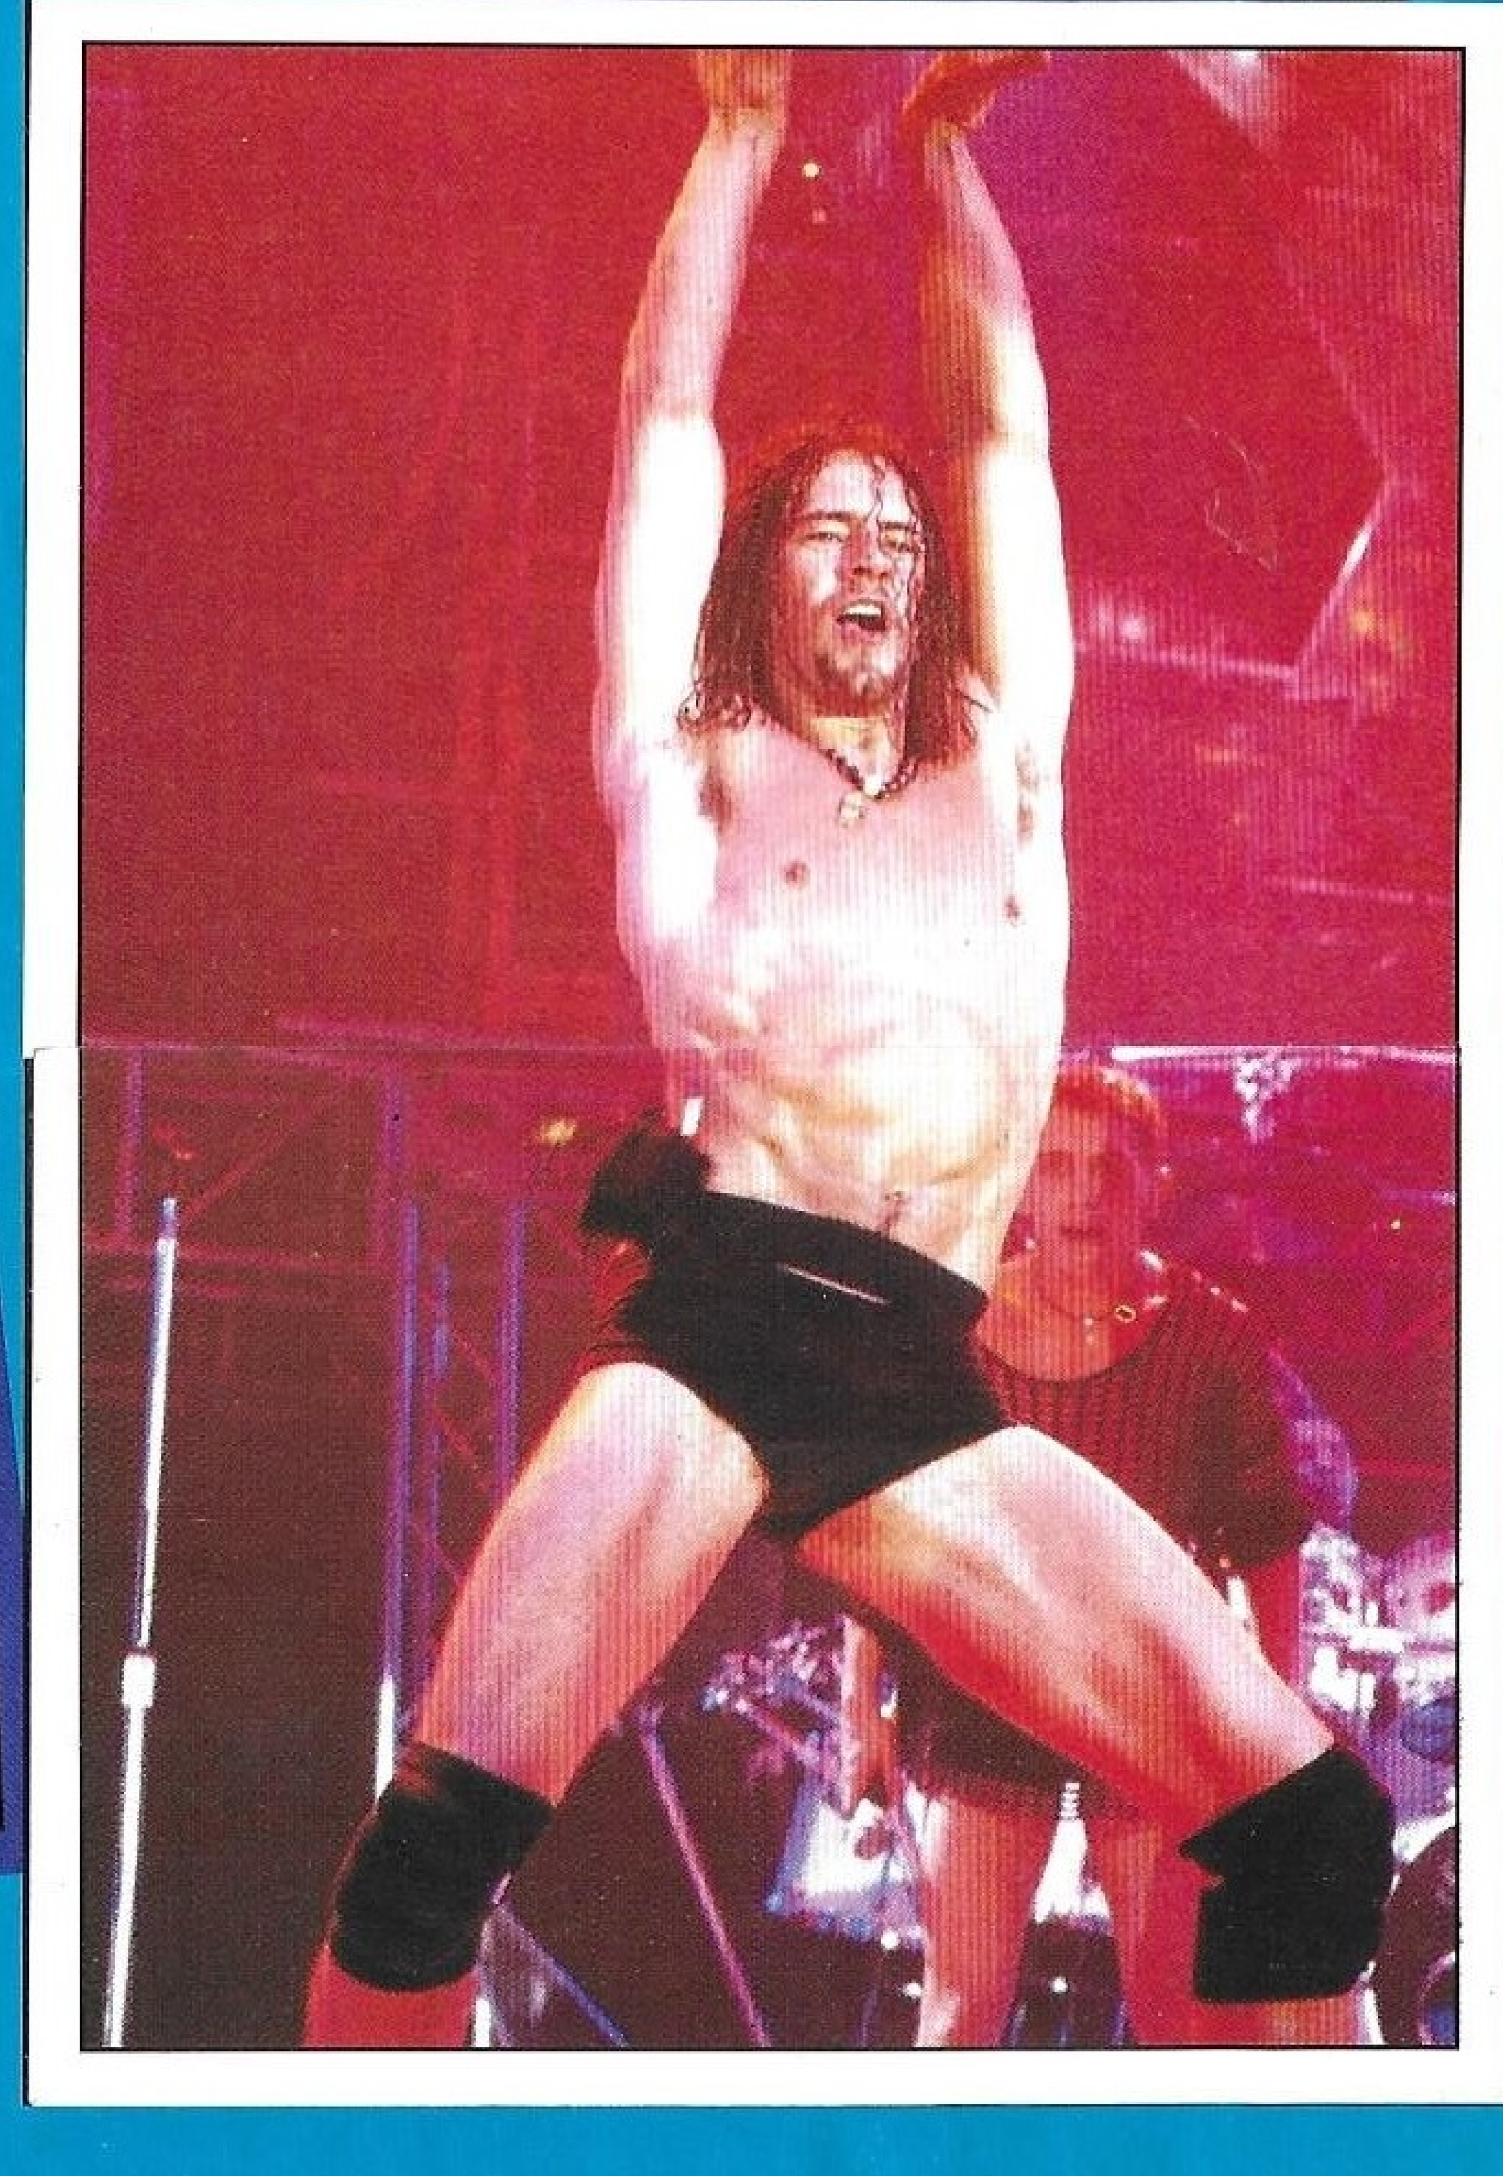

Love [signature]

Hi everyone,

I'll say very quickly thankyou for still being around, buying our records, giving us love and support, coming to see us in in concert and basically keeping us up there on top.

I'm sorry but Mark is shouting at me for coming out of dance rehearsals and writing this message. So see ya.

Love [signature] x

when I was younger I used to collect football stickers.
I have five brothers and they have always been fantastic football players.
I could never play very well so that's why I only collected the stickers instead. Then my brothers would come in the house after a game and steal all my stickers out of my book. And if they had lost their game they would be in a bad mood and would kick their muddy ball at my head.

So that's my little sticker book story.

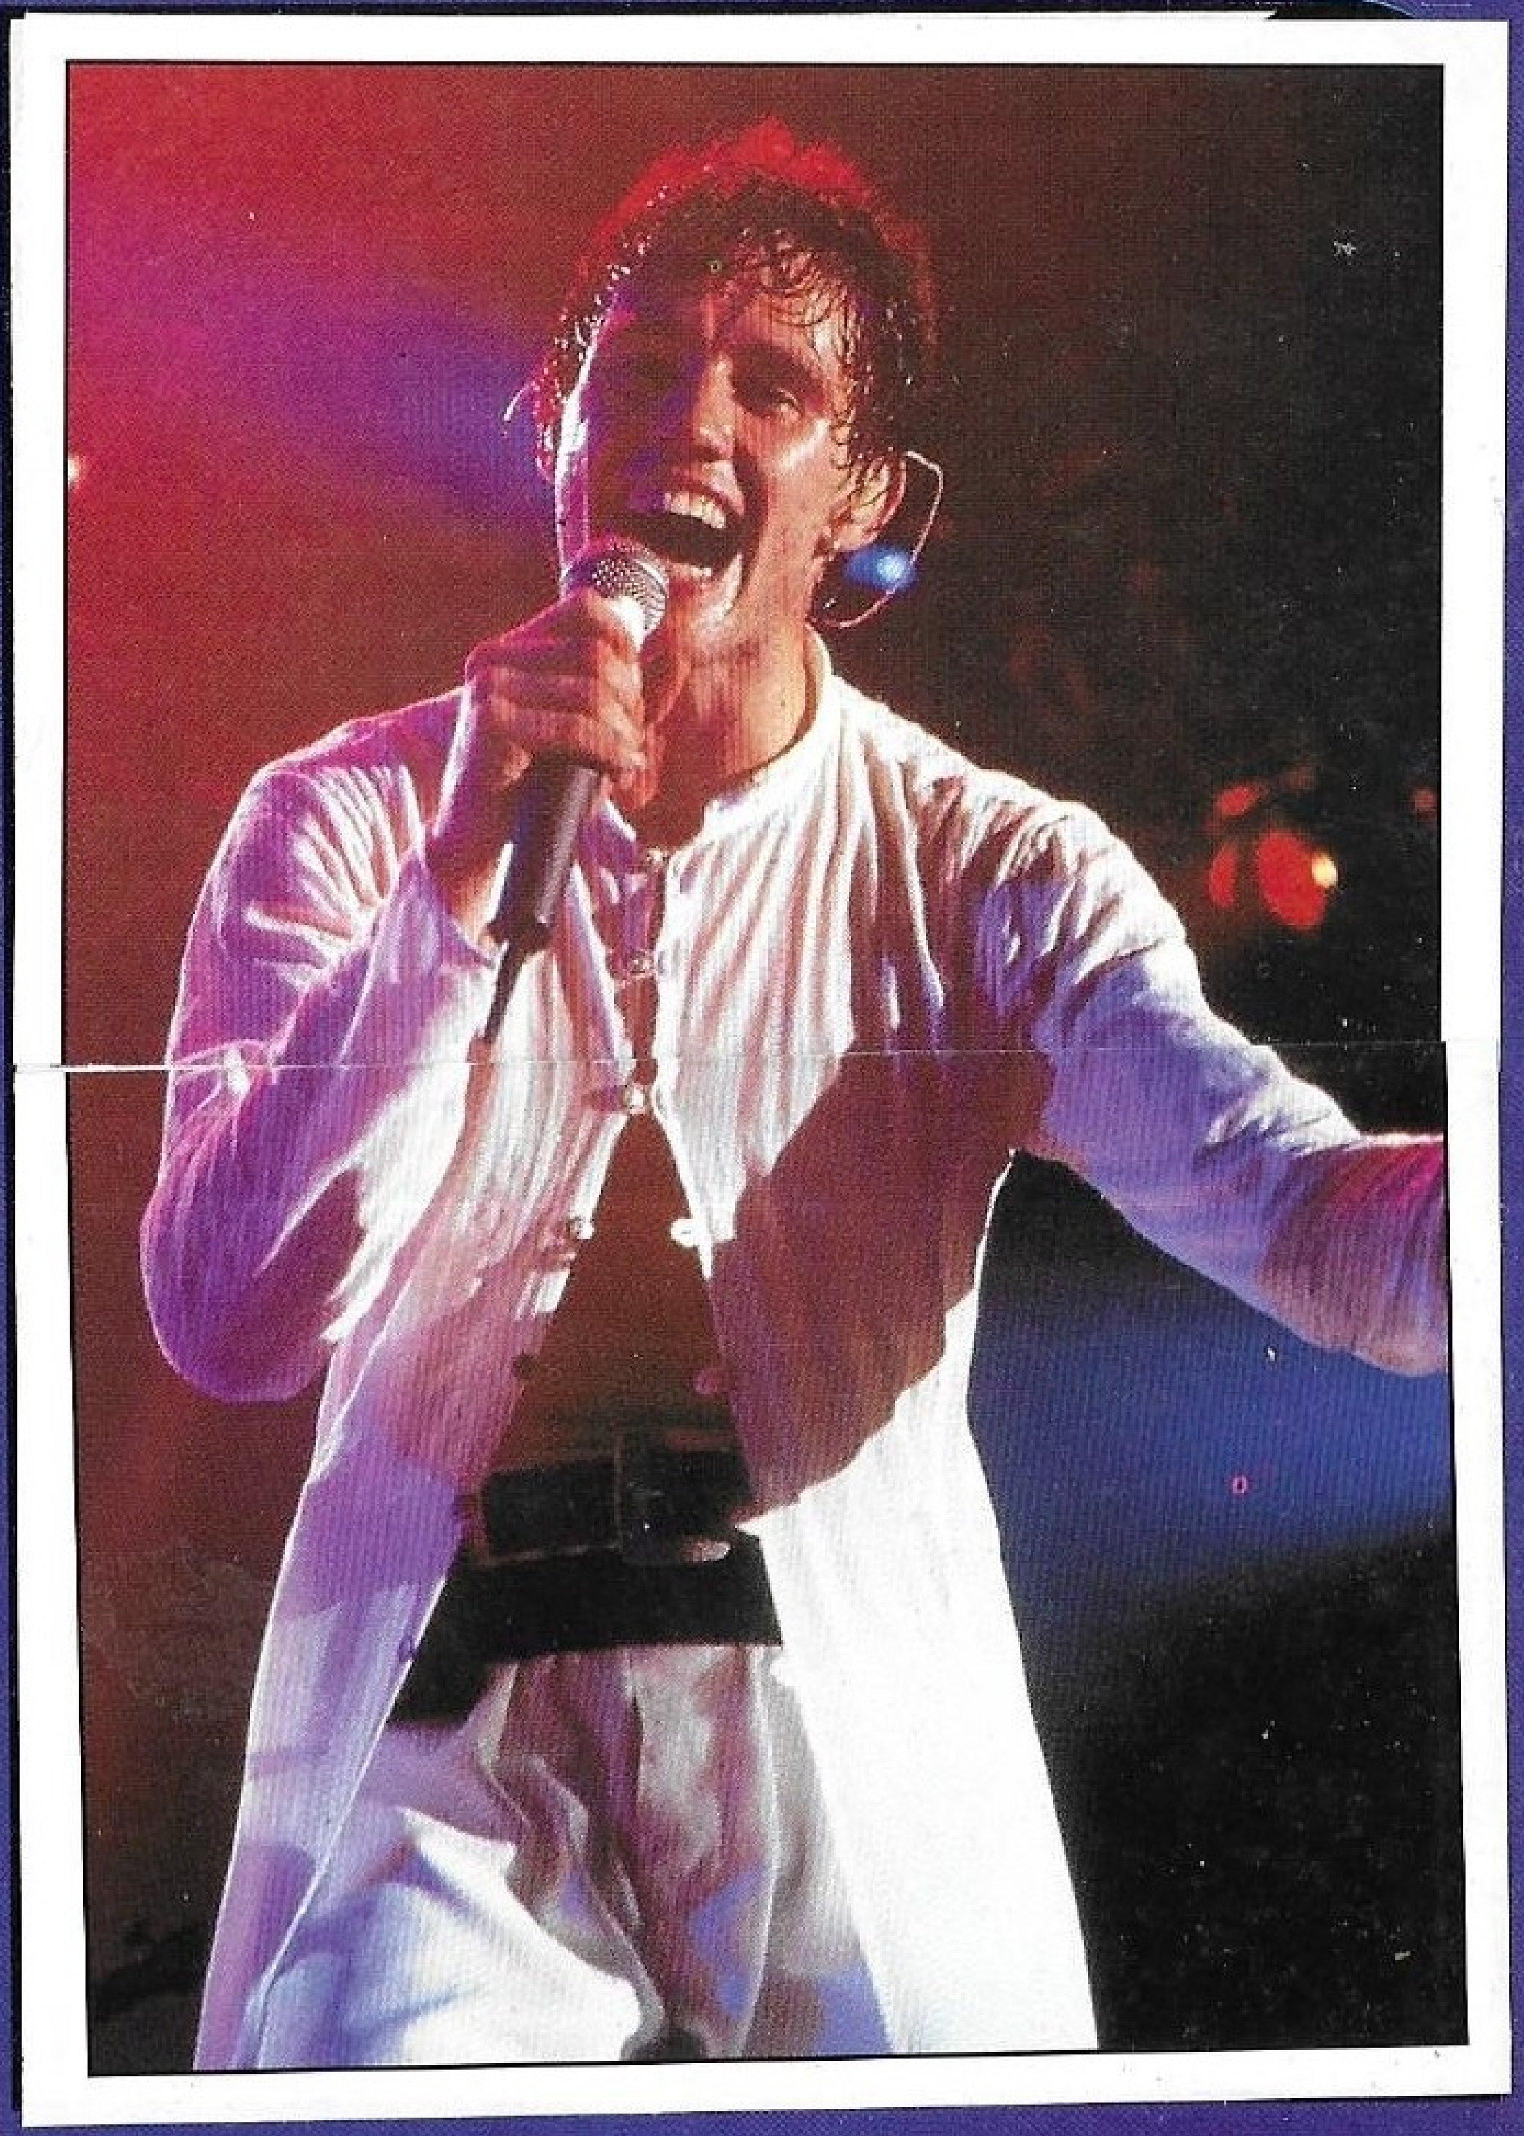

But now here I am as a sticker myself!
Here I am as a sticker perhaps in your sticker book collection! I hope if you do get me in your book nobody steals me. I hope you enjoy collecting me and the boys and you enjoy swapping them around with your friends.

I'm glad I learned how to dance because I would never have been part of 'Take That' and your collection. And I certainly would never have been a proffesional football player.

Take Care everybody.

Love, Jason xx

P.S. You should see my five brothers try to dance. It's a funny [illegible] Ha Ha!!
